CHRISTMAS IS CHEERFUL THANKS TO FUNDS

Once again the monies from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust helped the children in all three programs of Barium Springs Home for Children have an extra-special Christmas.

Cannon, in a will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer" to the children at Christmas time.

The funds are divided between the Adolescent Center, the Pre-Adolescent and the Family and Child Development Center. Each child in the agency received a nice gift purchased with the funds, and each Center used part of their funds to have a Christmas activity for the children.

At the Adolescent Center, there was a pizza lunch for the youth, and an afternoon of games and activities. The Center also used some of their funds to buy microwave ovens for each of the cottages; something the youth were very happy to have.

The Pre-Adolescent Center had a Christmas party and used some of their funds to buy recreational supplies for the children.

The Family and Child Development Center had an open house for the children and parents, complete with Santa Claus. Also, toys and books were purchased with the funds for the children to enjoy throughout the year.

Cottage Coordinator Greg Samuels played Santa at the Family and Child Development Center. He is shown holding his son, Gregory.

MCGLOHON TO DO BENEFIT CONCERT

On March 2, 1991, a benefit dinner concert for Barium Springs Home for Children featuring the Loonis McGlohon Trio will be held at Davidson College's Vail Commons in Davidson, North Carolina.

Pianist-composer McGlohon's songs have been performed and recorded by such top international stars as Frank Sinatra, George Shearing, Rosemary Clooney, The London Symphony, Woody Herman and others.

Mr. McGlohon was kind enough to donate his time and talent to the Home for this dinner concert. Proceeds will go to serve the children and families of Barium Springs Home for Children. Purchase of tickets is not deductible as a charitable contribution.

CENTENNIAL SYMPOSIUM SCHEDULED FOR APRIL

On April 10, 1991, the Home is sponsoring a Centennial Symposium.

The one-day symposium will be held at Bryan Park Center, just north of Greensboro, N.C. It is designed for child care workers, social workers, educators, juvenile court workers, youth advocates, politicians, lawmakers, clergy, and others who work with and have an impact on the lives of young people and their families.

The keynote speaker at the symposium, Dr. Larry Brendtro, will address the theme: "Focus for the Future: The Challenge of Creative Collaboration in Services to Families."

Dr. Brendtro is an internationally known author whose work experiences include that of a child care worker, psychologist, and special education teacher. Many in the child care field are familiar with Dr. Brendtro through his books... The Other 23

Hours, Positive Peer Culture, and Re-Educating Troubled Youth. Most recently, he collaborated with two other resource persons to write Reclaiming Youth at Risk — Our Hope of the Future.

Dr. Brendtro is currently Professor of Special Education at Augustana College in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. He has taught subjects in related fields of study at the universities of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio State, and Trondheim (Norway). He is a past President of the Starr Commonwealth Schools for troubled youth in Michigan and Ohio.

Besides having an exceptional keynote speaker, the symposium will feature a panel of distinguished professionals whose assignment will be to react to the keynote address. Participants of the symposium will

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
President

I write this on the last day of 1990. Tomorrow we enter our Centennial year! Would that we had records of what has happened to the thousands of young people who have been through these doors. Would that we had records of what has happened to the hundreds of staff people who have been through these doors. Would that we had records of the thousands of generous people who opened these doors and kept them open. Would that we had records of the hundreds of Regents who designed and re-designed these doors as needs changed.

Such knowledge would surely deepen our pride at being a part of such a host while deepening our humility when our small part is put in perspective. I hope that you will join us in celebrating what you and a host of other people have done here over the past century.

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Giving a Gift of Life Insurance

You may have wanted to give more to charitable organizations such as Barium Springs Home for Children, but thought you couldn't afford the expenditures. However, you can donate more without spending more by donating life insurance.

One of the most attractive benefits of life insurance in a deferred giving program is that it may enable you to make a substantial contribution beyond your present capability at a reasonably small annual cost. For example, an individual may make a planned gift of $25,000 to an institution by purchasing a life insurance policy in which the institution is both owner and beneficiary, and have payments of less than $4,100 annually, all of which are tax deductible. In most cases, an individual will not make payments totalling the face value of the policy to be received by the beneficiary institution.

A planned gift of life insurance may be made by purchasing a new policy or donating an existing policy. Some individuals may own policies which have out-lived their purpose and usefulness, and which require no further payments. In this case, it is quite easy to change the beneficiary to Barium Springs Home for Children thereby creating a gift at no further cost to the individual. Examples of these types of policies are those purchased at a young age for amounts not in line with current earning power, policies to insure the education of children who are now grown and out of school, or policies bought to cover a mortgage which has now been paid.

The tax implications of a charitable donation of life insurance are significant. When ownership of the policy is transferred to Barium Springs Home for Children and Barium Springs Home for Children is named as beneficiary, the cash value of the policy may be deducted as a charitable contribution from your income for income tax purposes. Any further premium payments are also deductible in the year in which they are made. It is important to note that for the deduction to be allowed, the change of ownership and designated beneficiary must be irrevocably assigned to a charitable institution.

In the event of the death of the insured individual before the payment schedule is complete, the insurance policy is satisfied and a substantial gift is realized by the institution. In addition, because the institution is owner and beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy do not pass through the insured's estate and, therefore, do not diminish the estate for other heirs.

Donors, like yourself, who pledge money to Barium Springs Home for Children are the lifeblood of the institution. Your financial support, although voluntary, is absolutely necessary to the survival of Barium Springs Home for Children. A deferred giving program using life insurance serves as a financial reserve for Barium Springs Home for Children, but it also serves as a financial foundation on which Barium Springs Home for Children can continue to grow and serve. As with any planned giving program, please consult with your financial advisor to evaluate the method appropriate for your situation.

1990 GIFT SOCIETY MEMBERS

Since its founding nearly 100 years ago, Barium Springs has benefited from the generosity of thousands of Presbyterians and others whose gifts have helped sustain the Home's important ministry. Barium Springs has also benefited from the dedicated service of staff members and leaders who have devoted their lives to the loving nurture of those the Home has served.

Therefore, it is altogether appropriate to recognize the exceptional contributions of four individuals from Barium Springs' past by naming the Home's individual gift clubs in their honor. The four—Jethro Rumble, Joe Johnston, Rebekah Carpenter, and Buck Jackins—truly exemplify the loving, giving spirit that has sustained Barium Springs throughout its history.

Your gifts to Barium Springs make you an active participant in its Christian ministry which exerts an enormous positive influence on the children, adolescents, and families served.

BOARD APPROVES TITLE CHANGES

At its November Board Meeting, the Barium Springs Board of Regents approved a recommendation from the Home's financial development consultant, Lloyd Wagnon, to change the titles of several positions.

The title changes are parallel to the more widely used corporate structure, thus making the Home's administrators more easily identifiable when dealing in financial development matters.

The titles of President (John Alexander) and Vice President (Warren Brannon) of the Board of Regents have been changed to Chairman and Vice Chairman respectively. Also, the Administrative titles of Executive Director (Earle Frazier), Campus Administrator (Rochelle Haimes), and Director of Development (Reade Baker) have been changed to President; Vice President, Services; and Vice President, Financial Resources respectively.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 68

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SPRING 1991

No. 2

IMPORTANCE OF DAY CARE IS HIGHLIGHTED

The staff of the Family and Child Development Center (FCDC) are very involved with the Iredell County Day Care Association, which is a satellite of the North Carolina Day Care Association. As members of the ICDCA, they work very hard to inform people, organizations, businesses, public and government officials across the state of the importance of making quality day care available for North Carolina's children and families.

The ICDCA got this message across clearly by having April proclaimed Iredell County Day Care Awareness Month. The ICDCA, along with the American Association of University Women (AAUW), the Iredell and Mooresville Chambers of Commerce, and the North Carolina Agriculture Extension Service, planned several events during April which were effective in making others aware of the importance of day care.

On April 3, the AAUW in coordination with the Statesville Chamber of Commerce offered a child care seminar to improve the awareness of quality child care in Iredell County, and improve awareness that employer child support is good business.

The seminar/brunch featured 3 guest speakers: Aliesa Bowman, of

NEW REGENTS INTRODUCED

In November of 1990, the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic appointed six members to the Board of Regents to replace six who were rotating off the Board.

Reverend John L. Alexander, pastor of Sharon Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, has served two previous terms on the Board of Regents. He was elected Chairman of the Board at the November Board meeting at the Home.

Mr. Rudolph V. Boone, Sr. is a retired instrumental music teacher with the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County schools, and a member of Dellabrook Presbyterian Church. Mr. Boone has held many church offices, including that of Presbytery Moderator.

Mr. Robert T. Hambrick, Jr. is President and Owner of Catawba Valley Security Systems, Inc. and an elder at

STAFF ARE WORKSHOP LEADERS & LEARNERS

The staff of Barium Springs Home for Children are continuously educating themselves on better techniques to help the children and families we serve.

They are also continuously offering to help educate others on the techniques they have learned, as is evidenced by the staff's participation in the North Carolina Child Care Association's (NCCCA) annual conference and program of workshops.

Twelve Barium staff presented ten workshops at the 1991 conference, which was held at Camp Caraway in Asheville, April 29 through May 3.

Greg Samuels, Cottage Coordinator of Cannon Cottage in the Pre-Adolescent Center at Barium Springs, is the 1990-91 NCCCA Program Chairman. His committee was responsible for setting up the Camp Caraway Conference, recruiting workshop presenters and keynote speakers and seeing the conference through.

"Partners In Caring" was the theme for the 1991 conference. All of the significant persons in a child's life must see themselves as partners who share responsibility for the child's care. For children in out-of-home care, partnerships are critical, and it is these partnerships which were the focus of the conference, and the themes for the five keynote speeches, one given to the general session each day.

These partnerships are: staff and child relationships, which was addressed by Steve Sally, Program Di-when family strife erupts, it's the child(ren) who has to leave home?

the state pays less than one-half the cost of caring for children in the custody of the state?

for-profit organizations give up on children when their insurance benefits are exhausted?

the state can find funds to build prisons for yesterday's children it could not afford to help?

the church talks so much about the importance of children and families and does so little to help?

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Giving to Benefit Barium Springs and You!

Charitable giving has become an important part of wise financial and estate planning. By giving to charities such as Barium Springs Home for Children you not only help a worthy cause, you can also benefit yourself and your family. In this, the year of our Centennial, we have instituted the Centennial Fulfillment Program to help insure the continuation of our services and programs to children and families who desperately need our support.

You may participate in this Centennial Fulfillment Program at different levels. We will try to make you aware of the many flexible planned giving options that are available to you.

Gifts that are made during your lifetime that provide an immediate tax benefit are usually called present outright gifts. This type of giving includes gifts of cash as well as appreciated property. A gift of cash may offer tax deductions of up to fifty percent of your adjusted gross income if you itemize deductions. Appreciated property such as stocks, bonds, or real estate offer double tax benefits. The fair market value of the asset, in most cases, is deductible and no capital gains tax is paid on the increased value of the property. However, gifts of appreciated property are only deductible for income tax purposes up to 30% of your adjusted gross income.

"Income for Life" plans are also available whereby income can be earned through a gift annuity, deferred gift annuity, and a charitable remainder unitrust. A gift annuity provides a guaranteed income for life in exchange for a gift of cash or property. A deferred gift annuity will defer the income payments until a future date enabling you in many cases to earn a higher rate of return and a larger tax deduction. A charitable remainder unitrust provides income for life or a specified term in exchange for an irrevocable transfer of property to a trust. The income received is based on a percentage set by you but it must be at least five percent of the fair market value of the Property at the annual valuation.

Estate planning gifts are given through will bequests, revocable trusts, life insurance, life state arrangements and lead trusts. They can provide excellent estate tax benefits with a relatively low initial expense.

A bequest through a will is one of the easiest ways to give to Barium Springs Home for Children and may offer both federal and state estate tax savings.

A revocable living trust establishes a financial entity for assets and distributes income to you or other designated persons. At the death of the owner, a charitable gift can be made with the trust assets.

A gift of life insurance is your opportunity to make a large contribution with a small expenditure. The value of an existing policy or gifts to the Home to pay for premiums are all tax deductible.

A living estate arrangement allows you to transfer the title of your home or other property to Barium Springs Home for Children for a specified time. At the expiration of the trust, the assets would be transferred back to you or your family.

Planned charitable giving provides an opportunity to benefit yourself, your family, and Barium Springs Home for Children. As we enter our second century of service, please consider a gift to the Centennial Fulfillment Program. Your generosity can make a positive impact on our continued success.

For more information about ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157. DAY CARE AWARENESS STRESSED the Iredell County Department of Social Services; Marjorie Warlick, of Child Care Resources, Inc., in Charlotte; and David Matheny, Section 125-Cafeteria Plan Specialist. The seminar was repeated in Mooresville the same day at 2 p.m.

On April 19, an executive reception sponsored by the ICDCA was held at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church on the Barium Springs Campus. Invited were business leaders, day care directors, and local politicians to witness the presentation of the proclamation of April as Day Care Awareness month from the Mayor of Statesville to the ICDCA President, Fran Oliver, who is also Director of the FCDC.

On April 27, the ICDCA, the North Carolina Agriculture Extension Service, and the AAUW sponsored a conference for parents and providers called "Shaping the Future of Our Children".

Held at the Agriculture Extension Agency in Statesville, the conference offered participants a choice of four workshops in the morning and four in the afternoon. Saunie Wood, Early Childhood Education Consultant, did the morning keynote address "Stop! Look! Listen!", and Anita Payne, Director of the Emory, Eggleston Child Development Center at Emory University in Georgia, did the luncheon keynote address "Parenting for Success in Kindergarten and Beyond". Mrs. Payne was director of the FCDC from 1986 to 1988.

Through organizations like the ICDCA and the NCDCA, FCDC staff are reaching out to help day care centers across the state provide quality services for North Carolina's children and families.

STAFF ARE WORKSHOP LEADERS & LEARNERS

rector of Thompson's Children Home in Charlotte; referring agency and caring agency relationships, addressed by Andrea Benfield of Catawba County DSS; staff and other staff relationships, addressed by Frank Kuhn, Director of Lutheran Family Service Institute in Raleigh; family and the agency relationships, addressed by Rochelle Haimes, Vice President, Services at Barium Springs; and agency and community relationships, addressed by Rufus Stark, Executive Director of the Methodist Home for Children.

BSHFC is a charter member of the NCCCA, an association which includes 41 not-for-profit child care agencies in their efforts to improve services and care for children, to improve the skills of child care professionals, to speak collectively regarding child welfare issues, and to develop material and human resources necessary to provide quality services.

First Presbyterian Church, Hickory. He received his education at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill after serving in the army in Korea.

Ms. Mary Lou Lindsey is in Charlotte Real Estate, and a member of Myers Park Presbyterian Church. She has served as an Elder, and chair of the Planning Committee for the Church's Benevolent Campaign.

Mrs. Donald G. (Wilma) Steele, is a teacher by professional training and a member of Howard Memorial Presbyterian Church in Tarboro. She has been a member of the Christian Education Committee and Albemarle Presbytery Higher Education Committee of the North Carolina Synod, and is currently a member of the Preparation for Ministry Committee, of New Hope Presbytery.

Dr. Graham E. Watt is the Chairman of the Division of Business at Livingstone College in Salisbury. He is a member of Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, where he is Clerk of Session and church secretary.

The staff, children and families of Barium Springs are excited about having such distinguished and talented people as members of our Board of Regents, and look forward to another exciting century of service to children and families.

WBTV sports reporter Delano Little spoke at the Adolescent Center's program for Black History month in February.

The Pre-Adolescent Center boys found this hornet's nest while out hiking.

FCDC Director Fran Oliver (right) stands with Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) Chair Jeff Corbett. The PAC bought a gift for each of the teachers during Teacher Appreciation Week.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

EXCITED GRADUATES GIVE PLANS

Can you imagine having four young people all graduating at the same time, living under the same roof?? The first week of June was a hectic, but delightful, one at Howard Cottage, Barium Springs Home for Children's Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) Program.

Residents Larry Buie, William Parsons and John Stamey all graduated from South Iredell High School, and resident Ian Ritchie received his continuing Education Certificate from Mitchell Community College.

Larry Buie came to the PAL Program in April of 1989. While at South Iredell he was in the top sixth of his class and was a member of the Library Club, the Environmental Club, Students Against Drunk Driving, Quiz Bowl, Science Club, Close-up Club, and the French Club. Last summer he participated in an educational and cultural trip to France sponsored by the American Council for International Studies. He also participated in Language Day at Salem College and placed second in French poetry on an intermediate level. This year he was awarded the "Outstanding Person Award" at South Iredell High School, was one of 20 students statewide who received North Carolina State University's "Outstanding Person Award," which includes a $1,000 scholarship, and has been nominated to be included in the 25th Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, an honor reserved for only 5% of our nation's high school students each year. Larry has been ac-

THANKS FOOD LION, NC PRESBYTERIANS

Thanks to thousands of North Carolina Presbyterians and their friends, Food Lion's fund-raising project, "Community Way Days," was a big success for Barium Springs Home for Children.

The children and families served by the Home benefited from five percent of all receipts turned in by North Carolina Presbyterians who shopped at Food Lion on February 11, 12, and 13 in 1991.

Barium Springs Home for Children received a check from Food Lion for $12,991.96.

The Home's young people and their families are very grateful to Food Lion, to the thousands of North Carolina Presbyterians, their friends, and the North Carolina Presbyterian Churches for helping to change their lives.

1991 has been a special year for the Home, as it is the Home's 100th year. Several events planned to celebrate the Home's Centennial year have taken place since January, and Food Lion's Community Way Days has helped make the year even more special.

The Home is looking forward to help from Food Lion and North Carolina's Presbyterians in 1992, for the sake of North Carolina's hurting children and families.

AGENCIES HELP ONE ANOTHER

For the past 5 years, members of Marie Fitzgerald's Child Care Services Class at South Iredell High School have journeyed several times a week to the Family and Child Development Center at Barium Springs Home for Children to get some hands-on experience at child care.

This volunteer arrangement between the Center and the school has mutual benefits. It gives the FCDC staff extra help at certain times of the week, as well as a future employee pool in the child care field. It gives the high school students a chance to practice what they learn in their class, and to see how it really is to work in the child care field.

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
President

"Sooner or later, we all sit down to a banquet of consequences."

Robert Louis Stevenson

There have been many sumptuous banquets here over the past decade as re-structured programs flourished and gained wide-spread recognition. The consequences of these years of innovation and creativity are effective, but expensive, services to troubled children and families.

Due to the increasing costs of providing top-quality services, we find ourselves now facing another "banquet of consequences."

The Board of Regents has approved a plan to reduce expenditures and increase income over the next few years. The plan could involve temporary reductions in services while expanded funding efforts are implemented to erase the increasing deficits of the past few years.

Although the Board's action was taken with much regret—even grieving—Regents, Administration and Staff wholeheartedly agreed that the Home must maintain the highest quality of services even, if necessary, at the expense of quantity. A tough decision. But then, making tough decisions is not new to the Board, Administration and Staff of Barium Springs Home for Children.

Therefore, we will endure the "banquet of consequences" in confidence that more palatable meals will follow. In the meantime, we will keep our friends informed of problems and progress toward restoring those services and plans to expand services to meet other pressing needs of children and families.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

The Power of Giving

"To give away money is an easy matter and in any man's power. But to decide to whom to give it and how large and when and for what purpose and how is neither in every man's power nor an easy matter. Hence it is that such excellence is rare, praiseworthy and noble."

Aristotle

Where does the idea of giving come from? For many of us, our first experience was as children. We may have saved our allowance for a Mother's Day gift, placed a quarter in the Sunday School offering plate, or designed a card for father's birthday. As children, we were genuinely elated to see the happiness and appreciation our small gifts brought. Yet, somewhere we have lost our wonderment. The fun of giving is lost among the numerous appeals we receive. We dutifully write another check to rid ourselves of solicitors, but we receive little joy out of this kind of giving.

It is time for us to rediscover the "excellence" inherent in our giving to Barium Springs Home for Children. In many ways, giving benefits the giver more than the receiver because it satisfies man's built-in need to give. What motivates you to give? One of the reasons may be love. Love for Barium Springs Home for Children and for the people it serves. In the case of giving to children's homes like Barium Springs, you may actually reduce our national economic burden because the government will not have to provide duplicate services. It has become increasingly evident that the private sector can deliver goods and services at less cost than government agencies. Giving out of love creates a positive feeling of satisfaction and our gift dollars may deliver services more efficiently than tax dollars.

When we think in terms of giving to Barium Springs Home for Children, the first thing that comes to mind is often a cash donation. That is often the most obvious gift, but consider a few of the many alternatives available:

- ★ If you own stocks or bonds, it is possible you can give more by giving these securities than you can by giving cash.
- ★ You may own life insurance policies that are no longer needed. You can give them. You can name Barium Springs Home for Children as beneficiary of policies you own now or will purchase later.

★ Real-estate gifts are being made more frequently all the time. You can give real estate outright. You can give the deed now, use the property for life, and give it to Barium Springs Home for Children at your death. Or you can place real estate in trust and receive a life income with Barium Springs Home for Children receiving it at your death.

★ If you are a controlling stockholder in a corporation, it is often to your advantage to let the corporations give rather than to give from your personal income. Some employers will match your gift to certain charitable institutions.

★ Have you ever wanted to give more than you feel you are able to? The revocable living trust may be an ideal solution for you. This is giving on an "I-can-get-it-back" basis.

★ It is possible to give through your savings account by naming Barium Springs Home for Children as survivor beneficiary.

★ A gift annuity is a well-known plan of giving which people use to accomplish two objectives: first, to make a gift; and second, to provide lifetime annual payments to add to the donor's personal financial security.

★ There are other giving-for-income plans available to you. They may be used to give and receive a fixed, variable, or flexible life income.

★ The best-known plan (but not always the best) for delayed giving is to give through your will. Through your will, you can give a flat amount, a percentage of your estate, or a part or all of what remains after all other bequests have been made. You can even give an income to a loved one through your will and at the same time make a charitable gift.

Rediscover the joy of giving and the opportunity to participate in a "rare, praiseworthy and noble" endeavor.

cepted at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he will begin this Fall. He plans to pursue either a career in teaching or medicine.

William Parsons came to the PAL Program in August of 1989. While at South, he was a member of the ROTC. He was discharged from PAL at the end of June, and is living in his own apartment, and working at a local car dealership, where he has been employed for the past two years. William plans to study electronics at Mitchell Community College this Fall.

John Stamey came to the PAL Program in July of 1990. He plans to attend Mitchell Community College and hopes to eventually transfer to Haywood Technical College in Asheville to study Horticulture/Forestry. He currently has a part-time job at a local fast food chain.

Ian Ritchie came to the PAL Program in June of 1990. He was discharged from PAL at the end of June, and moved to Spartanburg, SC, where he is employed as a Chef's apprentice.

The PAL Program is for older youth, ages 16 to 20, who experience less significant social, emotional or academic problems than youth in the Adolescent Center, but who need specialized guidance and programming to help them prepare for adulthood.

PAL youth attend public school, hold part-time jobs, and form relationships in the community while meeting program expectations. They learn certain life skills, such as maintaining checking and savings accounts, interviewing for jobs or college, fixing nutritious and economic meals, and many other everyday tasks which they will have to perform when they are on their own.

Students who complete the two-year course meet the state requirements for certification in child care and will be eligible for employment in the child care field once they are 18 years of age and have graduated from high school. They will also have experience with children that will help them if and when they decide to become parents themselves. Each year the class has wanted to do something special for the Center, and with Mrs. Fitzgerald's guidance and encouragement, they have.

In 1986 and 1987, the class, along with the South Iredell FFA, raised money to build and donate picnic tables to the Center. In 1988 and 1989, the class raised money to donate books to the Center's Children's Library.

This year the students in the class raised money to give to each of the eight FCDC classes for supplies, equipment, or whatever the teachers deem necessary.

As soon as the students presented the money they had raised to FCDC Director Fran Oliver, Center staff made a surprise presentation to the woman who has truly made this arrangement possible. The Center awarded Marie Fitzgerald with a plaque in appreciation of her dedication and hard work, and with a large decorative basket, filled with gifts, one from each employee of the Center.

Mrs. Fitzgerald's boss, South Iredell High School Principal Chip Weddington, attended the presentation.

BARIUM CAMPUS NEWS

Five Adolescent Center youth, and a local artist, Jay Minnick, recently completed a mural on a 10 x 25 foot wall in the Adolescent Center Dining Hall.

The mural theme is "Yesterday and Today are Tomorrow's Building Blocks." A giant blueprint represents a teenager's life, with diagrams depicting education, communication, family and the future, four difficult issues that teenagers deal with during adolescence.

The staff and children of the Pre-Adolescent Center and the Family and Child Development Center recently raised over $900 for the March of Dimes in the Walkathon America.

FCDC Director Fran Oliver was recently named Boss of the Year by the Metrolina Chapter of the American Business Women's Association. Sylvia Hanafey, an FCDC employee, nominated Oliver for the award.

George Williams, resident of the Pre-Adolescent Center, was chosen to have lunch at the Principal's Table at Troutman Elementary School on April 30th. This privilege is reserved for one child from each class, once a month. The children, who are chosen by their teachers, must have used good manners and conduct each day at lunch for a month.

PAC, WAL-MART RAISE MONEY FOR FCDC

Parents and staff of the Family and Child Development Center raffled a Sunbeam Patio Furniture set on May 31 at the Center.

Phil and Beth Leftwich, of Stateville, won the furniture set, which was purchased from Wal-Mart in Mooresville, with funds from the raffle tickets. The Leftwich's daughter, Margaret Ann, is in the Center's baby room.

The Center collected $945 in tickets, and received a matching gift from Wal-Mart, for a total of $1,890 minus $300 for the patio furniture.

The raffle was conducted by the Center's Parent Advisory Committee (PAC), which is made up of parents of children in the Center. Donna Wolfe of PAC, who served as Coordinator of the raffle, said that the funds raised from the event were to be used specifically for new medicine lock-boxes in each room, a new roof over the Center's sandbox, and the balance to be divided among all rooms to purchase needed items.

PAC Chair Jeff Corbett said that the PAC wants to make things better for their children, and for their children's teachers, and that Wal-Mart certainly helped make that wish a reality.

"We are deeply appreciative to Wal-Mart in Mooresville for their support of our fund-raising effort," Corbett said. "Wal-Mart is truly a company who cares about the people in the community they serve, and we are most grateful for their willingness to share so generously, especially as the children of our center will benefit in such a big way."

REPRESENTATIVES INTRODUCED

Five ministers have joined forces with Barium Springs on a part-time basis to help meet the needs of North Carolina's hurting children and families. One goal of these "Presbytery Representatives" is to better communicate needs to and from the churches.

We welcome Representatives The Reverend Edward C. Wilson of Locust (Charlotte Presbytery), The Reverend Wesley Jennings of Wilmington (Coastal Carolina Presbytery), The Reverend Lee Adkins of Durham (New Hope Presbytery), The Reverend Robert Button of Greensboro (Salem Presbytery), and The Reverend James Cockerham of Gastonia (Western Carolina Presbytery).

One of their first duties is for each to create a task force to help with the upcoming Centennial Dinners, which are a part of the Home's 1991 Centennial Celebration.

These dinners will take place in the Fall of 1991, and are currently scheduled for 12 locations across the state which should enable anyone wishing to attend a dinner to get there in time and return home at a reasonable hour. The locations are Asheville, Charlotte, Edenton, Fayetteville, Greensboro, Greenville, Kinston, Morganton, Raleigh, Statesville, Wilmington and Winston-Salem.

More details about these dinners, such as dates, times, and exact locations, will be available after the Presbytery Representatives create their Centennial Dinner task forces.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 68

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, FALL 1991

BARIUM FAMILY HOMECOMING, 1991

Imagine hundreds of family members coming from all over the United States to reunite at their 100-year-old home place. Imagine the laughter, the tears, the hugs, and the kisses. Imagine the reminiscing, the catching up, the photo albums, the food, and the activities to keep the children busy. Imagine greeting old friends and making new ones.

All of this, and more, took place on August 3 and 4 at the 1991 Homecoming at Barium Springs Home for Children.

Around 500 alumni and their families returned for Homecoming, which was extra special this year because it is the Home's 100th year.

As usual, the alumni gathered at the old print shop, which they have renovated and now is the Alumni Museum.

But this year when they signed in, they received a copy of the Home's history, "Meeting the Needs of the Times — A History of Barium Springs Home for Children, 1891-1991," written by Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas, noted child care consultant and a former regent of the Board for Barium Springs.

Also different this year, the Alumni planned and held a dance on Saturday night at the Moose Lodge, with a live band which played music from the 30's, 40's and 50's.

Homecoming was indeed different in some ways this year. But the love and caring shared by the alumni for each other, and for the Home, was very much the same. They are family, and this is their home place, and we hope it always will be.

Alumni at Homecoming catching up before their meeting on Sunday.

FOOD LION TO HELP ONCE AGAIN

The children and families of Barium Springs Home for Children will once again benefit from their caring friends at Food Lion through the company's "Community Way Days," a fund raising project for non-profit organizations.

The shopping dates will be February 10, 11, and 12, 1992. During these days, each member of a North Carolina Presbyterian Church may shop twice at any North Carolina Food Lion, and be able to turn in up to two cash register receipts dated during these three days. Also, each Presbyterian may invite one friend who is not Presbyterian to shop on those days, and be able to turn in two of their friend's Food Lion receipts as well.

The project's rules are very clear; only North Carolina Presbyterians and their friends may participate. The rules state that each Presbyterian must sign their name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the back of their cash register receipts before turning them in to their Presbyterian Church. Each friend, or non-Presbyterian, must also sign their name on the receipt, in addition to the name of the person they shopped for and Barium Springs Home for Children.

North Carolina Presbyterian Churches will receive information at a later date on how to collect and total the receipts.

Other project rules stipulate that Presbyterians are not to solicit receipts from non-eligible customers, either in-

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS CONTINUE

As part of the Home's celebration of 100 years of service to children and families, twelve Centennial Celebration Dinners were scheduled across the state for donors, Presbyterians, and other friends of the Home. Seven of these twelve dinners have already taken place during the month of October.

At this time we would like to notify you of the five remaining Celebrations, and tell you to be on the lookout for either a personal invitation or an invitation through your church.

The remaining celebrations are in the following places:

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier

President

"The good times family members spend together are almost as good as the time spent recalling them."

— Author Unknown

A friend once observed that people who did not have such memories could never be whole. I recalled both of these thoughts as Barium Alumni gathered recently for Homecoming. I listened as they shared their memories and observed as they enjoyed each other. I gave thanks for all who made their memories possible and for being privileged to share in their recollections. And I prayed that, in the future, others will have similar memories — and be whole.

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Revocable Gifts — Gifts You Can Change Your Mind About

If you are like most friends of Barium Springs Home for children, you would be happy to share more of your resources if you could be sure you or your family will not need your gift in the future. Or, perhaps you would be willing to lend the Home a particular asset on the condition it would be returned to you or someone you choose at a specified time in the future.

If you would like to help the youth and families of Barium Springs now while maintaining the right to get the gift back in the future, a revocable gift may suit your purposes. A revocable gift lets you take immediate, generous action to help the Home. If you ever need or want to reclaim the gift, you may do so by simply asking.

If you are like most donors of revocable gifts, you will never actually need to take back your gift during your lifetime, and the gift will ultimately become the property of the Home at your death. Because Barium Springs Home for Children is already acting as trustee for the property, such a gift is not subject to probate or public record.

The form in which you give your gift depends on your personal financial situation and what you wish to give. The most common types of revocable gifts are as follows:

A life estate contract allows you to deed a home or a farm to Barium Springs while retaining full use of the property, including the right to take back the deed and sell the property if you wish, until death. You would continue to maintain the property and pay the taxes and insurance. There are no immediate tax deductions available with this type of gift since you retain full use of the property.

You may establish a revocable living trust by placing a sum of money, securities or other property with a trustee for the benefit of the children at the Home. You may elect to receive the income from the trust yourself or designate another person or Barium Springs Home for Children to receive the earnings. If you never revoke your gift, the Home receives the principal or a specified portion as a gift.

You may also name the Home the beneficiary of a permanent life insurance policy while retaining ownership of the policy and access to the policy's cash value. You can also retain the right to designate another beneficiary if you wish in the future.

A charitable lead trust provides for a gift of an income interest from assets to the children at the Home for a term of years, after which the property either reverts to you or your designated beneficiary. In this way, you "lend" the assets to Barium Springs Home for Children for the term of the trust. This type of trust may be of interest if you would like to leave assets to your heirs at a reduced gift or estate tax cost. It allows you to channel to your heirs all future appreciation from the assets placed in the trust without having to pay a tax on the appreciation.

Grantor lead trusts are similar to charitable lead trusts except they qualify for an income tax deduction for the present value of the income paid to Barium Springs Home for Children. This type of trust expires in a certain number of years, at which time the trust principal and any appreciation is returned to you.

If you could predict your financial future clearly, making decisions about charitable gifts would be easy. If you need to keep your options open, consider giving the gift you can get back — a revocable gift.

For more information about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157. side or outside the store. Also, no boxes are to be placed inside or outside the store, and no one is allowed to stand inside or outside the store to collect receipts from their members or friends. Any violation of these rules could disqualify the home from this project, thus denying the children of this valuable opportunity for support.

Please address any questions about the project to the Home at 704/872-4157, and not to Food Lion store employees.

Last year, loving Presbyterians across the state generated a generous gift from Food Lion of over $12,000. The Home, and many non-profit agencies, are having a difficult time financially during this recession. This is a way Presbyterians can rally to support this mission of the church without being asked to make a direct gift. The children, staff and Board of Regents are very grateful for your help in making this a successful event.

HELPING INSURED HAWK LIKENED TO HELPING CHILDREN

On a November day in 1990, an Adolescent Center staff member found an injured hawk alongside the highway in front of the Home, and contacted the Carolina Raptor Center near Latta Plantation Park.

Raptor Center staff treated the bird's injuries and five months later, came back and released him. Good as new and named Barium Springs, he flew up into the trees where staff and children hope that he will make his home.

There are some startling parallels between our staff trying to help this bird, and what they do every day at the Adolescent Center.

One of our trained staff had found something that was hurt, and tried to help it. That is what our staff do each day; they try to help emotionally and mentally injured children and their families.

Our staff member found that he couldn't help the hawk by himself, so he called someone who could help him. If staff can't help a child and family in our residential programs, they try to help the family find an agency that can.

The hawk was cured and released back into the wild; a happy ending! Unfortunately, injured hearts, souls and minds aren't easy to "cure." But hopefully, these children learned skills that will help them deal with what may be a difficult future, and that someone does care about them. Quite possibly, and very hopefully, they will remember what they learned at Barium Springs when they have a family of their own.

SHEPARD, RAMSUER RECEIVE GRANTS FROM GTE

Deborah Ramsuer and Joyce Shepard, math and science teachers respectively at the Adolescent Center School, were one of two math-science teacher teams in North Carolina who have been awarded educational grants to promote excellence in math and science education from the GTE Corporation.

The awards were made under GTE's "Growth Initiatives for Teachers" (GIFT) program. Under the GIFT program, one math and one science teacher from the same school work as a team to expand their knowledge of their subjects and translate their learning experiences into effective instructional techniques. GTE gives each team $5,000 for professional development and $7,000 for an education-enrichment project in the team's school.

Deborah and Joyce will build a greenhouse at the school to be used to teach introductory biology, horticulture and consumer math. For their professional development, they will be taking courses in organic and greenhouse horticulture, nursery technology, and landscape graphics and measurements, during the 1991-92 school year at Central Piedmont Community College in Charlotte.

In order to get landscaping and greenhouse ideas, they will tour several greenhouses in North Carolina, and take a trip to Louisiana to visit the public and private plantation gardens located there.

Also as part of receiving the grant, Deborah and Joyce attended a special seminar conducted by GTE for grant recipients. They visited GTE Laboratories in Waltham, Mass., GTE Electrical Products Group in Danvers, Mass., the satellite headquarters "Space Net" in Maryland, and while visiting Washington, D.C., they spoke with Senator Jesse Helms and Congressman Alex McMillan's legal aide, David Hill, about corporation involvement in education.

The team taught "Greenhouse Horticulture" in summer school, June 12 - August 21. The elective class was an hour a day, five days a week, and it introduced ornamental horticulture to 29 students. The textbooks for the class were loaned to them by West Iredell High School.

Beginning this Fall, Deborah and Joyce will team-teach a two-hour a week course which combines Introduction to Biology with Consumer Math. The students will learn about Ornamental Greenhouse Horticulture, how to grow plants and how plants grow, basic math skills, plant health, controlling environmental factors, nursery management, marketing skills and bookkeeping skills.

Deborah and Joyce were among 50 teams of teachers from 19 states and the District of Columbia who received GIFT grants totaling $600,000 for the 1991-92 school year. The GIFT program is administered and funded by the GTE Foundation, GTE's philanthropic arm, on behalf of the corporation and its subsidiaries.

Teachers who applied for GIFT grants submitted detailed proposals for their professional development programs and for their educational enrichment projects. The winners were chosen by a panel of math and science educators under the guidance of the Educational and Testing Service of Princeton, NJ, and the GTE Foundation. Joyce and Deborah plan to contact local schools to make math and science teachers aware of the grant and how to apply for it.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 69

BARUIM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, WINTER 1992

No. 1

HOME'S 100TH CHRISTMAS IS SPECIAL

The monies from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust, plus the unexpected generosity of several area businesses and churches, helped make Barium Springs' Centennial Christmas all the more delightful.

Cannon, in a will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer" to the children at Christmas time, which they have been doing for many years.

In addition to the Cannon monies this year, the Home was also blessed with several businesses and churches in the area who each did something wonderful for the children at Barium Springs for Christmas.

Scissors, a hair salon in Cornelius, and Quincy's Family Restaurant in Statesville, both decorated Christmas trees with tags, each naming needed sports equipment, games, videos, and other toys.

The Insurance Company of North America and Parkway Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem each brought many gifts for the young people in the residential programs, and on December 17, Ham's restaurant in Statesville provided a meal for children at the Pre-Adolescent Center.

REMEMBER FOOD LION RECEIPTS

A gentle reminder . . .

. . . to all Presbyterian Churches in North Carolina.

Please remember that Food Lion will donate 5 percent of the total gross sales for sales receipts dated February 10, 11, or 12, 1992, which are signed by North Carolina Presbyterians and turned in to NC Presbyterian Churches for Barium Springs Home for Children.

Thanks to the support of thousands of North Carolina Presbyterians, their churches, and Food Lion, this project netted over $12,000 for the children and families at Barium Springs in 1991. With your help, 1992's project can be even more successful.

If your church is collecting Food Lion receipts, please mail them to BSHC, P.O. Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010, by March 23, 1992.

HOME COMING 1992

seeing you there!

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
President

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen," or "To have faith is to be sure of things we hope for, to be certain of things we cannot see." Hebrews 11:1

It is not uncommon to see a parent and child alienated—cut off from each other. Quite often it seems obvious to us that each really cares for the other. However, love is one of those things one cannot see. And when neither believes the other cares, each is deprived. If one cannot see the love and doesn't believe it exists, there is no evidence—well, none that matters.

All important matters in life are matters of faith.

Sincerely,

W. Earle Frazier ACSW

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Series E or EE Bonds

Perhaps you have wondered if you could give a gift other than cash to support the work of Barium Springs Home for Children. Many people have obtained Series E and/or EE savings bonds through a payroll savings plan or have purchased U.S. Government Savings Bonds in order to save for retirement or for a newborn's future.

If you own Series E or EE bonds you may be interested to know that you could continue to receive income, delay reporting the accrued interest, and use the bonds to support the work of Barium Springs Home for Children.

As you are aware, Series EE bonds are purchased at a 50% discount from face value in denominations from $50 to $10,000 and redeemed later at either a premium over their price or, on maturity, at their face value. The difference between the purchase price and the face value at maturity is the "interest" earned on the bond. The interest is not subject to state and local taxes, and federal taxes do not have to be paid on the accrued interest until the bonds are cashed in. Interest earned on Series EE bonds may be deferred further if they are converted to Series HH bonds. In doing so, you have the option of reporting all of the interest income in the year of conversion, or continuing to defer the accrued interest on the Series EE bonds until the HH bonds are redeemed or reach maturity. Series HH bonds are sold at par value and pay interest semi-annually. The interest distributed is subject to federal tax in the year paid, but is not subject to state or local taxes.

Exchanging Series E or EE bonds for HH bonds may help reduce your taxes or defer your taxes. If you choose to defer the accrued interest on the EE bonds until the HH bonds reach final maturity, you may be in a lower tax bracket and thereby pay less tax on the accrued income. In order to continue to defer the taxes, Series E and EE bonds must be exchanged for Series HH bonds no later than one year after they reach their final maturity.

How can you continue to receive income from HH bonds, avoid reporting the accrued interest on EE bonds and support the work of Barium Springs Home for Children? Once the EE bonds are converted into HH bonds, they can be used to fund a Revocable Trust naming Barium Springs Home for Children as a beneficiary. You can continue to receive the income as long as you desire and thereafter Barium Springs Home for Children would be able to redeem the bonds and use the proceeds for its ministry. If the savings bonds are transferred to a trust and you give up all rights of ownership, then all interest accrued at the time of the transfer is taxable to you.

If you desire to give a future gift for the work of Barium Springs Home for Children, a gift of converted Series E or EE bonds is a unique opportunity to accomplish your goals. We would like to be of assistance to you in making a gift of converted E or EE bonds to Barium Springs Home for Children. Making the right decision concerning conversion depends upon your individual situation. We would be most happy to consult with you personally to help determine which alternatives would be the best possible arrangement for you.

For more information about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit to: Mr. Reade Baker, Barium Springs Home for Children, Post Office Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010.

1991 CHILDREN'S TRUST FOUNDATION MEMBERS

Every penny that comes to the Home is critical in meeting the needs of today's children and families. Over the last 100 years, thousands of lives have changed because people have invested in young people and families that need help.

Although all gifts are important, some individuals, foundations and corporations have taken a leadership role in meeting these needs. The Children's Trust Foundation is the funding arm of the Home and is supported by annual gifts of $100 to over $25,000. This support is the active participation that makes all the positive influence that occurs here possible.

The following list of Children's Trust Annual Members recognizes those exceptional investors that exemplify the loving, giving spirit which has sustained this mission for over 100 years.

The Statesville Kiwanis Club provided beautiful Christmas trees for the seven cottages in the residential centers, and one for the lobby of the Family and Child Development Center.

Edgar Ingram Tree Farm of Statesville donated a 13-foot tree for the Fellowship Hall, and Wal-Mart of Mooresville donated five percent of sales between 7 and 10 a.m. on November 29 to the FCDC. This amounted to a much-needed $650.

And last, but certainly not least, a grieving family, saddened by the recent death of a 12 year old family member, brought by several gifts appropriate for a child that age.

All of these people, and many more who responded to our requests for help, certainly made this Christmas more meaningful.

The children and their families of Barium Springs are all very touched by the reaching out from our community this Holiday Season. We know that the children, by receiving such gifts of love, are comforted knowing that so many friends care about their well-being. We pray that all these generous friends are as gratified in giving as we are grateful in receiving.

HORNETS GIVE TICKETS TO BARIUM

Many of the children and staff from Barium Springs Home for Children attended the Charlotte Hornets' game against the Milwaukee Bucks on November 8, thanks to four of the Hornets' team members.

Rex Chapman, Muggsy Bouges, Johnny Newman and Mike Gminski have each donated 20 of their tickets for each game to go to underprivileged children, or to children who would never have an opportunity to see a game unless they received free tickets.

Hornets representative Suzanne Conley said the players did this because they want to give something back to the community. The sections where their seats are located have been affectionately named "Three's Company" (Rex Chapman's number is three), "Muggsy & Friends", "Newman's Nest", and "G-Man's Gallery".

The children are appreciative of the kindness of these four Hornets, and the Home is grateful for their insight. Mr. Earle Frazier, the Home's President, said he was pleasantly surprised to find that these four young men were so aware that a gesture of this kind could do wonders for troubled or underprivileged children.

"Most of the children here rarely, if ever, get to attend sports, educational, or cultural events", said Frazier. "Just knowing that someone thought they were worth inviting is one more step toward building self-esteem."

SPECIAL THANKS TO ...

The children, staff and Board of Regents would like to say a special thank you to:

Tommy Harkey, owner of Landlock Marine Service in Statesville, for free servicing of a boat given to the Home.

Staff and Volunteers work diligently in their respective roles to help change troubled lives. We all have the greatest respect for the people whose work keeps the Home at the leading edge of all that is good in family and children's services. We also know nothing would happen here without the generous financial support provided by caring friends. Some staff and volunteers work hard and make sacrificial financial gifts to the Home. For these, special thanks is not enough.

CELEBRATE 100 YEARS OF CARING 1891 - 1991

With a History of Barium Springs Home for Children "Meeting the Needs of the Times"; a history of Barium Springs Home for Children written by Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas, is an informative, 139-page, hard-back book filled with historic facts and photos. It would make a nice addition to anyone's library.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 69

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SPRING 1992

No. 2

PARENTS WRITE LETTER OF GRATITUDE

The following letter is from a child's parents who wanted to tell friends of the Home how they felt about their experience here. These parents are a more important part of their own success than the letter implies. They have worked hard, as active members of a team, to define family goals, expectations and consequences.

"We had heard of Barium Springs Home for many years, but we did not fully appreciate the role of Barium Springs Home until our family was at the point of desperation. Our adolescent's behavior was out of control—breaking home and school rules, sneaking out, ignoring parental and school consequences, running away for days. Outside influences leading to improper decisions were a major problem.

This child, one of several in our family, needed structure. In addition, an on-campus school with smaller classes was essential since our child was failing all major courses in the public schools and needed special attention to raise a very low self-esteem. We researched the available child care facilities and talked with many professionals who deal with troubled teens. Everything that we heard about Barium Springs was positive. We believed that Barium Springs was the answer for long term help for our child beyond psychiatric hospitalization.

We submitted the required papers and went through the interviewing process. After all the turmoil that our family had experienced, we cannot put into words the feeling that we had when the Barium Springs cottage social worker told us: "We think we can help your child." (Editor's Note—Sometimes, because everyone's life is so disrupted, time away from family is the best alternative intervention for a child.) The first few weeks were rough; cottage staff were persistent and would not tolerate inappropriate behavior.

Upon being returned to Barium Springs after running away, the child was sternly told by staff and parents what was expected and had to sign an agreement to try again and follow the rules. Goals were clearly defined for the child and the family, and reviews occurred regularly to evaluate progress and, if necessary, re-define goals. The first report card was an incredible turn in the right direction.

The path to emotional stability for a troubled teenager is one of hard work, frequent set-backs, and constant need for reassurance, both for the child and the family. The future is uncertain for our child as the problems are deep. With the patience and guidance of staff, and hard work by our child and the rest of our family, we are starting to see positive changes in our child.

As grateful parents, we thank you with all our heart for your support and prayers for this wonderful place."

STAFF COLLECT FOR MARCH OF DIMES

Barium Springs Home for Children joined the fight against birth defects by raising $736 for the March of Dimes this year.

Edith Harmon, teacher in the two-year room at the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center, was in charge of the project. Mrs. Harmon has been active in the March of Dimes for the last four years.

Working at the Wagner Center, where 15% of the population are special needs children, gave Mrs. Harmon a greater awareness of what birth defects can do to a child. "Children are our future", she said. "We have to start working to help them somewhere, and what better place to start than at the beginning, before they are born.

This year the group raised money for the Walkathon on April 4, 1992, sold M & M's and Krispy Kreme donuts, and had a yard sale. Parents, staff and friends of the Home donated items for the yard sale.

This is just one more example of how our staff's dedication to children and family goes beyond their working hours.

HOME COMING 1992

Dear Alumni,

Please join us this year for a lot of fun!

Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
President

I was in the video store. A small boy walked by and cheerfully said, "Hello, bald-headed man."

His mother was, understandably, abashed and couldn't decide what she should do first—correct the boy or apologize to me. In her embarrassment, she did a very poor job of both. I assured her that he was only being friendly and honest; both of which were commendable.

While driving home, I thought about how parents must teach children not to risk insulting people. Yet, in the process, we so often dampen—or destroy—the honesty and spontaneity inherent in children; traits which make them so endearing. Too often, we properly-socialized adults have lost these traits and are somewhat less than endearing—somewhat inferior to our children.

BARIUM MESSENGER

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Avoiding Capital Gains Taxes

Many friends of Barium Springs Home for Children would like to leave a portion of their assets to the Home, but at the same time desire to turn their assets into income producing assets without the burden of incurring capital gains taxes. A charitable remainder trust will meet both of those goals and provide both a charitable income tax deduction and estate tax advantages. The first stage of a trust agreement is creating the trust and giving the gift. If you give a gift of appreciated property to a charity such as Barium Springs Home for Children, the charity can sell the property for its present value and you would avoid paying capital gains tax on the appreciated amount.

The gift provides you with an immediate income tax deduction based on the value of the charity's remainder interest as calculated by the IRS at the time of the gift. The exact amount of the deduction is determined by the type of charity and the type of property given. Generally, those who itemize deductions on their tax returns may deduct up to 50% of adjusted gross income for charitable contributions. Publicly traded capital gain property and gifts to private foundations are deductible up to 30% of adjusted gross income, and other capital gains property may be deductible up to 20% of adjusted gross income.

The income stream generated by the trust will depend first on the type of trust created: A charitable remainder annuity trust (CRAT) allows the donor to receive annually a fixed percentage (no less than 5%) of the net fair market value of the assets as valued when placed in the trust. A charitable remainder unitrust (CRUT) allows for an inflation hedge by stipulating that the income be a fixed percentage (no less than 5%) of the fair market value of the assets as valued annually.

In either type of trust, you can stipulate that the income be paid out over your lifetime or for a certain period of time. "Make up provisions" written into the trust agreement generally allow for some fluctuations of the percentage paid out, but a 5% or higher payout rate is usually written into the agreement. Barium Springs Home for Children would then receive the remainder after all the income payments have been made (when the donor dies or the income period has expired.)

Let's look at an example of a sixty-year-old woman who wishes to retain current income while donating a gift to Barium Springs Home for Children. She has a stock investment that she purchased 40 years ago for $10,000 and is now valued at $100,000. Selling the stock could provide cash for income, but she would have to pay capital gains tax on $90,000 and she wouldn't have accomplished her charitable intentions.

Instead, she donates her stock to Barium Springs Home for Children through a charitable remainder trust. Barium Springs Home for Children then sells the stock and invests the proceeds. The trust agreement provides for a 5% payout meaning she will receive an income of at least $5,000 a year for the remainder of her life. In addition, she may receive an estate tax deduction based on the charity's remainder interest. She will also receive a current year income tax deduction equal to the lesser of the present value of the charity's remainder interest or 30% of her adjusted gross income for the year.

For more information about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit to: Mr. Reade Baker, Barium Springs Home for Children, Post Office Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010.

BARIUM SPRINGS CAMPUS NEWS

Seven young adults from the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) Program recently visited Scissors hair salon in Cornelius, North Carolina to get tips on caring for their hair, faces, and nails.

Gary McAlister, owner of Scissors, Tammy Al-Ololla, and Scissors employees Jean Winkler, Donna Knox, Cami Ferguson, Kitsa Metaxatos and Shelia Riggs came in on a volunteer basis to trim hair, and do facials and manicures. All of the youth really enjoyed the trip and learned some great tips from the hairstylists. They also expressed an interest in visiting other types of businesses in order to explore different career choices.

Mr. McAlister observed that one of the girls in the PAL program had a natural talent for hair-cutting and invited her to come back and observe him cutting hair. This could turn out to be a career choice for the young lady, and needless to say, all of the staff and youth at PAL are delighted for her.

The youth and staff from the Home's residential programs, the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers, recently put on a Talent Show.

Cynthia Hill-Daniels, Residential Counselor at Goodman Cottage, coordinated and planned the show, which was a great success.

The planning, rehearsing and production of the show brought the children, staff and families closer together as they all worked toward a common goal. The show also crossed program bounds, as the children, families and staff in the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers participated together. It let the youth interact with staff on an equal level—both risking the same amount by putting themselves on display to be evaluated by peers, and it gave the youngsters a chance to perform in front of a group, which teaches them to be more out-going.

The talent show gave the young people a chance to become a part of a positive activity. Even those who weren't a part of the show saw what fun the others were having and some wished they had participated. The youth learned that with practice, determination and dedication they could achieve goals. In this case, it might have been to complete a dance, to sing a song, or remember their lines in a comedy skit. Now they can learn to apply these same principles to their school work, social skills or other parts of their daily routines.

Congratulations to the youth, families, and staff who participated in the talent show. You all did a wonderful job! We can't wait for the next one!

The week of April 5th through the 11th was Iredell County Day Care Awareness Week. The Iredell

County Day Care Association held events the entire week which were designed to increase the awareness of local individuals, corporations, and organizations on the need for more quality day care in Iredell County.

The Reverend Benny Davis, Pastor of Interfaith Deliverance Church in Statesville and President of the ICDCA, asked Ministers through the Statesville Ministerial Association to put information about the week's events in their Church Bulletins on Sunday, April 5, and announce it from the pulpit.

April 8th through 11th children's artwork from different day care and pre-school centers was displayed at Signal Hill Mall.

On April 10th a reception in honor of Day Care Awareness Week was held for local business leaders and political dignitaries at the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Care Development Center at Barium Springs. Dr. Peggy Gray, Principal of Northview Elementary School in Iredell County, was the guest speaker. Her topic was "How Day Care Centers Can Prepare Four and Five Year Olds for Kindergarten".

On April 11th, a class in infant and child CPR was taught at the FCDC for day care teachers. Also on the 11th, at Signal Hill Mall, Nancy Davis, an ICDCA member, dressed as a clown and told stories to children waiting to see the Easter Bunny.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

1992 GRADUATES REVEAL PLANS

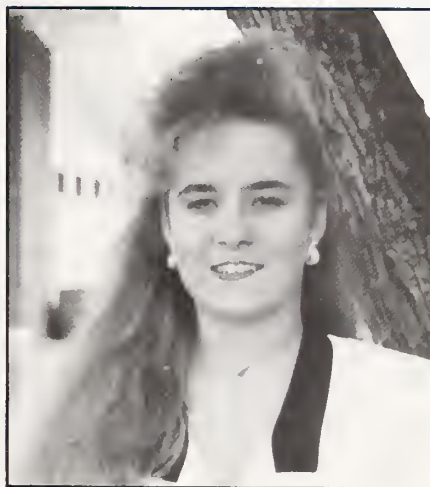

MARGO HUMPHRIES

Once again it is time for the Home to salute our graduates from the Preparation for Adult Living Program (PAL) located in Howard Cottage at the Adolescent Center.

I've had a job at a local restaurant since February and plan to work this summer also in order to save money for college."

BARBARA HILL

"My name is Barbara Hill. I am 19 years old. After graduating from South Iredell High School, I plan to spend the summer working to save money for college. I am going to Greenville Technical College in South Carolina starting August 25th. I plan to get my Paralegal

"My name is Chanda LeAnne Boyles. I have lived at Barium for 3 years. At South Iredell, I have been

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Don't Be An Involuntary Philanthropist

Have you been successful in life? Do you have a lovely home and cars to drive? Do your children go or have they gone to good schools? By many standards you may be considered wealthy. Did you know that you are also a philanthropist?

The second edition of Webster's New International Dictionary defines a philanthropist as "A generous giver to education, charity, social work, etc.; a liberal benefactor." You are either a voluntary philanthropist or an involuntary philanthropist. If you do not plan your financial affairs properly, Uncle Sam may take up to 55 percent of your estate and do what he thinks is best with your money. Your hard earned dollars may go to support programs you vehemently oppose.

Wouldn't you rather be a voluntary philanthropist, deciding where your money is spent? There has been a great deal in the press lately about the inappropriateness of some government spending. We can help you direct your estate where you want it to go—and more.

You may want to convert non-income producing assets to investments that produce more income. But, what if those assets you now own would create a large capital gains tax if sold to reinvest in higher income producing assets? Many individuals will hold on to low income producing assets to avoid paying substantial capital gains taxes.

You can be a voluntary philanthropist and accomplish your investment objective while helping Barium Springs Home for Children at the same time. Our planned giving specialist can assist you in structuring a planned gift to Barium Springs Home for Children that may actually increase your monthly investment income, avoid capital gains taxes on substantially appreciated assets, create an immediate income tax deduction and avoid significant estate taxes, all without reducing what you leave to your heirs.

Does this sound too good to be true? If you meet certain criteria this can be absolutely true under existing tax laws. Your situation needs to be evaluated based upon your particular situation.

Barium Springs Home for Children can also benefit from a planned giving arrangement. As a voluntary philanthropist you can decide what charity or charities you want to support with your hard earned assets.

For more information about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit to: Mr. Reade Baker, Barium Springs Home for Children, Post Office Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010.

on the honor roll for 3 consecutive years. My junior year. I won the A-team award for having a 95 average the entire year. My senior year I have won $2,300 in scholarships, the Perfect Attendance Award, the National English Merit Award and I also am an Honor Graduate (top 10 percent) and N.C. Scholar. Thanks to the help from Barium Springs I am able to continue my education at Appalachian State University. Barium Springs is providing the remainder of money needed, that I have not already received in scholarships. I am very appreciative of all the help and support I am receiving. I would like to thank administration, staff in PAL and everyone else who has helped me. God bless all of you!"

The PAL program is designed for youth with less significant social, emotional and academic problems than youth in the Adolescent Center Program. These young people need to learn to be independent because returning to their family full-time when they leave is not a viable option.

The young people in this program attend the local high school or community college, hold a part-time job, and have chores and responsibilities in the cottage. Among the many things they learn are how to keep up with a checking and savings account, how to fill out job applications and prepare for interviews, how to cook and how to clean.

Chanda and Barbara both came to PAL from the Adolescent Center, after successfully completing the program. Margo came to PAL from another placement.

The Home has a fund for higher education, for which graduates can apply. Chanda has applied and been accepted, and will use the funds to cover the money needed for tuition at Appalachian that her scholarships did not cover. Barbara is still in the process of applying for the funds and Margo will apply when she transfers to Warren Wilson.

We wish our graduates good luck in acquiring their higher education and continued success in life. Thanks to generous Presbyterian donors across the state, Barium Springs was there for them.

DAYCARE CENTER IS RENAMED

The Family and Child Development Center has officially been renamed the L. C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center.

This decision was made following the November 1, 1991 decision of the North Carolina Supreme Court which awarded a $3 million trust fund set up by L.C. Wagner in 1956 to the Home. The funds were originally stipulated for Davis Hospital, but were to go to the Barium Springs if the Hospital ever ceased to exist, which it did in 1983.

At their November meeting, the Home's Board of Regents voted that the income from the Wagner Trust go to subsidize the Family and Child Development Center, which serves 125 children and families in the Iredell County area with quality day care. The Board also voted to rename the center the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center.

The Center has an AA license, the highest which can be achieved in the State, and serves children 6 weeks to 9 years old. Center Director Fran Oliver said that the staff often provides child care training for other centers, businesses and churches in the State. The Center also provides a place for on-site training for approximately 30 girls each year in a child care class at South Iredell High School, and for the nursing classes at Mitchell Community College to observe children's behaviors.

The parents of children at the Center pay a weekly fee based on their combined gross income. Prior to receiving the Wagner Trust, the Home subsidized the costs which remained. Now the income from the Trust will subsidize the Center.

The Trust is managed by a Board of Trustees made up of six local ministers, each from different denominations. Reverend Grant Sharp, Chairman of the Wagner Trustees and also Presbyterian, was nominated to serve on the Home's Board of Regents, and he has been elected and consented to the term.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE AWARDS CREDENTIALS

for a Child Care Worker Basic Training Credential. The curriculum was tested simultaneously at seven other Community Colleges across the state.

The course was developed by the North Carolina Department of Community Colleges and the Day Care Section in an effort to provide classes in basic child care training to all potential entry level child day care providers through their local Community Colleges. It will be offered at all Community Colleges in the state beginning this Fall

It is the Child Day Care Section's goal to recognize child day care centers and homes where staff have completed the training, thus giving parents another guideline to look for when they are considering day care for their children.

Hayes and Harmon completed the 66-hour course by attending the classes at Wilkes Community College on Friday evenings and all day on Saturday for six weeks. After each class they filled out an evaluation form on the materials and their presentation.

Course topics included: Child Care as a Profession, Child Growth and Development, Getting to Know the Whole Child, Developmentally Appropriate Practices, Positive Guidance Techniques, and Providing a Safe and Healthy Environment.

After completing the course, both Harmon and Hayes thought it ought to be mandatory for child day care workers, teachers, and even parents.

"We are doing these things every single day," said Harmon. "So it really helps to be refreshed and have them brought back into perspective. This course will be very helpful to someone just coming in to the profession, or to someone who has been doing it for twenty years."

Another unique twist to this course is that the tuition invested by the child care worker taking the course will be reimbursed by the Child Day Care Section Uplift Training Fund after they earn their Credential.

For more information about the Child Care Worker Basic Training Credential, call your local Community College.

KNOWLEDGE IS BLOOMING AT BARIUM

In the Spring of 1991, two teachers at the Adolescent Center School, a program of Barium Springs Home for Children, were awarded an educational grant from the GTE Corporation.

Deborah Ramseur and Joyce Shepard, math and science teachers respectively, were one of two math-science teacher teams in North Carolina to be awarded a grant from GTE's "Growth Initiatives for Teachers" (GIFT) program. The grants are awarded to promote excellence in math and science education.

With their grant funds, Ramseur and Shepard purchased and built a greenhouse at the Adolescent Center School to use to teach their students introductory biology, horticulture and consumer math. So far, they have taught both a summer session and a regular school year session of "Greenhouse Horticulture".

Each session had about 20 students who met for two hours, twice a week to work in the greenhouse. They planted corn, beans, strawberries, and various annual and perennial plants from seed and through propagation. They have also made several outside beds to transplant their greenhouse plants this Spring and Summer. The teachers plan to teach marketing skills by letting the students put their plants and produce up for sale around campus. Ramseur and Shepard said that their students have done most of the work and that they have just given them guidance when they needed it.

"Our young people really take pride in their plants and greenhouse," said Shepard. "It feels great to be able to teach something that the children can take with them. This is the first time many of them ever had their hands in the dirt. Now, no matter where they go, they know how to plant a seed, take care of it and watch it grow into something. They can create beauty in their lives where so much of what they try to do gets torn down."

The GTE grant also provided Shepard and Ramseur with funds for professional development. They took courses in organic and greenhouse horticulture, nursery technology and landscape graphics and measurements during the 1991-92 school year at Central Piedmont Community College. Also, this Spring they completed a ten-day tour of the private and public gardens and plantations in St. Francisville, Louisiana. There they studied the layout and design of the gardens, some of which were done in the 17th century, and brought the information and a few local plant specimens back to the classroom.

"Our class took care of the chores for the greenhouse, inside and out, while we were gone," said Shepard. "They did a very good job."

Ramseur and Shepard went on another trip in May to the Western part of North Carolina. They toured several greenhouses to study their layout. They also studied the local plant life, and brought a few specimens back for transplant.

The school is very fortunate to have two such industrious, caring teachers who went out of their way to get something for their students that they would otherwise not have had.

SPECIAL THANKS TO . . .

The children, staff and Board of Regents would like to say a special thanks to:

All of the North Carolina Presbyterian Churches who participated in the Barium Springs/Food Lion Community Way Days. Thank you so much for thinking of us, collecting your receipts and sending them to us. Because of you, Food Lion, Inc. awarded the Home with a check for $10,955.62

Food Lion Stores of North Carolina, for allowing the Home to participate in your fund-raising program, Community Way Days, and for this year's check for $10,955.62! Combined with the funds provided by this opportunity last year, Food Lion has given approximately $25,000 to the children here at Barium Springs. We want to thank you for your generosity, and we look forward to 1993!

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

ONE FAMILY'S SPECIAL HOMECOMING

The following article was written by Barbara Anne (Craig) Maclaren Edwards, daughter of Barium Alumna Mary Swaim Craig Maclaren (Class of 1927). 1992 has revealed many unknown facts to Mrs. Edwards concerning her family. She found out about, and met, several cousins whom she had never known, and she found out about an uncle she didn't know existed. But, the biggest shock was to find out that her mother had grown up in an orphanage, and so had four of her aunts and uncles. For some reason her parents had not wanted her or her sister to know that their mother had grown up in an orphanage, so they isolated themselves from the rest of the family. This article is the story of that discovery, almost fifty years after the sisters were born, and a joyful "reunion" which took place at Barium's 1992 Homecoming.

We never had a Family Reunion. I had lived in Cincinnati, Ohio for 40 years. My younger daughter, Pamela Craig Firth, had moved to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, after graduating from Purdue. I was going to Pittsburg to visit for the weekend and, somehow, we found out that my mother's sister, Alice Irvin Craig Maclaren, was in the hospital. The last time I'd seen Alice I was 12 years old. She had lived in England, then South Africa, then Florida.

Pammi and I went to the hospital to see her. There were a couple of strangers in the room who turned out to be cousins I had never ever met—the daughters of Bertie Ratliffe Craig—Carolyn Jean Craig Walker

SHOP FOOD LION IN FEBRUARY

The children and families of Barium Springs Home for Children will once again benefit from Food Lion's "Community Way Days" project.

As per last year's rules, each member of a North Carolina Presbyterian Church may shop twice at any North Carolina Food Lion during February 15, 16 or 17, 1993 and turn in up to two cash register receipts dated any of these days to their Presbyterian Church. Also, each Presbyterian may invite one friend who is not Presbyterian to shop on those days, and may turn in two of their friend's Food Lion receipts as well.

The project's rules state: 1. only North Carolina Presbyterians and their friends may participate; 2. each Presbyterian must sign their name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the back of their Food Lion cash register receipts before turning them in to their Presbyterian Church; and 3. each friend, or non-Presbyt erian, must also sign their name on the receipt, in addition to the name of the person they shopped for and Barium Springs Home for Children.

North Carolina Presbyterian Churches will receive information at a later date on how to collect and total the receipts. Other project rules stipulate that Presbyterians are not to solicit receipts from non-eligible customers, either inside or outside the store. Also, no boxes are to be placed inside or outside the store to collect receipts from their members or friends. Any violation of these rules could disqualify the Home from this project, thus denying the children of this valuable opportunity for support.

Please address any questions about the project to the Home at 704-872-4157, and not to Food Lion store employees.

A call to Food Lion in late September alerted us to some possible

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Charitable Remainder Trusts Offer Flexibility

In recent years Charitable Remainder Trusts have gained a great deal of popularity as an estate planning tool. These trusts are a flexible way which may allow a donor to satisfy both his financial objectives and his charitable intent to provide for Barium Springs Home for Children.

The basic structure of the charitable trust is that an irrevocable trust is created with a charitable remainder beneficiary (Barium Springs Home for Children) and a non-charitable beneficiary (you) as the lifetime beneficiary. The non-charitable beneficiary is usually the donor (grantor) and spouse. In a Charitable Remainder Unitrust, the grantor selects a percentage of the annual value of the trust assets (not less than 5%) that will be paid to the beneficiary for life. The grantor can elect to have the percentage paid out of any assets of the trust, the income generated by the trust, or as much income as the trust earns with any deficit to be made up in later years. This is an especially useful provision if current income is not needed by the beneficiary. Investments of the trusts can be shifted to generate income when needed, or the investments may be in growth assets when income is not needed.

The donor to Barium Springs Home for Children receives a partial income tax deduction for contributions to a properly structured charitable remainder trust. If the deduction is not fully usable in the current year, it may be carried forward to future years. The charitable remainder trust is an attractive vehicle for people with highly appreciated assets. The trust is a tax-exempt entity, therefore the sale of highly appreciated assets in a charitable trust produces no current income taxes to the donor, so therefore a larger investment base is available for the generation of income.

While many donors to Barium Springs Home for Children wish to see the Home's programs supported by the eventual disposition of the trusts' assets, they still want to provide for their family or other beneficiaries at death. This goal may be accomplished through an Asset Replacement Trust. This trust is a funded irrevocable life insurance trust which will provide the value of the asset donated to the charitable remainder trust to the family or other beneficiaries. If structured properly, the proceeds from the life insurance trust can pass to the next generation without estate tax.

The Charitable Remainder Trust is an ideal planning tool to provide for both your family and Barium Springs Home for Children. The Charitable Remainder Trust offers flexibility to create an annual income stream, provide an inheritance to beneficiaries, and to leave a substantial charitable gift to Barium Springs Home for Children.

(Pittsburg, Pennsylvania) and Nancy Lou Walker (West Natick, Maine). My aunt told us stories about her life and about her brother John Nelson Craig. I'd never heard of him! John was a dwarf and for some strange reason, my parents had never mentioned him.

My cousins, aunt, daughter, and I had a wonderful time together telling personal stories about our lives and stayed until the hospital people threw us out.

I invited my cousins to visit at any time.

Months later, my cousin Carolyn called and she and her family were going to pass through Cincinnati on vacation. I was delighted. We spent an evening together and Carolyn mentioned Barium Springs three different times. Finally, I said, "I don't know what you're talking about." She repeated the words louder, and I said, "I heard you, but I still don't know what you're talking about." "The Orphanage," she said; "What Orphanage?" I asked. "The orphanage where they all grew up." "Who grew up?" "Your mother (Mary Swaim Craig Maclaren - Barium Springs, 1915 - 1927), my mother (Bertie - Barium Springs, 1915 - 1922), Aunt Alice (Barium Springs, 1917 - 1919 and 1925 - 1931), Uncle John (Barium Springs 1915 - 1926), and Uncle Joe (Joseph Armfield Craig - Barium Springs, 1919 - 1925)."

My aunt told us stories about her life and her brother John Nelson Craig. I'd never even heard of him!

I was astonished! I'd never had a clue! I couldn't understand why my family had kept this secret from me—I assumed that everyone else, but me, knew. I felt so sorry for my mother since she felt she had to hide what she somehow considered to be a stigma - for 76 years. It was so sad that she couldn't tell a living soul that she had been put in an orphanage, by her mother, shortly after the death of her father, at the age of six and that she stayed there until she graduated from high school. She never divulged it to anyone—nor the fact that two of her sisters and her two brothers were also there for various periods of their lives. How different all our lives might have been had she been able to confide in me; but no, she took her secret to the grave ... or did she?

I was astonished! I never had a clue! I couldn't understand why my family had kept this secret from me - I assumed that everyone else, but me, knew.

I suspected my sister knew! She and my mother were very close—she had lived near or with my mother for years, and since we only see each other when I fly or drive to Atlanta, I decided to drive there, confront her, and flaunt the fact that I had finally found out.

I drove there this summer, faced her, and asked her how long she'd known about Barium Springs—and she didn't know didley! I told her everything Carolyn had told me, and her first reaction was that I was crazy.

Within two days, my sister had called her daughters and her son... and her daughter, Susan Ratliffe Wylie Mobley, had contacted Bar-ium Springs and had been put in touch with Linda Parker. Linda researched the Craig family and sent Susie all kinds of data on our mother: letters to and from the Superintendent, Mr. Johnston, to my mother's family; clippings from four years in the Spotlight; application forms for the Craig children to be admitted into the Orphanage; the History of the Orphanage—"Meeting the Needs of the Times"—explaining, in part, how people dealt with their problems in that era; newspaper articles—a wealth of information—some of it 75 years old.

Linda was perfect! She is as warm and caring, I'm sure, as Mr. Johnston was. She and I had many phone calls back and forth trying to figure out how I could borrow some of the Spotlights to get photocopies of the pages that had anything to do with my mother. She told me that Barium Springs had its 100th Anniversary in 1991 and that their reunion would be August 1st and 2nd of this year. "I'll see you then," I said. I wanted to borrow anything we could find on the Craigs and have it all printed before the reunion began in a local print shop in "Downtown Barium Springs". However, there wasn't a print shop in Barium Springs (nor was there a Downtown Barium Springs) or in Statesville that could accommodate a one-day turnaround on data that I hadn't even found yet. Linda asked me to give her a couple of days to see what she could find. I called her two days later and she had more "stuff".

I called my sister in Atlanta and told her I was going to Barium changes in the program and/or its procedures. We will keep donors and North Carolina Presbyterians notified of any changes if they occur.

The Home has participated in this project for the past two years, generating two generous gifts from Food Lion totaling almost $25,000 for our girls and boys. This project provides a way for Presbyterians to rally and support this mission of the church without being asked to make a direct gift. The children, their families, the staff and Board of Regents are very grateful for your help in making this a successful event.

for the weekend and, without hesitation, she said "I'll go too." Then I called Carolyn in Pittsburgh. Carolyn gave me David Irvin Craig's number (Joseph Craig's son) and, when I called him (since he wasn't in), I told his wife, Sandra, who I was and what my plans were. When David got home that night, Sandra said to him,

We never got to meet each other in our entire lives because my parents didn't want my sister and me to find out that my mother had been brought up in an orphanage. What a shame!

"You'll never guess who called today." He tried, but he certainly didn't guess. I called David's sister, Mary Swaim Craig Strong (obviously named after my mother), introduced myself to her, and told her of our plans. We were all coming to Barium Springs and we were all excited.

There were nine of us: Sandra and David Craig (Reidsville, North Carolina); Mary Swaim and Phillip Strong (Monroe, North Carolina); Carolyn, Tom, and Ben Walker (Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania); my sister, Mary Susan Craig Maclaren Wylie (Atlanta, Georgia); and me (Cincinnati, Ohio). We all brought treasures. We had pictures and letters and articles and stories and family records spread all over my room. We each took various things back home with us to copy and pass along to our own children. We took pictures of each other, had others take pictures of all of us together, and took more pictures of Linda and the cottages where our parents had lived.

We went through the Museum and stared through every photograph on the walls, desperate to find our parents faces. We spent so much quality time together for the little time we had. We've promised each other to keep in close touch. We never got to meet each other in our entire lives because my parents didn't want my sister and me to find out that my mother had been brought up in an orphanage. What a shame! What a dreadful shame! Everything I've heard and read about the orphanage convinced me of what a loving and caring place it was. My mother and her sisters and brothers were fortunate to have lived there. The only shame is that my parents, or maybe only my father, thought there was some sort of disgrace connected with a person who had been brought up in an orphanage. He was very, very mistaken.

I've built a little shrine to my mother in my family room. It consists of a small table that she had in her living room for 55 years. On it there is a wooden photograph album full of family pictures and the data we discovered in Barium Springs. There is a copy of the Craig Family History written by my mother's sister Marjorie. I have my mother's senior picture from the Barium Springs Spotlight of 1927. Over the table hangs a sepia photograph of my mother when she was 24 years old.

I am so happy that we learned the truth in time. We plan on having a Craig Reunion every year coincident with the Barium Springs Reunion—and to be held in Barium Springs. We have a full year ahead of us to find more data we can share with each other. As time goes by, we will bring our children and grandchildren with us. We are all part of a family that Barium Springs kept together. We are fortunate that the Barium Springs Presbyterian Home for Orphans was there when the Craig family was forced to make a decision as to the future of its children. They all turned out quite well, you know.

EPLIOG

I was talking to my daughter in Pittsburgh last night and she said to me, "If we had gone to see Alice in the hospital one hour later than we did, we would never have known anything." A word from Rochelle Haines, Vice-President of Services, Barium Springs Home for Children: "Our work today teaches us that connections to family are the most important ingredient to a child's growth and development. The sense of "who am I?"—the child's identity—is the cornerstone of self-esteem and the ability to form productive relationships. This is true even for children whose families are overwhelmed by problems and who cannot care for them. This story illustrates how important these family connections are—when we were an orphanage, and now, as we continue our mission with today's children and families."

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid Atlantic

VOL. 70

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, WINTER 1993

No. 1

CHRISTMAS DONATIONS BRING HOPE

Christmas is a special time for children and families. It can be especially meaningful or difficult for the children and families served here at Barium Springs.

The children here come from all sorts of families; doting to neglectful, loving to cruel. In spite of the past, Christmas still brings glimmers of hope to most of us. Hope for new beginnings, forgiveness, bright futures.

This Christmas, gifts and donations to the children brought much more than toys and money ... they brought the message that "someone cares what happens to me."

From the children and families, staff and Board of Regents, we thank you. Thank you for your generous gifts and, most of all, for your love and emotional support. You are really making a difference in the lives of others.

NEW REGENTS ELECTED

The children, families and Administration of Barium Springs Home for Children are delighted to welcome seven new members to the Home's Board of Regents. Their individual backgrounds in Human Services and/or helping children should combine to be a great asset to the Board and the families we serve.

The new Regents are as follows:

Mrs. Effle Ann Clayton is a pre-school teacher for 4-year-olds in Raleigh, NC. she and her husband, Vance, are members of

HOMECOMING 1993

August 7th and 8th

Dear Alumni, families, and friends: Please join us this year for a lot of fun!

HELP CHILDREN FEBRUARY 15, 16, 17

The children and families of Barium Springs Home for Children will once again benefit from Food Lion's "Community Way Days" project.

As per last year's rules, each member of a North Carolina Presbyterian Church may shop twice at any North Carolina Food Lion during February 15, 16, or 17, 1993 and turn in up to two cash register receipts dated any of these three days to their Presbyterian Church. Also, each Presbyterian may invite one friend who is not Presbyterian to shop on those days, and can turn in two of their friend's receipts as well.

The projects rules state: 1. only North Carolina Presbyterians and their friends may participate; 2. each Presbyterian must sign their name and Barium Springs Home for children on the back of their Food Lion cash register receipts before turning them in to their Presbyterian church; and 3. each friend, or non-Presbyterian, must also sign their name on the receipt, in addition to the name of the person they shopped for and Barium Springs Home for Children.

Information on how to collect and total the receipts has been sent to North Carolina Presbyterian Pastors and Clerks of Session.

Other project rules stipulate that Presbyterians are not to solicit receipts from non-eligible customers, either inside or outside the store. Also, no boxes are to be placed inside or outside the store to collect receipts from their members or friends. Any violation of these rules could disqualify the Home from this project, thus denying the children of this valuable opportunity for support.

Please address any questions about the project to the Home at 704/872-4157, and not to Food Lion store employees.

The Home has participated in

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
President

"Please accept this small gift as a memorial to my husband who died 22 years ago. We had 53 wonderful years together and I still miss him horribly. I wish I could send more, but I am 92 years old and live on my social security check and can barely get by. May God bless you in your wonderful work."

Letters like this are not at all uncommon, making us wish that we could return the "Widow's Mite"

Some have so little and give so much. Others of us have so much ...

HELP THE CHILDREN

This project for the past two years, generating two generous gifts from Food Lion totaling almost $25,000 for our girls and boys. This project provides a way for Presbyterians to rally and support this mission of the church without being asked to make a direct gift. The children, their families, the staff and Board of Regents are very grateful for your help in making this a successful event.

Retirement Unitrusts

Pension plans increased tremendously in number and in value during the 1970's. However, during the 1980's the level of government regulation of pension plans caused many companies to rethink their commitment to pension plans. You may be very well advised to acquire additional pension type investments or plans which could supplement your current plans. The retirement unitrust is designed exactly for that purpose.

A tax exempt unitrust is similar to a pension plan in that a unitrust may enable you to obtain tax free growth. In addition, appreciated assets may be transferred to the trust and sold without payment of any capital gains tax. Furthermore, since the remainder eventually does go to Barium Springs Home for Children, each year that a transfer is made to the trust, there will be an income tax deduction which is a percentage of the value of the property transferred.

The trust will pay income using a specific percentage to you for the selected term. For most retirement unitrusts, the preferred choice will be to choose income for the life of the husband and wife.

A retirement unitrust usually will be funded during the last ten to fifteen years before retirement. You would transfer stock or cash with a selected value to the trust. At retirement there should be a substantial corpus in the trust and substantial retirement income can be paid for the rest of your life.

The ability to bypass capital gains tax, save current income taxes each year that a transfer is made to the trust and benefit from tax free growth in the trust are all significant benefits to you. Over your projected life expectancy, a charitable retirement unitrust can produce a regular and generous income. After all of the income payments have been made and you and your spouse have passed away, the corpus will then be transferred to the selected favorite charities. We hope you will consider including Barium Springs Home for Children.

An option exists to either take all current income or to allow the income to be added to the trust corpus. If the income is distributed to you, the taxable income may be offset in part by charitable deductions for trust additions. If the income is not currently required, the trustee may invest for growth in what is called a Net Income Plus Makeup Unitrust. After retirement, the trust income includes both the selected percent and the makeup amounts. Clearly, the maximum tax free growth of assets occurs when the income is accumulated in the trust until retirement.

A retirement unitrust is just one of the many planned giving opportunities that might make sense for you. 1992 CHILDREN'S TRUST FOUNDATION MEMBERS

Every penny that comes to the Home is critical in meeting the needs of today's children and families. Over the last 100 years, thousands of lives have changed because people have invested in young people and families that need help.

Although all gifts are important, some individuals, foundations and corporations have taken a leadership role in meeting these needs. The Children's Trust Foundation is the funding arm of the Home and is supported by annual gifts of $100 to over $25,000. This support is the active participation that makes all the positive influence that occurs here possible.

The following list of Children's Trust Annual Members recognizes those exceptional investors that exemplify the loving, giving spirit which has sustained this mission for over 100 years.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid Atlantic

VOL. 70 BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SPRING 1993 No. 2

INTERNS HELPING WHILE LEARNING

Barium Springs Home for Children is providing a place for two college interns to get some hands-on experience in the Human Service field during the 1993 Spring Semester.

Karen Hayes, a Senior at UNC-Greensboro, and Kristy Freiburger, a Junior at Appalachian State University, are both gaining practical experience while providing some fresh ideas at the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center and the Adolescent Center respectively.

Hayes is working with each of the age groups (infants through nine-year-olds) at the Wagner Center. She is helping out with classroom activities while observing the various stages of child development.

"As a Human Development and Family Relations major, I've studied human development from birth to death in books," said Hayes. "It is very helpful to actually see the development taking place. That is why the Center is such a good place for an internship, because nowhere can you see the changes faster than in small children."

Fran Oliver, Director of the Wagner Center, said Hayes is a very hard worker and fits in nicely with the staff and the children. She said that the teachers are also learning a lot from Hayes' experiences in college, not to mention that the extra pair of hands has been very helpful.

DEDICATED STAFF MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Even though there are some negative side effects of going into the child-care profession, such as a small bank account, long hours, and sleepless nights, the positive side effects and, more importantly, the positive results far outweigh them. The satisfaction of helping a child who has been sexually abused see their self-worth, or of reuniting a child with their family after helping them work through the problems which drove them apart... that satisfaction is worth more than any amount of money or comfort to a person who is dedicated to helping children.

The staff at Barium Springs Home for Children are very dedicated to helping troubled children and their families. They are constantly taking courses and training to better themselves. Some of this training is mandatory, but much of it staff take on a volunteer basis because it makes them all the more capable of helping others. From time to time we like to inform our friends and donors of the dedication of our staff by describing some of their current activities.

Recently Bill Drake, Residential Coordinator for Sanford Cottage in the Adolescent Center, and Carole Hartness, Secretary at the Adolescent Center, completed the introductory level Mediation training through the Piedmont Mediation Center, Inc. (PMCI). They learned basic skills and the differences between mediation, arbitration, and litigation, and were introduced to alternative dispute resolutions.

"The only thing we had when we came here was our name."

— Alumnae

So many came here over the years with virtually nothing but their names. Yet they left with a solid education, good work habits, skills, a huge substitute family and good memories. For many years, I had little or no appreciation for the degree to which this place is home for alumni of a distant past. Neither did I appreciate the degree to which they are family. Yet, as we anticipate Homecoming, we also anticipate witnessing the same greetings, reminiscing and kidding that takes place at gatherings of our families. We will welcome the Alumni at Homecoming the first weekend in August, and give thanks for the relationship we have with so many of them.

BARIUM SPRINGS ALUMNI NEWS

The Reverend Thomas C. Cook, former Pastor at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church, died in early October, 1992, at the age of 93.

Mr. Cook was Pastor at Little Joe's from approximately 1938 to 1944. He is remembered fondly by many of the Alumni, who asked him to come back and do the Homecoming sermon in 1980, which he did. It was the last time he came to Little Joe's Church.

Mr. Irvin R. "Buck" Squires, Class of 1928, died October 21, 1992, in Greensboro, NC, at the age of 81. He is survived by his wife, Frances Squires.

Mr. and Mrs. MacSherry Lackey celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary in November, 1992. Mr. Lackey graduated in the Class of 1939.

Mrs. Blanche Feimster Kincaid, Class of 1946, died January 16, 1993 in Morganton, NC. She is survived by three children, a sister, Jane Feimster Rakestraw of Morganton, and a brother, Fred Feimster of Charlotte.

Mrs. Helen Joyce Weeks Smiley, Class of 1942, died March 9, 1993 in Washington, NC. She was employed as the Office Manager with Shop Eze Food Stores in Washington for 17 years until her retirement in 1992.

She is survived by her husband, Jack Earl Smiley, Sr.; two sons, Jack E. Jr. of Pinetown and Kirk Allen Smiley of Roswell, NM; two sisters, Margaret Weeks Stewart of Gastonia and Dorothy Weeks Ellis of Wilmington; two brothers, Jack W. Weeks of Wilmington and Jesse L. Weeks, Jr. of Raleigh; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. John L. McCorkle, husband of Alumnae Mrs. Jane Lyons McCorkle, (Class of 1937), died March 23, 1993 in Wilmington. He was 78.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, John H. McCorkle of Atlanta, GA, Robert W. McCorkle and James L. McCorkle of Wilmington; eight grandchildren; and a sister.

MONUMENT DEDICATION SET FOR HOMECOMING

The Barium Springs Alumni Association is already making plans for the 1993 Homecoming, which will take place August 7 and 8, 1993, at the Home.

In addition to the usual wonderful fellowship, food and fun, the Alumni are planning a special event for August 7. They are going to dedicate a monument to the original Little Joe's Presbyterian Church, which was between the Home's administration building and the Barium Springs Post Office.

The Association collected donations to build the monument from Alumni and other interested friends. For more information about Homecoming, contact Randy Shaw, President of the Alumni Association at 704-542-5024.

BARIUM MESSENGER

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Choosing a Gift that Gives Now, or Later

Federal tax laws provide deductions for a wide range of charitable contributions. These laws reward donors, whether your gift is modest or monumental, while enabling the work of Barium Springs Home for Children to continue. The Home recognizes the importance of the annual campaign to raise money for day-to-day operations. But as the Annual Report in the Winter issue of the Barium Messenger indicated for 1992, 45% of all income came from planned gifts. Interest from the Endowment, which was built primarily from bequests and their growth, accounted for 19% of the planned gifts, while the remaining 26% came from trusts.

Charitable contributions can be categorized as either current or deferred gifts. The consequences of making a current gift are relatively simple: the recipient of that gift receives immediate and full use of the gift, and the donor normally receives an immediate tax benefit. The size and timing of your tax benefit depends on the type of property given and other characteristics of your tax situation.

If you make a deferred gift, the recipient benefits from it at a later time or at a predetermined time. You may receive an immediate income tax deduction since you are making a current gift of a future interest. The size of your tax deduction is determined by the present (discounted) value of your deferred gift. There are numerous circumstances under which you might prefer deferred giving. For instance, you might like to donate income producing securities to Barium Springs Home for Children while you are still dependent on the income they provide. A deferred gift allows you to continue to receive the income as well as receive a current tax deduction.

You may have some securities that have a low cost basis in relationship to their current market value that do not produce income. If you sold those securities to acquire income producing assets you might have to pay a large capital gains tax. An alternative would be to make a special type of gift to the Home that will enable you to avoid the capital gains tax and begin receiving regular income.

Another means of deferred giving to Barium Springs Home for Children would be donating gifts of life insurance. One of the most attractive benefits of life insurance in a deferred giving program is that it may enable you to make a substantial contribution beyond your present capability at a reasonably small annual cost. For example, an individual may make a planned gift of $25,000 to Barium Springs Home for Children by purchasing a life insurance policy in which Barium Springs Home for Children is both the owner and beneficiary. The donor pays the minimal annual premiums to fund the policy, which become deductible charitable contributions. Upon the death of the donor, the institution receives the face amount of the policy. Because Barium Springs Home for Children is both the owner and the beneficiary of the policy, the proceeds of the policy do not pass through the insured's estate and therefore, do not diminish the estate for other heirs.

These are just some of many planned giving opportunities that might make sense for you. For more information about these and other ways you can help yourself and children at the Home, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157, or use the envelope provided to return the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

Oliver also said she was very pleased that UNC-G thought enough of the Center to recommend it as an internship.

"I think staff, board members, parents and donors can be proud that UNC-Greensboro feels that our Center has enough to offer a student in the way of a learning experience that they would recommend us as an internship," said Oliver.

Hayes, who is from Troutman, N.C., works eight hours a day, three days a week at the Wagner Center. After graduating from UNC-G, she plans to get her Master's Degree in Counseling and be a Marriage and Family Counselor concentrating in family and divorce.

She expressed great admiration for the Wagner Center and the staff, and said that working here has changed her mind about day care centers.

"I worked in a day care center for about six months," said Hayes.

"It was so awful I thought if I ever have children, I'll never put them in day care. But after working here I realize that there are Centers who offer quality care for children. The staff here is professional, and wonderful with the children. You can tell that they truly care about them and nurture them. A parent could feel very good about leaving their children here."

Kristy Freiburger, who is a Social Work major, is working one day a week at Sullivan Cottage in the Adolescent Center.

Freiburger spends the majority of her day with Sullivan Social Worker Jeannie Miller. She has attended several meetings between the staff, child and parents, read case histories and psychological reports, and in general, has been introduced to how the agency operates. She also gets to spend time doing activities with the residents of the cottage.

"All of the activities I am participating in are helping me greatly," said Freiburger. "I am getting to see for myself what a Social Worker does and how such an institution operates. My work is also helping me narrow down what population groups I might want to work with in the near future."

Carolyn Moore, Residential Counselor at Sullivan, said that Freiburger is a very good intern with a nice personality and an eagerness to help out.

"The kids enjoy her very much," said Moore. "Her schedule is limited because of her classes, but she even came in one day when she wasn't scheduled to help us out because we were in a pinch. She is very dedicated."

The staff, children and families have enjoyed and benefited from these two interns, and we hope that we have somehow contributed to their education and success in the human services field.

PARENT COMMITTEE RAISES FUNDS AND SPIRITS

The Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) at the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center is having a busy 1993. So far this year PAC has had two staff appreciation days, is holding a raffle and collecting Campbell's company product labels. The funds collected from the raffle will be used for repair and replacement of playground equipment and much-needed classroom supplies, and the labels can be turned in for playground and classroom equipment.

PAC, which is made up of two co-chairs and a parent representative from each of the classrooms at the Wagner Center, is a parent organization which raises money for the Center's needs, and also is active in Center management issues.

For several years, PAC has sponsored Staff Appreciation Days for Center staff. On these days parents either have a special lunch for staff or little gifts and refreshments, just something to let staff know they are appreciated.

PAC held its first fund-raising event in 1991. With the Walmart Foundation matching funds, the PAC raised $1,590. This year, again with the help of Walmart, they hope to raise $4,000.

And last, but not least, PAC is collecting assorted Campbell's product labels to turn in for classroom and playground equipment. The kind of equipment they get will be decided by the number of labels they collect.

They need labels from Campbell's soups, and the following product labels can be turned in for double bonus points: Campbell's Cream of Chicken, Cream of Mushroom, Cream of Broccoli, Tomato, Chicken Noodle, Chicken Broth, Chicken with Rice, Broccoli Cheese or Vegetable Beef soups; Campbell's Chunky New England Clam Chowder; Franco American Spaghetti O's or Beef Gravy; Campbell's Pork & Beans; Prego Spaghetti Sauce (regular or with mushrooms, 30 oz. jar only); Campbell's Tomato Juice (46 oz. can only); V8 Vegetable Juice (46 oz. can only); Swanson's Chunky White Chicken; or Swanson's Frozen Turkey or Salisbury Steak Dinners (UPC Proofs of Purchase only).

Anyone wishing to collect and send labels can mail the by August 30, 1993 to: PAC Labels, L.C. Wagner FCDC, P.O. Box 209, Barium Springs, NC 28010-0209.

DEDICATED STAFF HELP CHILDREN & FAMILIES

Emphasis was based on the six stages of the mediation process and how to write a "good" agreement.

Drake said that the training, which consisted of 21 hours of classroom time and 9 hours of lab experience, has already proved invaluable to him and he hopes to share what he has learned with the other residential coordinators and counselors.

"In our job we mediate every day," said Drake. "This training gives some very helpful tactics and really teaches us how to be effective listeners". He has already used mediation tactics 5 or 6 times within his cottage to solve problems between some of the youth.

"I used some mediation tactics with two boys who were arguing over some personal property. They wrote up an agreement together, and the few times when they've started arguing again, they've successfully reverted to their agreement and worked things out between themselves. "

Hartness has been a volunteer for PMCI for several years and is a member of their Lion & Lamb Association (volunteers who have given 100 hours in one year). Robert Pinkney, Adolescent Center Night Supervisor, is currently taking the training.

Polly Roberts, Diana Sweezy and Nancy Knight, all teachers at the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center, recently completed the course Child Care Credential I and have begun Child Care Credential II. By successfully completing both parts of this course, an individual will qualify for the North Carolina Child Care Credential presented by the North Carolina Day Care Section in Raleigh.

Fran Oliver, Director of the Wagner FCDC, recently completed the instructor training for the Child Care Credential courses and will begin teaching the courses at a local community college in the near future.

Kim Mitcham, Secretary/-Receptionist for the Wagner FCDC, has earned the designation of Certified Professional Secretary (CPS) from Professional Secretaries International (PSI).

The CPS rating indicates that an individual has achieved a standard of tenure, performance, education, knowledge and service to the profession. Attaining the rating may allow an individual to enhance salary opportunities, earn college credits toward a degree or upgrade to higher level positions.

These are just a few examples of dedicated staff who constantly try to better themselves in an effort to have more to offer the youth and families they serve here at Barium Springs Home for Children.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

1993 GRADUATES REVEAL PLANS

Congratulations to Duane Dunston and Angela Harlan of the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) Program upon their graduation from South Iredell High School.

Both Duane and Angela came to the PAL program from the Adolescent Center. Their goals: to learn to be independent; to graduate from high school; and to eventually go to college.

Angela said she likes the PAL program because it has given her the chance to learn independence. School and a part-time job kept her busy learning many of the skills she will need for life on her own, and she still managed to make the Varsity Wrestling team. Unfortunately, she suffered a dislocated elbow halfway through the season and was sidelined.

Once summer is over, Angela, equipped with new abilities, hopes to be able to live with her mother for a time. She is interested in drama, and would like to study drama in college.

Duane also had a busy school year. He had a part-time job at a local hospital, and was a sports trainer for South Iredell's basketball and track teams, and for the conference champion football team.

LIFE IS FULL OF CHOICES, CHANCES

Duane Dunston came to the Adolescent Center in 1990 with a dim view of life. He came from a family where no one had ever graduated from high school because they had always had to drop out to get work to help support the family. What little self-confidence he did have had been undermined by others who made fun of him because of a skin condition. If you had told him he was going to have the opportunity to go to college one day, he wouldn't have laughed at you ... he would have looked at you as if you were stark raving mad.

But today Duane is a high school graduate preparing for his first semester at Pfeiffer college. He said that Barium Springs staff helped him to learn how to deal with life. He didn't realize things could be different for him until he came here. He realizes now that life offers many choices, and that you have to be willing to take a chance on making the right choice in order to succeed.

"I took a chance by coming to Barium Springs to see if things could be different for me, and now they are," said Duane. "I've found that

PAL TEACHES INDEPENDENCE

The Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program is a place where youngsters 16 to 20 years old can live and learn to be independent while finishing high school, getting their GED or beginning college.

Sometimes, due to a myriad of circumstances, a young person is unable to continue living at home, or is unable to return home after a stay in a hospital, juvenile detention, or residential facility. If this youth is 16 or older, group care or foster care may not provide the skills necessary

BARIUM MESSENGER

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

Back to School!

August, 1993

We have an epidemic on our campus!

No, it's not chicken pox or measles, but it is a condition that we must combat--and we need your help!

The symptoms of this disease are quite varied. Victims may suffer from feelings that range from mild excitement to overwhelming exuberance or from simple dread to downright hate!

This raging epidemic is none other than the Back-to-School Butterflies! Remember all of the mixed emotions that you had every year about this time . . . wanting more vacation, but looking forward to seeing your friends--hating the thoughts of studying, but loving the anticipation of school related activities.

Well, in addition to these "normal" anxieties, the girls & boys here at Barium Springs Home for Children are often troubled by memories of failures that they have experienced at school. As you can imagine, when a family was going through a period of crisis, school became the least of a child's worries.

As we try to deal with such feelings, the best help that we have found is a few extra doses of love and understanding as well as some very special confidence-building remedies.

A gift from you now might help reduce the children's anxiety and maintain the efficiency of their educational programs. Children here average two months gain for every month in school. They need your help with school supplies if they are to keep making this great progress.

Since you have shown a special concern for the children in the past, it seems natural to turn to you when we need help. We appreciate your support as we seek to replace the Back-to-School Butterflies with feelings of contentment, self-assurance and love.

For God's special children,

you can try, and maybe fail, or you can not try, and definitely fail ... ask, and maybe be told no, or not ask and the answer automatically be no. I'd much rather take a chance on failing than never try".

During his stay at Barium, Duane has faced many choices and taken chances that led to some very positive experiences. When he came to the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) Program two years ago, he didn't even want to go to South Iredell High School. He wanted to get his GED through a local community college. "I was afraid to go back into public school, because I was afraid to fail," said Duane.

It was at South Iredell that he met three teachers who truly inspired him ... Mr. Gary Sherrill, Coach Bill Mayhew and Mr. Brady Johnson. Duane felt that all three of these teachers were real friends to him. He said that they gave him straightforward answers to his questions, encouraged his dreams and were always there to lend him a helping hand. "Those three men proved to me that there are good people out there," said Duane. "You just have to take a chance and get to know them."

While at South Duane asked if he could be a sports trainer for one of the high school teams. Taking that chance opened up many opportunities for him, such as being a trainer for the Faculty Championships teams in basketball and track, the Coach's Basketball team and the County Track team, as well as receiving the Outstanding Trainer Award from South Iredell High School. Duane also attended a Trainers Clinic at Greensboro College last summer, and will be a trainer at Pfeiffer College this fall.

Duane volunteered at a local hospital last summer, and this led to part-time employment during the school year. He also taught art classes for two hours a day at the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Center Schools last summer and designed the Senior T-Shirts for South.

His experiences as Company First Sergeant in the ROTC at South taught him to have discipline and respect, as well as leadership skills and self-confidence. It also gave him the opportunity to attend a camp this Spring which gave him an idea of what military life would be like.

Duane definitely has more confidence in himself and in his future since coming to Barium Springs. He realizes he still has a long hard road ahead of him, but he feels better equipped to deal with the hills and potholes that might come along.

"I heard a quote once that I've adopted as my philosophy of life," said Duane. "'Men look at things the way they are now, and ask why. I dreamed of things that weren't and asked why not.' I've learned that I'm the one who makes things happen in my life. I can't wait for someone else to make things happen for me."

Duane's advice to others in his situation: "Get involved in a worthwhile activity. Get involved in school. Stay out of other people's business. Be yourself—being someone else doesn't get you anywhere. Have your own personal dreams—don't live someone else's, and have the determination to fulfill them. Realize that nothing is impossible and find a way. There is always someone willing to help if you just ask! Don't ever just give up! Don't be afraid to ask questions - the stupidest question in the world is the one that's never asked."

to be independent in a few short years. The PAL program, located in Howard Cottage at the Adolescent Center, provides this youth with a place to live, food to eat and counseling, while also teaching some basic skills in independence.

PAL residents attend school while, if possible, working at part-time jobs. They have cottage chores and responsibilities which teach them housekeeping skills such as cooking, cleaning, laundry, and grocery shopping, to name a few. They learn how to search for jobs, colleges or apartments. Once they have found these things, they learn how to fill out applications and prepare for interviews.

They also learn things which many adults take for granted, like how to open a checking or savings account; how to get a telephone connected; and how to read a map. There are some things they learn which most people have difficulty with, like how to look for and buy a car, or how to budget their money.

Whatever the reason for not returning home, PAL staff encourage residents to maintain some kind of relationship with parents, siblings or extended family members. If a youngster comes to PAL with no family connection, staff try to help find one. We all need roots, so if no suitable relative is found, staff help the youngster come to terms with this.

Success in the PAL program is defined by the individual young people who live there. To some of these youngsters, success is moving into their own apartment, working, going to college or getting their GED. To others, success is cooking a meal that doesn't come frozen and ready to microwave. And still to others, success is making it through the day with food in their stomach, a warm place to sleep, and clothes on their backs. This last group, with their basic need now met, can look towards other successes in their lives, such as school, a job, and eventually, their future.

He was named Outstanding Trainer of the Year at South and received a letter jacket. He was also inducted into the Statesville Black Education Honor Society.

Duane was a Company First Sergeant in the ROTC program at South. "ROTC helps you develop discipline, leadership, respect and self-confidence," said Duane. "It taught me to take a chance on things ... to follow instructions and to listen." Duane spent a week at Quantico Marine Base in Virginia this Spring for an orientation to life on a Marine Corps Base. Though it taught him a lot, he doesn't think he will choose a career in the military. He plans to attend Pfeiffer College in Misenheimer beginning this Fall, and get a degree in either Sports Medicine or Business.

TRAINING HELPS STAFF, RESIDENTS

Providing the best services possible to help troubled North Carolina youth and their families is a primary goal of Residential Services at Barium Springs Home for Children. Designing and providing training appropriate to their unique needs helps staff make the most of a child's and families' experience here.

Residential staff completed a seven-part social work seminar relative to the residential group care setting. The training focused on the similarities and differences between the jobs of a social worker in the public sector, such as residential group care. The series also helped our staff learn how to collaborate with other resources in child care, and it focused on the challenges of working with pre-teens and adolescents.

Terri Myers, a Social Worker in the Adolescent Center, said that the information she gained during this seminar is already helping her in her work. "An article on adoption I received at one of the workshops helped me pinpoint the root causes of the behaviors of two children in my cottage," said Myers. "By sharing the article with their families I was able to help them understand the emotional turmoil going on in their children. One of these children is making a marked turn-around because we are now focusing on the right issue."

Rochelle Haimes, Vice President, Services at Barium, provided background for the series in an Introduction to Social Work in Residential Group Care. Pat Snider, Social Work Supervisor, Iredell County, DDS, discussed The Public Sector: County Department of Social Services. J. Parker McLendon, Executive Director of the North Carolina Child Care Association, presented The Private Sector Serving North Carolina Children and Families. Alistair Evans, Director of the ACT program, led a session on Helping. Dr. Jim Powell and Brenda Martin of Carolina Psych. Group, described the Developmental Milestones of Pre-Adolescents and Adolescents. Dr. Arthur E. Keily,

M.D., Director of The Adolescent In-Patient Services at Bowman Gray Medical Center, discussed the Psychopathology of Pre-Adolescents and Adolescents. Kay Donley-Zeigler of the National Resource Center for Special Needs Adoption described the need for The Family Connection.

The Home sincerely appreciates the presenters whose time and talents contributed to this seminar series. The children and families we serve are the real benefactors of their efforts.

FORMER RESIDENT GOES TO FRANCE

Larry Buie, a former Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) resident and a student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, participated in a summer study abroad program at the University of Paris - Sorbonne.

Buie, who lived at the PAL program from 1989 until his high school graduation in 1991, is majoring in French at UNC-CH. This is his second trip to France, the first taking place the summer of 1990. Thanks to several donors who sent contributions, he participated in an educational and cultural trip sponsored by the American Council for International Studies.

Only 20 students were allowed to participate in this recent trip, which lasted from June 1 to July 1. Buie will receive six hours of credit from UNC-CH for this trip, three for an extensive language course he took while he was there, and three for a series of lectures concerning French culture and civilization.

Buie graduated in the top sixth of his class at South Iredell High School. He is receiving tuition assistance from the Home through its Higher Education Fund, and still keeps in touch with staff. On a postcard from France he wrote:

"Barium Springs has given me so much knowledge and influenced my life in immeasurable ways. I miss you all."

Reverend William J. Cowfer

MORE HELP FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES

Barium Springs is proud to announce that the Reverend William J. Cowfer will be joining our staff. The Rev. Cowfer will be the Financial Resources Associate. In times of rising program costs to meet the needs of troubled children and families, Cowfer will bring significant skills to help lead the agency in the early years of its second century of service. The Home is grateful to the Duke Endowment of Charlotte for helping to make this expansion possible.

Reade Baker, Vice President of Financial Resources, said, "I'm excited about Bill joining our team. With rising costs and declining support from the church, Bill will be a big help as we make every effort to better communicate the needs of our young people and the Home to our church and donor families. Too many great things are happening here for troubled children and families for us to not make every effort to continue to meet their needs."

The Reverend Cowfer recently completed a phase of the Bicentennial Campaign in Coastal Carolina Presbytery. He has been an important part of many similar campaigns for the General Assembly and other synods and presbyteries across the country. He will focus his time for Barium Springs in the Salem and New Hope Presbyteries and plans to relocate to the Greensboro/Winston Salem area.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 70

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, FALL 1993

No. 4

TRIPS MEAN GETTING AWAY, HAVING FUN

The stress of today's world affects young people as much as it affects adults, perhaps even more. This is especially true for young people at Barium Springs.

Though stress from family problems may be relieved a bit when children come into care here, a different kind of stress is introduced ... that of being in a strange place, surrounded by different people. Also, the old stress usually returns rather quickly, for two main reasons. First, being away from home doesn't eliminate the problems, and second, they are here to try to begin finding solutions to those problems, and that means thinking about them and discussing them just about every day.

One of the best ways to alleviate stress, or at least change it, is a vacation! One, two or three days away from school and campus can do wonders for the attitudes and self-esteem of these young people.

The trips taken this summer range from camping overnight on the grounds to spending three days at the beach. Most of the girls and boys went to Carowinds this year. Some went to Cherokee where they toured a Cherokee Village, went white-water rafting, tubing, shopping, took a train ride, and more! Others went the opposite direction and spent a few days on the coast where they toured

LET ME CALL YOU SWEETHEART

Will you be our Valentine??? Food Lion's "Community Way Days" project begins on Valentine's Day in 1994. Shop Food Lion on February 14, 15, or 16 and be a sweetheart to the children and families of Barium Springs.

North Carolina Presbyterians may shop twice at any North Carolina Food Lion during these three days in February, and turn in up to two cash register receipts to their Presbyterian Church. Also, each Presbyterian may ask one friend who is not Presbyterian to shop at Food Lion during those three days and turn in two of their friend's receipts as well.

It is as simple as doing your weekly grocery shopping at Food Lion on one of these three days, writing your name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the back of your receipt and turning it in to your Presbyterian Church. If you are already a donor to the Home, you may send your receipts directly to us. Whichever you choose, it is an easy way to help the children, because for every receipt turned in, Food Lion will donate 5% of the total (before tax) to the Home.

The project's rules state: 1. only North Carolina Presbyterians and their friends may participate; 2. each Presbyterian must sign their name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the back of their Food Lion cash register receipts before turning them in to their Presbyterian Church; 3. each friend, or non-Presbyterian, must sign their name, the name of the person they shopped for and BSHC.

North Carolina Presbyterian Churches will receive information at a later date on how to collect and total receipts. Other project rules stipulate that Presbyterians are not to solicit receipts from non-eligible customers, either inside or outside the store. Also, no boxes are to be

OFFERING IS VERY NEAR

The Annual Thanksgiving Offering for the Presbyterian Churches in the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic, USA is once again at hand. Funds from the offering are to be divided among Barium Springs Home for Children, Presbyterian Home and Family Services, Inc., Presbyterian Children's Home of the Highlands, Inc., Edmarc Hospice for Children, and Volunteer Emergency Families for Children.

Please remember that the funds raised from this offering are very important to the children at Barium Springs and these other four child care agencies within the Synod boundaries. The offering will be taken up through local churches, who are to send the monies to their Presbyterial treasurer for remittance to Synod.

Any contributions mailed directly to the Home which contain any reference to the "Thanksgiving Offering" will be forwarded to Synod.

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
President

To the Barium Alumni upon the dedication of their monument to the memory of the original Little Joe's Church:

Someone has suggested that we erect monuments, not to honor events or even to honor people, but to honor our own memories. That seems entirely appropriate at this time. So let this monument be a sign to all who come after you that you passed this way and the memories of that passing still strengthen and sustain you.

MONUMENT DEDICATED AT HOMECOMING

The Barium Springs Alumni Association erected a monument to the original Little Joe's Presbyterian Church and dedicated it at Homecoming on August 7, 1993.

To the right, the monument is being placed on the site where the original church stood. The granite block has a laser-etched sketch of the original church on the front and weighs approximately 3,500 pounds.

Between 350 and 400 Alumni and their families attended Homecoming this year. They reminisced and enjoyed barbecue while renewing friendships. We look forward to their return in 1994.

In the words of the Prophet Joel, "Hear ye this ... all ye inhabitants of this land. Has this been in your days or even in the days of your fathers? Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation."

And to paraphrase the Prophet Isaiah, "May you go out with joy, and be led forth in peace: may the hills break forth in singing, and all of the trees of the field clap their hands ... and may this monument be an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off."

And we might add, "May all who come this way be invited to drink deeply from your cup of memories ... and be refreshed."

BARIUM MESSENGER

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Giving Life Insurance to Benefit Children

Many people give to a charity or institution such as Barium Springs Home for Children in response to an immediate need. Some people give because of ideological commitment. Still others give out of compassion. Whatever the reason, planned giving is essential for the programs at Barium Springs Home for Children.

There are a number of different gifting techniques that may be used. One popular gifting strategy is giving life insurance. A gift of life insurance offers a method for making a substantial future gift at a relatively small cost.

To give a gift of life insurance, you purchase a life insurance policy and name Barium Springs Home for Children as both the owner and beneficiary of the policy. Naming Barium Springs Home for Children as the owner and beneficiary effectively puts the insurance policy beyond your control. Since the policy is considered beyond your control, the premium payments you make may be deducted from your income taxes up to certain limits. Any amount that exceeds these limits may be carried forward for up to five years.

You may also donate a partially or fully paid up policy. In that case, you may deduct the cash surrender value of the donated contract, subject to the same limits and carry forward provisions.

If you wish, you can use a gift of life insurance to fund a charitable remainder trust. This will enable you to use your gift to provide income for your family if you or your spouse should die.

To implement this strategy, you would purchase a first-to-die policy and place it within a charitable remainder trust. Upon the death of the first spouse, the trust will receive the death benefit. This money will then be invested and the income generated will provide funds for the surviving spouse as long as he or she lives. Upon the death of the second spouse, Barium Springs Home for Children will receive the principal from the trust.

You must be aware that when you use a life insurance policy to fund a charitable remainder trust that you are retaining an income interest in the policy. For this reason, most of your current income tax deduction will be eliminated. You will in effect be trading an income tax deduction for future income for your family.

Using life insurance to make a donation to Barium Springs Home for Children may enable you to make a substantial future gift at a relatively small cost and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are making a difference in the lives of many young people.

For more information about these and other ways you can help yourself and children at the Home, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157, or use the envelope provided to return the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

historic sites and lazed on the beach. A Pre-Adolescent Center cottage has formed its own Boy Scout Troop and went on five camping trips this past year to places like Grandfather Mountain and Gardner Webb. Mini-trips included lunch and a ride on the Catawba Queen Paddleboat on Lake Norman, a day at Celebration Station Fun Park, swimming in Lake Norman, and a trip to get new hair cuts and styles.

Some of these young people have never been on a "real" vacation with their families and had no idea what to expect. Staff make sure that the youth learn new skills by participating in the planning and budgeting aspects of a trip. This enables the youth to make reasonable suggestions for possible family trips or activities when they return home.

Work and school schedules make it difficult to plan a trip in the Home's Preparation for Adult Living Program. They have part-time jobs during the school year and usually full-time jobs in the summer (unless they are attending classes). Like the real world, it is very difficult to fit a vacation into their various schedules. Their solution was to camp out overnight on campus, and they had a grand time!

These kinds of activities bring a group, or family closer together. Going white-water rafting gave one group of boys the experience of working together as a team. This experience could help them participate in solving problems with their families or in cottage groups. It also helps them trust others and value their input.

But most of all, everyone just had a lot of fun! They had time to get away, and come back refreshed and ready to start anew.

placed inside or outside the store to collect receipts from their members or friends. Any violation of these rules could disqualify the Home from this project, thus denying the children of this valuable opportunity for support.

Please address any questions about the project to the Home at 704/872-4157, and not to Food Lion Store employees.

The Home has participated in this project for three years, generating three generous gifts from Food Lion totaling $31,000. The check we receive from Food Lion depends directly on your participation, so we both invite you and challenge you to play Cupid in 1994 for the girls and boys at the Home! Please think of them when you think of your loved ones this Valentine's Day.

STEWART WELCOMED AS NEW DIRECTOR

Mr. Frank D. Stewart was welcomed aboard as the Director of Residential Services on October 25. Stewart takes the place of Mr. Abe Wilkinson, who resigned in June to accept a position as Executive Director of the Aidmore Children's Center in Conyers, GA. Mr. Robert Pinkney, a staff member of the Adolescent Center since 1979, was the Interim Director of Residential Services from June until October 25.

Stewart held a variety of positions at Tri-County Mental Health for ten years, and most recently has been a Human Resource Specialist in the Personnel Department of a local manufacturing company. He has a Masters of Divinity in Pastoral Studies with a concentration in counseling and administration and an undergraduate degree in Education from Appalachian State University.

His excellent experiences will greatly contribute to the children, families, and staff of the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid Atlantic

VOL. 71 BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, WINTER 1994 No. 1

SPECIAL FUNDS BRING HAPPINESS, CHEER

Once again funds from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust enabled the girls and boys of the Home to have a sensational Christmas!

At the residential centers, staff had the funds to decorate the cottages, buy each of the young people a nice gift, have a pizza lunch for them, and take them out bowling. Funds were also used to purchase items for the children to enjoy in the cottages and school.

The L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center used their funds to purchase decorations for the center and to buy a nice gift for each child. The gifts were distributed to the children by "Santa" at the Christmas Open House.

Additional funds were used to purchase classroom and playground equipment for the enjoyment of the children.

Joseph F. Cannon, in a Will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer" to the children at Christmas time... a stipulation which, quite honestly, staff have a good time carrying out.

"Sometimes I'm not sure who enjoys it more, the staff or the children," said Fran Oliver, Director of the LC Wagner FCDC. Oliver explained that the staff have a great time picking out the toys, wrapping them and decorating the rooms. "It brings such joy to our hearts to be able to watch on a child's face the fascination as he or she helps decorate the tree... the concentration as that child makes a Christmas gift for mom or dad... the joy at ripping open a beautifully wrapped Christmas present and finding a very carefully chosen treasure. I have to admit that we do enjoy it just as much as they do!"

Many other friends of the Home, in addition to the Cannon Trust, also very generously helped the girls and boys here have a healthy, happy Holiday. To those friends, we haven't forgotten you! You will find yourselves listed in the "Special Thanks" column on page 6.

TAX LAW EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1994

For cash and non-cash gifts of $250 or more, the IRS now requires donors to have a "written acknowledgement" or their charitable deduction will be disallowed. Cancelled checks are no longer adequate. Also required in the "written acknowledgement" is a statement indicating if the donor "provided any goods and services in consideration, in whole or in part", for the cash or non-cash contribution. Your Barium Springs receipt meets this new requirement. If you are eligible to claim deductions for charitable gifts, be sure to save receipts.

RESIDENTIAL POSITIONS ARE FILLED

As mentioned in the Fall, 1993 Barium Messenger, Frank Stewart was welcomed to the position of Director of Residential Services in September. Since then, one vacant administrative position has been filled and another has been added to provide necessary support.

These two positions have been filled with present staff. Robert Pinkney, former Night Supervisor and Interim Director from June until September, has assumed the position of Assistant Director of Residential Services. Vaughn McAlister, former Title I Resource Teacher, has assumed the new position of Assistant Director of Educational Services.

Joyce Taylor, employee of six years, has been appointed to the position of Night Supervisor, and as yet the search for a Title I Resource Teacher is still taking place.

Stewart said he looks forward to working with Pinkney, McAlister, and Taylor in these new positions, and felt that they would provide valuable knowledge and support to him.

HOME COMING 1994

August 6th and 7th

Dear Alumni, families, and friends: Please join us this year for a lot of fun!

... Or
Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
President

Donna isn't walking this morning.

Most mornings when I arrive, Donna is walking—shedding a few extra pounds—staying in shape—walking about the campus—but not today.

Donna isn't helping the young people in the Preparation for Adult Living Cottage learn how to balance a checkbook, purchase groceries, plan for getting a job, apply for college—not today.

Donna won't come bouncing through the office with that "ain't-life-great" smile and "let's-get-it-done" demeanor — not today.

No, Donna isn't walking today — Donna Forte, colleague and friend, died in her sleep last night of a massive heart attack. She was thirty-three.

In the midst of our grief, we must remember to give thanks for her six years among us—for if we fail to remember, Donna will never walk this campus again.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Charitable Gift = Prescription for Healthy Retirement Savings!

W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources

The Situation

Dr. Thomas Caldwell, 50, is a family-practice physician with a successful private practice. He and his wife, Mary, 49, have a daughter, Barbara, who is in her final year of medical school. Both Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell have been active in supporting Barium Springs Home for Children for many years.

Now that their daughter is nearing graduation, the Caldwells are beginning to think about retirement. Fortunately, they just made their last mortgage payment and can look forward to more spendable income. Almost overnight, they have more money to spend than they've enjoyed in a long time.

The Objectives

Dr. Caldwell has been setting aside money in this qualified retirement plan but is wondering if it will provide adequate income. The Caldwells now think that, with more money in their pockets, they can put aside an additional $30,000 a year to supplement his qualified plan.

At the same time, they want to give something back to their community. Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell would like to show their gratitude by making a gift to Barium Springs Home for Children.

They have been considering purchasing a variable annuity. It will help achieve their retirement objectives but will not create a charitable gift. The planned giving office at Barium Springs Home for Children explained how Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell could establish a charitable remainder trust (CRT) that would maximize their assets and achieve four objectives:

- (1) Create a flexible source of increased income at retirement.
- (2) Create tax deductions for added retirement savings.
- (3) Leave as much to their daughter as she would have received from their variable annuity.
- (4) Give more than $900,000 to Barium Springs Home for Children.

When the Caldwells saw the advantages of a CRT over a variable annuity, they decided to seize their opportunity by following the steps shown:

1. Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell decide to set aside a total of $30,000 per year to provide supplemental retirement benefits plus an insurance policy. They set up a CRT and contribute $23,235 per year into the trust. The remaining $6,765 is used to purchase a last survivor insurance policy in the amount of $750,000. The premiums continue for eight years, based on current interest assumptions. After the insurance policy is paid up, the entire $30,000 is put in the CRT.
2. The annual trust contributions continue to age 65. Each annual contribution creates a partial income tax deduction for Dr. Caldwell. All income from the trust is deferred until retirement. The total contribution to the CRT will be $395,880.
3. At retirement Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell receive income from the trust to meet their lifestyle needs for as long as either one of them is alive. They control the amount and timing of the income so they can coordinate it with other resources.
4. When Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell die, the trust will pay over $900,000 to Barium Springs Home for Children.
5. The Caldwell's daughter will receive $750,000 from a life insurance trust that will be free to both income and estate tax.

1993 CHILDREN'S TRUST FOUNDATION MEMBERS

Every penny that comes to the Home is critical in meeting the needs of today's children and families. Over the last 100 years, thousands of lives have changed because people have invested in young people and families that need help.

Although all gifts are important, some individuals, foundations and corporations have taken a leadership role in meeting these needs. The Children's Trust Foundation is the funding arm of the Home and is supported by annual gifts of $100 to over $25,000. This support is the active participation that makes all the positive influence that occurs here possible.

The following list of Children's Trust Annual Members recognizes those exceptional investors that exemplify the loving, giving spirit which has sustained this mission for over 100 years.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

FORMER RESIDENT TO STUDY IN FRANCE

Former Barium resident Larry Buie has been selected to study at the Universite De Montpellier in Southern France for the 1994-95 school year. A rising Junior at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Buie was one of five students selected for the program, which is sponsored by the UNC-CH's Department of Romance Languages.

Buie was a resident of the Preparation for Adult Living Program in the Adolescent Center for three years. He graduated from South Iredell High School in 1991, and with assistance from the Home's Higher Education Fund, has been attending UNC-CH. He is double majoring in French and Spanish.

LARRY W. BUIE

No stranger to France, Buie has made two educational/cultural trips there in the past four years. In 1990 he went as part of a cultural exchange with South Iredell High School. In 1993 (the summer between his freshman and sophomore years at UNC) he received college credit for a month-long intensive language course in France.

Where did he develop such an interest in France and its language? Buie said he has always

McDANIELS COMPETES INTERNSHIP

Susan E. McDaniels, full-time teacher for the after-school program at the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center, recently completed an internship at the Adolescent Center.

Susan will graduate in August of this year with a B.A. in Human Services from Gardner Webb College. Part of her requirements was to work a 90 hour internship in a field related to her degree.

Susan chose to approach the Adolescent Center for several reasons. The obvious one is that she already works on campus at the day care. The other reason was that she felt she wanted to eventually work with adolescents in the social work field, so it seemed an internship there would give her some insight and experience.

It did! She worked eight-hour shifts with Social Workers Donna Osborne and Terri Myers, of Sanford and Goodman cottages. She was able to observe two home assessments, several interviews, treatment reviews and discharges, and she also spent some time in the classrooms.

Susan said that her experiences at the Adolescent Center assured her that she was headed into a field that was right for her. Though she isn't sure at this point

DAY CARE CELEBRATION

The L. C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center will be 25 years young in September, 1994! A celebration is being planned for the tentative dates of September 16 and 17, and we need your help!!

The celebration planning committee would like to decorate the fellowship hall at Little Joe's Church with then & now photos of former day care children and staff; favorite memories of children and staff; and "what I am doing now" stories. If you or your child attended the day care, please send us any such photos or memories you wish to share. Photos will be returned to you after the celebration.

Also, if you know of a family with a child who attended the day care, pass the word! If they want more information, they can contact

As the Home enters its 104th year, we wonder what has happened to the thousands of people who have passed this way. Occasionally, we hear from a former resident and learn that he or she has done well, and is grateful for having been here. Several months ago we received a letter which stated in part:

"I graduated from Barium... (and) would like to do something for a child that would... encourage Barium kids to pay greater attention to their studies. We do not want credit for the gift, neither in the announcement or in naming of the recipient."

After much correspondence, a state-of-the-art computer was received and awarded to Duane Dunston, a freshman at Pfeiffer College. While again insisting on anonymity, a note stated:

"... you might tell (the student) the computer came from a Barium alumni who, many years ago, was in a position much like his and who was given more than one opportunity to extend himself."

My personal thanks goes to the anonymous alumnus for this meaningful gift and to all the former residents who have made contributions in gratitude for what they received here. I appreciate their material support and their friendship which reminds us that we are the beneficiaries of all who passed this way before us.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Making Giving a Pleasure - Not a Chore

*W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources*

What motivates you to support Barium Springs Home for Children? Giving of our time and talents is an inherent characteristic of many people. However, we often fail to analyze our motivations. Ernest Becker, the noted theologian and scholar, has explored the psychological aspects of human motivation in many of his works. He believes that human beings are motivated primarily by a need to deal with their uniquely human knowledge of their impending death. Becker's central theme is that much human striving could be attributed to this struggle against this foreknowledge of death. In our search for the ultimate purpose and meaning in life, we seek to overcome the limits of our finite existence through leaving something behind. This craving is defined as "immortality striving".

Becker states, "What man really fears is not so much extinction, but extinction with insignificance. Man wants to know that his life has somehow counted, if not for himself, then at least in a larger scheme of things, that it has left a trace, a trace that has meaning." Your support of Barium Springs Home for Children leaves a trace... a trace that remains alive in eternity.

In America, we enjoy a quality of life that is unparalleled in the history of mankind. We also recognize there are substantial costs in providing these benefits. As long as we choose to be a member of this society, we realize that we must contribute, and we do this, primarily, in the form of taxes. However, many of us recognize the needs of our society and the needs of children could be more efficiently served by Barium Springs Home for Children. Unfortunately, most of us don't realize we have a choice; an option of choosing to pay a tax or funding an institution like Barium Springs Home for Children by making a tax-wise gift.

The freedom to give holds genuine appeal because it defines an activity which is completely voluntary and stands in stark contrast to the many things we must or must not do. With Congress passing new laws every year, who does not feel frustration from the growing regimentation of contemporary life? Charitable support moves from obligation to opportunity. Instead of being a chore to be avoided or undertaken reluctantly, giving becomes a choice with varied potential for reward.

How can we best satisfy our need for "immortality striving"? By making a gift to a charitable remainder trust, naming Barium Springs Home for Children as the ultimate beneficiary. If we elect to make our contribution to society in the form of taxes (which is involuntary), we have no control over who benefits. By utilizing a charitable remainder trust (which is voluntary) we will retain an income for life and specific control over who benefits. We will be able to define our legacy... a legacy we might not have thought possible.

For more information on the power of a Charitable Remainder Trust and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157, or use the envelope provided to return the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

loved literature and the arts. By the time he reached high school, he had become fascinated with European countries and culture because of their deep roots in fields he loved. Once he decided that he wanted to go to college, he considered a degree in comparative literature, but felt that a degree in languages would lend him more opportunities when it came to graduate school and career choices.

"My ultimate goal is to teach French on a college level," said Buie. The languages have given me so much. I'm very interested in helping others find the joy and satisfaction in them that they have given to me."

A very determined and dedicated young man, Buie already has plans to spend a semester in Spain and to write an Honor Thesis in French his Senior year. Then he would like to go on to graduate school and get his Doctorate in French.

"The main reason I'm so thrilled about being selected for this program abroad is that it could really help me when it comes to being accepted into graduate school," said Buie. "How much time you have actually spent in the country whose language you are studying makes a great deal of difference."

Buie was inducted into the French Honor Society at Chapel Hill on April 5, and he lives in the French House, a live-in learning program in Carmichael Dormitory on the campus. He made the Dean's List last semester, and currently has a 3.2 GPA.

Though Buie definitely has the grades and determination to do well in the Year Abroad program, he was afraid that his health might keep him from being accepted. Buie has Epilepsy, and even though he hasn't had a seizure for 22 months, he had to get his doctors to send a great deal of information about his health to the Year-Abroad program.

"I don't blame them for being wary," Buie said. "I guess they were afraid I'd get over there and something bad would happen to me and I, or my family, would try to sue the University or something. Once they researched my medical history, I think they realized it wasn't likely. But I was sure afraid, there for a while, that they wouldn't accept me."

Buie realizes that without Barium Springs, he probably wouldn't even be in college. He is thankful it exists, and he is thankful for all of the donors who make it possible.

Besides Epilepsy, Buie has had one major hurdle to get over during his life to get to where he is now. That hurdle was his home situation. He came to live at the Preparation for Adult Living Program at Barium Springs in 1988.

"I was having some real problems at home, some that I was creating, and some my parents were," said Buie. "Being away from home with other people gave me not only a new perspective on life, but a wider perspective as well. The staff, especially Rochelle Haimes, Donna Forte, Deborah Johnson, and Lynn Gambel, made me take a long look at myself and what I wanted out of life. I'd never have had the motivation to accomplish the things I have without them."

"Being away from home also gave my parents an opportunity to work things out between themselves," said Buie. "The staff helped them, too. I always knew that I was very different from my parents, but at PAL I learned that it was okay, and that it didn't mean I didn't love them, I just couldn't live with them. The people there were, and are, the best influences I've ever had."

Buie said he still talks with Johnson and Gambel from time to time, and was in contact frequently with Donna Forte before her untimely death in January.

"It really knocked me for a loop," Buie said. "I couldn't even come to the memorial service they had for her. I guess I just didn't want to believe it was true. I don't think I'll ever forget the shock of realizing that one minute someone can be so young and full of life, and gone the next."

Buie has very frequent contact with Rochelle Haimes, Vice President of Services for the Home. Haimes administers the Higher Education Funds which Buie receives to attend UNC-CH.

"It makes me feel somewhat privileged to have someone like Rochelle that I can call when I have a problem and need someone to talk to. She's great."

Buie said that he feels like he knows more about life and about survival in the "real world" than his college friends, and he owes it all to his time at Barium Springs.

"I learned how to live on my own while I was at Barium," said Buie. "I knew that I was responsible for my actions and would suffer any consequences which resulted from them. My friends here had to go through all that after they got here, and as a result couldn't concentrate on their studies as well as I could. The things I learned at the PAL Program made the transition from living at 'home' to living 'on my own' very smooth. I learned not to be afraid to set goals for myself, because even if I set them too high, I can always step back, re-evaluate them, and set more realistic ones. Most people never set goals for themselves at all because they are afraid of failure. The things that frighten me are the things I may never get to try, but I might have been good at."

Buie said he realizes that without Barium Springs, he probably wouldn't even be in college. He is thankful that it exists, and he is thankful for all of the donors who make it possible. He recently wrote this note to staff and donors:

"My appreciation is immeasurable. Once again, thank you for allowing me to make my contributions to society. Without your help and guidance it would have all been impossible."

MCDANIELS COMPLETES INTERNSHIP

exactly what she will do upon graduation, she is sure that she wants to work somewhere like Barium Springs.

"The staff seemed to be really caring about the kids," said Susan. "They really wanted things to work out for them and their families. The social workers could spend more time with the family and be more like a friend to them because they don't have a huge caseload and because they work within a team in the cottage which gives them and the family support. It wasn't just a job to any of them."

Susan said that both the day care program and the Adolescent Center program impressed her with the way that they focused on the needs of the children, not how much their parent(s) could or could not pay.

"They look at the needs of the kid and the family first. They decide if the program at Barium could help them and then look at the financial situation," said Susan. "A lot of places seem to look at it in reverse."

Both of the Social Workers, Terry and Donna, had only good things to say about their experiences with Susan. They thought she was very eager and personable, and would do well in the human services field. They also felt that the internship was valuable to all parties involved, including the young people and families served by the Home.

"The internship served as a sneak peak for Susan as far as what it would actually be like to do social work," said Terry. "It introduced the residents to the experience of furthering education, and gave them a glimpse of what a person close to their own age can accomplish if they try. And it gave Donna and myself the opportunity to look at what we do from a fresh perspective."

Susan began working at the L.C. Wagner FCDC in December, 1991. She is from Iredell County and is the daughter of Robert and Elisabeth McDaniels. She said the other bonus about her internship was that all of the Adolescent Staff were so nice to her.

"I was worried at first that I'd be bothering people by always looking over their shoulder, or that I'd feel like a third wheel," said Susan. "But everyone, especially Terry and Donna, made me feel very good. They answered my questions and explained things with interest. I was very grateful that they accepted me so wholeheartedly."

As plans are made, we will be reporting on them in future editions of the Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian, in the Home's quarterly newsletter, the Barium Messenger, and through local newspapers and radio stations.

Please help make this a fun, interesting, and informative celebration. We are looking forward to comparing how day care was then to how it is now.

CAMPBELL SOUP LABEL CAMPAIGN A SUCCESS

The L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center's Campbell Soup label campaign has been a success, thanks to many individuals and church groups who saved their labels and sent them to the Home.

After turning in their labels, the Center had enough points to buy several items for the After-School program. They ordered two science kits on light and magnetism for the Science Centers; a set of 3 big prisms; and two official soccer balls.

Center Director Fran Oliver said she was pleasantly surprised to find that most of the labels they received were sent by people in response to an article in the Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian and in the Barium Messenger.

"I thought we would receive the bulk of our labels from parents and staff," said Oliver. "I think it is just wonderful that the people who read about it in the paper and newsletter thought enough of us to save their labels and send them to us. It just goes to show that there are a lot of good people out there!"

PARKER HONORED FOR 30 YEARS SERVICE

Linda S. Parker, Chief Book-keeper at Barium Springs, was honored in May for 30 years of excellent service to the Home.

On the evening of May 26, Mrs. Parker was surrounded by family and friends at a dinner held at Lineberger's Steak Barn. After dinner she was presented with a $100 gift certificate to Farm House

LINDA S. PARKER

Gardners (a favored store) and an engraved gift commemorating her 30 years of service to the Home.

On the morning of May 27, Mrs. Parker was honored with a tea. She displayed her gifts and was greeted by many co-workers, business acquaintances and alumni.

Mrs. Parker came to work at the Home on May 27, 1964, the day after graduating from Mitchell College. She worked in a secretarial position and eventually moved into the book-keeping department. She has had her current duties for the past 15 years.

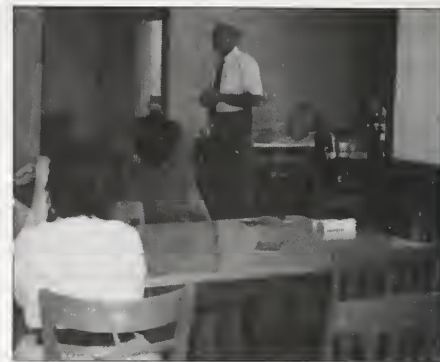

On April 15, 1986, Mrs. Parker was appointed to the position of Treasurer of the Board of Regents. In this position she presents a financial report to the Home at each of the Board's semi-annual meetings.

Mrs. Parker is the daughter of Lillie A. Shoemaker and the late Lathan R. Shoemaker. She and her husband, Jim, and their son, Corey, 14, live at Route 14, Statesville.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

GRADUATE MOTIVATED BY PAL

David Gordon, resident at the Preparation for Adult Living Program at the Adolescent Center, graduated June 3, 1994 from South Iredell High School.

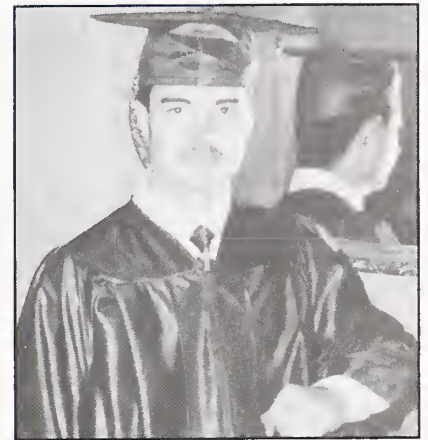

David, who came to the PAL program in January, said the staff there gave him the motivation he needed to graduate. He has also learned skills that will help him to eventually live on his own, such as how to use his money wisely.

David will continue to live at PAL and work full time this summer. He plans to attend Mitchell Community College next Fall, where he will study to become a Fireman or a Paramedic.

Since entering the PAL program, David hasn't had much time to be involved in anything but bringing up his grades. Before coming he played drums in his former school's marching band, and was a member of Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD).

Beth Barker, David's Social Worker at PAL, said she had never seen anyone work as hard as David did to get his grades up to graduate.

"He only came to the program in January," said Beth. "So he didn't have much time to get adjusted and accept the fact that he was the only one who could make the grades. He

HOMEcoming 1994

An open invitation to all Alumni, their families, and friends of the Home to come and join us this year for a lot of fun with one another!

Statistics from one presbytery indicate that 42% of its churches have less than 10 children, while 25% have no children. An official of another synod said to an official of the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic, "You people are on the cutting edge of de-stabilization."

Are these two observations connected in some fashion? Surely they must be. Yogi Berra just might have been right when he said, "The future ain't what it used to be."

BARIUM SPRINGS ALUMNI NEWS

On Saturday, September 17, there will be a "family carnival" at the day care with clowns, balloons, game booths, face painting, water sports, relay races and a "then and now" fashion show. The festivities will begin at 10:00 a.m., with a hot dog lunch being served from 11:30 to 1:00, and end at 2:00 p.m. The display at the Fellowship Hall will be open for viewing during the carnival.

If you or someone you know attended the day care, please come! For more information, contact L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center at 704/872-7351 or write to L.C. Wagner FCDC, PO Box 209, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010-0209.

Mrs. Teresa McLeod Tucker, Class of 1973, received the prestigious Honor Pin in June from the Catawba Valley Area Girl Scout Council which serves girls in Alexander, Ashe, Burke, Caldwell, Catawba, Iredell and Watauga Counties. The Honor Pin is given to a Girl Scout adult who has performed outstanding service above and beyond that expected of the position held.

Teresa is the Volunteer Director of the Iredell Service Unit and has been for the last four years. Under her direction the area now serves almost twice as many girls as when she took the helm. Teresa became a Girl Scout Volunteer eight years ago, has served as a Brownie and Junior Troop Leader, and presently leads Cadette Girl Scout Troop 175.

Teresa and her husband, Jeff and daughters, Amber and Ashley, reside in Statesville. She is employed full-time by the Village Place as an instructor.

Mrs. Robert (Eula Walton) Holton, Class of 1933, died on June 14, 1994, in Wilmington, at the age of 79. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Benson, also of Wilmington.

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through individuals, investments, fees, business firms, Synod, and church groups.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Where There's A Will — There's A Way

W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources

In recent years, much has been written and discussed about sound financial planning, including ways to increase earnings, minimize taxes and otherwise enhance our personal economic well-being.

For most of us, financial security is a primary concern, both now and in later years. It has been said that a person who fails to plan, plans to fail. Conserving and properly managing assets for the future can be as important and as challenging as acquiring them in the first place.

Through proper planning, you can assure that your loved ones and the young people at Barium Springs Home for Children will enjoy the full benefit of property intended to aid and support them.

The place to start is often with a carefully planned will. Much can be accomplished with this relatively simple tool, not the least of which is avoidance of needless expense and frustration for family members in the future.

A well planned will can include arrangements that enable you to avoid federal estate tax. It can also allow you to continue to exert control over your assets for many years.

A popular way of minimizing estate taxes is through the use of a "life income" will. A "simple will" usually leaves property outright to the recipient. A life income will is used to provide income for someone, usually a surviving spouse. At that person's death, the remainder would be donated to Barium Springs Home for Children to aid youth and families in our care. The donor would receive an estate tax deduction for his future gift.

Your will can also be a convenient vehicle for making a charitable gift outright. Sharing life's bounty with others such as needy children of families at the Home, in addition to family members, is a long-standing American tradition. The quality of life for all is enhanced as a result. In addition, the use of a charitable bequest by will is a thoughtful way to leave something of ourselves for future generations and insure that vital support will not cease.

Consider the following when including a charitable bequest in your will:

1. Most people have no way of knowing exactly how much their estate will be at death. To be sure charitable bequests will remain in proportion to other bequests, consider designating a percentage rather than a dollar amount.
2. Gifts of property are often just as welcome and helpful as gifts of cash. A house, farm, stocks, or bonds often make excellent gifts.
3. Name Barium Springs Home for Children your final beneficiary in the event direct beneficiaries predecease you.
4. Use our full, legal name to designate your charitable gift so confusion can be eliminated.
5. Consider a gift to Barium Springs Home for Children as a living memorial for a loved one.
6. Name the Home as a "residual beneficiary". This means if there is anything left after your estate has been distributed as you instructed, it will go to the children at Barium Springs.

Through proper planning, your will can provide tremendous flexibility in meeting your personal objectives, satisfying family needs, and sharing with troubled young people and families at Barium Springs Home for Children.

For more information on the power of a Charitable Remainder Trust and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157, or use the envelope provided to return the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

HAIMES RESIGNS TO BECOME CONSULTANT

ception she received an engraved desk clock and a gift certificate from an office supply store to help her set up her new office in Charlotte.

Mr. Earle Frazier, President of the Home, said that Haimes' reputation as an advocate and her dedication to building and maintaining quality services for troubled children and families is well-known in the field of child care in the southeast and nationally.

"Ms. Haimes' contributions to the Home and the community are too numerous to mention," said Frazier. "Let it suffice to say that she lent a dedication and professional air to the Home's services that is unprecedented. Her knowledge and energy will be sorely missed."

Originally from Pennsylvania, Haimes received her B. A. in 1963 from Barnard College of Columbia University, New York and her Master's in Social Work (MSW) in 1971 from Columbia University School of Social Work. She worked at Andrus Children's Home in Yonkers, N. Y. as a Child Care Worker and Social Worker from 1964 to 1973. She was Group Home Supervisor at Leake and Watts Children's home in Yonkers from 1973 to 1976; Director, Division of Community Care at Thompson Children's Home in Charlotte, 1976 to 1979; and Director of Clinical Services at Andrus Children's Home in Yonkers from 1979 to 1982. She came to Barium Springs in 1982.

Haimes is a member of the National Association of Social Workers and the Academy of Certified Social Workers. She has led numerous workshops and consulted with other agencies; has co-authored a book; been published in several journals; and has chapters included in two books. She has served on numerous committees and boards of child care organizations such as: the North Carolina Child Care Association; National Association of Homes and Services for Children; Council on Accreditation; Children's Home Society; and the University of North Carolina School for Social Work.

As if all of these commitments were not enough, Haimes has also served as a volunteer with the Iredell-Statesville United Way. Since 1986 she has been a volunteer in the Public Service Division; Chaired the Troutman and the Classified Business Divisions; served twice on the Board of Directors; and been Vice-President for Distribution on the Executive Committee.

The Board of Regents, staff, children and families send their sincere thanks to Ms. Haimes for her years of dedicated service, and also their best wishes for a successful future.

came around fast, and once he made up his mind, the teachers at South spent all kinds of time with him after school to help him along. They were wonderful, and so was he."

The PAL program is designed for youth 16 - 20 years old who technically do not have a home, or whose home circumstances are such that it would not be in their best interests to return there.

Residents attend the local high school or community college, while working part-time jobs and learning skills that will help them eventually become independent. Staff teach residents about: managing money; bank accounts and loans; grocery shopping and cooking; job hunting and interviews; and other skills they will need when they are on their own.

But it doesn't stop there. Residents can apply for higher education funds to help them with college or vocational school tuition and supplies. Staff are also available to former residents for guidance and counseling if the need arises.

Staff, residents and Board of Regents are proud of David for his hard work and dedication. We all wish him well as he begins his studies at college.

The four-year-olds at the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center graduated in June complete with cap, gowns, diplomas and a reception. They will start Kindergarten in the Fall. Kenny Sargent has a big smile for his mom as he marches down the aisle to receive his "diploma".

CALLING ALL PROGRAM COMMITTEE CHAIRS

Have we got a deal for you? In fact, we really do. No charge... no passing plate... no hard sales; just an informative program about the history of your mission here at Barium Springs.

We have staff available to speak anywhere with any size group about the children and families here, the services offered, where the money comes from and goes, and answer questions. A nine minute slide program helps with the presentation and can also be sent by itself if you don't believe the "no passing the plate" part above.

Just call 704/872-4157 to arrange a program or a tour of campus. (Be sure to ask for Reade if you're serving food at the meeting.)

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid Atlantic

VOL. 71 BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, FALL 1994 No. 4

HOMEcoming, 1994

Hugs, kisses, tears, laughter... memories, catching-up, families, sight-seeing... eating, dancing, playing, talking. All these things and so much more were evident during the weekend of August 6 and 7, 1994, when over 450 Alumni of Barium Springs Home for Children attended Homecoming on the Barium Campus.

"These are my brothers and sisters," said one Alumna. "It is like coming to a big family reunion every year. You meet one or two people you haven't seen since you were a little girl, just like you have found a long-lost cousin."

The difference is, of course, that most of these people aren't blood-

REMEMBER CHILDREN AT THANKSGIVING

The annual Thanksgiving Offering for the Presbyterian Churches in the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic, USA is almost here. Funds from the offering are to be divided among Barium Springs Home for Children, Presbyterian Home and Family Services, Inc., Presbyterian Children's Home of the Highlands, Inc., Edmarc Hospice for children, and Volunteer Emergency Families for Children.

Please remember that the funds raised from this offering are very important to the children at Barium Springs and at the other four child care agencies within the Synod Boundaries. The offering will be taken up through local churches who are to send the monies to their Presbytery treasurer for remittance to Synod.

NEW DIRECTOR WELCOMED

Children, staff and the Board of Regents would like to say a fond farewell to Fran Oliver Threatte, Director of the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center from August 1988 to August 5, 1994, and to welcome Marilyn Yakimovich, who began as the Wagner Director on August 15th.

Fran was married on June 25, 1994 to John Threatte, who lives and works in Rock Hill, SC. The couple decided the commute to Barium was too much for Fran, so after a brief respite from the working world, Fran plans to look for employment closer to her new home.

At a reception in her honor on her last day at the Wagner Center, Fran expressed her mixed feelings about looking forward to her new life as a married person, and regretting having to leave her friends and colleagues at the Center. She will be sorely missed, but we who know her are sure she will shine wherever she is. Her next

All who pass this way leave their footprints on the lives of all of us. We recently said "Good-bye" to Frances Oliver Threatte, Director of the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center. Fran resigned after six years to move to Rock Hill with her new husband, John. As much as we miss Fran, we wish them the very best.

Fran was not the kind to call attention to herself. Quite the contrary. Yet, her tender mark will remain with the hundreds of children who came through the Center during her time with us.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

How 1993 Tax Law Changes Affect Giving

*W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources*

When the 1986 Tax Reform Act eliminated many income tax deductions and curtailed others, the deduction for charitable gifts emerged virtually unscathed. And while the decade of the 1980's has been characterized as "greedy", charitable giving grew substantially. In 1989 alone, over $104 billion was given to more than 500,000 charitable organizations in the United States.

The motivation behind giving to Barium Springs Home for Children is more than tax savings. But with the new Federal tax brackets of 36% and 39.6% created by Congress in 1993, and with the top estate tax bracket remaining at 55%, the charitably inclined person should be aware of how tax savings reduce the net cost of gifts.

The most common reasons for gifting to Barium Springs Home for Children include the following:

1. Having the satisfaction of knowing Barium Springs Home for Children will have the use of the property or assets given. This may be accomplished through lifetime gifting or through testamentary transfer at death.
2. Lifetime gifts of appreciation property that are gifted to Barium Springs Home for Children remove all future appreciation of the property from the donor's gross estate, thereby preventing the donor's estate tax liability from increasing. If sufficient property is gifted during the donor's lifetime, the property removed from the estate can reduce the size of the taxable estate and thus reduce the estate tax liability.
3. Lifetime gifts of income-producing property can reduce the income tax liability of the donor. Since the donor irrevocably parts with legal title to the property, the income produced by the gifted property is taxable income to the donee, Barium Springs Home for Children.
4. A donor can either reduce the gift tax liability or avoid gift liability altogether by making lifetime gifts to Barium

Springs Home for Children. Gift tax liability can be reduced by having both spouses make a split gift; in addition, donors can avoid gift tax liability by taking advantage of the gift tax charitable deduction for gifts made to a qualified organization such as Barium Springs Home for Children.

If a donor wishes to reduce estate, gift and income taxes, the donor may wish to establish an estate plan that combines both lifetime gifts and testamentary transfers. The lifetime gifts can reduce income tax liability, while also reducing gift tax liability. Testamentary transfers can reduce or avoid estate tax liability. A careful examination of both types of techniques can maximize tax savings in all these areas.

The 1993 Tax Act also included a positive change for potential donors of appreciated property. This change involved the calculation of the alternative minimum tax (AMT) in relation to appreciated property. High bracket taxpayers usually have to calculate their taxes in two ways, called the regular tax and the AMT. The taxpayer pays whichever amount is higher. Some of the deductions against the regular tax cannot be offset against income under the AMT. For several years prior to 1993, donors who contemplated giving appreciated property to Barium Springs Home for Children could take an AMT deduction only for what they paid for the gift, not for what it was worth. Often, this would cause the AMT to be higher than the regular tax and the gift was not made. Now, the full fair market value of the gift is deductible against both regular and AMT income.

For more information on how gifting to Barium Springs Home for Children may help reduce your tax liability and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157, or use the envelope provided to return the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

HOME COMING SPECIAL

related. Even so, they love each other just as if they had the same mother and father.

Just like in families, there are fond and bitter memories, blessings and tragedies, good times and bad times. Alumni come back to see each other, talk over these events of their growing-up years, and to catch up with the happenings of the people they grew up with... people they consider to be "family".

"It is truly wonderful to witness the joy these people feel when they come together at Homecoming", said Earle Frazier, President of the Home. "In a lot of ways they are closer to each other than some brothers, sisters or cousins. Perhaps because they created these relationships and had to work at them rather than just being born into them. You don't choose your brother or sister or cousin; they are born, and that is that. But these relationships were chosen, and nurtured, and they continue to be nurtured."

An extra treat this year for some of the Alumni was meeting the grand-children of Joseph B. Johnston, Superintendent of the Home from 1922 to 1949. Mr. Johnston was a favorite of many of the Alumni. He passed away in 1951, just a few years after retiring. His children, who are all deceased were: James D. Johnston, Leila D. Johnston, Anne Johnston Morris, William (Bill) L.D. Johnston, Dr. Joseph B. Johnston, Jr. and Robert Johnston. A seventh child, a girl, died at a very young age.

Attending Homecoming this year were: Joe Jr.'s two daughters, Cynthia Johnston of Pacifica, CA and Elizabeth D. Johnston, of Herndon, VA, and his grand-daughter, Victoria Andrews; Bill's two daughters, Jane Donaldson of Sheffield, AL, and Mary Murphy of Idaho Falls, ID; Bob's daughter, Nancy Johnston, of New York City; and Anne's two sons, David Morris of O'Fallon, IL, and Joe Morris of Lafayette, CO, and her two grand-children, Joey and Brittney Morris.

MARK FEB. 13, 14, 15, 1995 ON CALENDAR

February 13, 14, and 15, 1995 are the days to shop at Food Lion next year of you wish to participate in "Community Way Days" for Barium Springs Home for Children.

It is an easy way to help the children at the Home, because for every Food Lion receipt turned in dated on one of those three days, Food Lion will donate 5% of the total (before tax) to the Home.

North Carolina Presbyterians may shop twice at any North Carolina Food Lion during these three days in February, and turn in up to two cash register receipts to their Presbyterian Church. Also, each Presbyterian may ask one friend who is not Presbyterian to shop at Food Lion during those three days and turn in two of their friend's receipts as well.

It is as simple as doing your weekly grocery shopping at Food Lion on one of these three days, writing your name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the back of your receipt and turning it in to your Presbyterian Church. If you are already a donor to the Home, you may send your receipts directly to us.

The project's rules state: 1. only North Carolina Presbyterians and their friends may participate; 2. each Presbyterian must sign their name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the back of their Food Lion cash register receipt before turning them into their Presbyterian Church; 3. each friend, or non-Presbyterian, must sign their name, the name of the person they shopped for and BSHC.

North Carolina Presbyterian Churches will receive information at a later date on how to collect and total receipts. Other project rules stipulate that Presbyterians are not to solicit receipts from non-eligible customers, either inside or outside the store. Also, no boxes are to be placed inside or outside the store to collect receipts from their members or friends. Any violation of these rules could disqualify the Home from this project, thus denying the children of this valuable opportunity for support.

Please address any questions about the project to the Home at 704/872-4157, and not to Food Lion store employees.

This will be the fifth year that the Home has participated in this project, receiving four gifts from Food Lion totaling $39,000.

The amount we receive from Food Lion depends directly on your participation, so please remember February 13, 14 and 15, 1995 (that's a Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday) when you do your weekly or monthly shopping in February.

DAY CARE CELEBRATES 25 YEARS

The L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center celebrated their 25th Anniversary on September 16 and 17, 1994.

On Friday, September 16, area business leaders, political figures and day care professionals attended a luncheon from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church, adjacent to the Wagner Center. Marjorie Warlick Tate, Executive Director of Child Care Resources, Inc. in Charlotte, gave the keynote speech on "Child Care By The Year 2000".

The Fellowship Hall at the Church was decorated with photos, stories and artwork from current and former students, directors and teachers, and was open for viewing before and after the program.

On Saturday, September 17, there was a "family carnival" at the day care with clowns, balloons, game booths, face painting, puppet shows and a performance by "Shilohleers" a Mass Gospel Choir. The festivities began at 10:00 a.m. with a hot dog lunch being served from 11:30 to

Just call 704/872-4157 to arrange a program or a tour of campus. (Be sure to ask for Reade if you're serving food at the meeting.)

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 72

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, WINTER 1995

No. 1

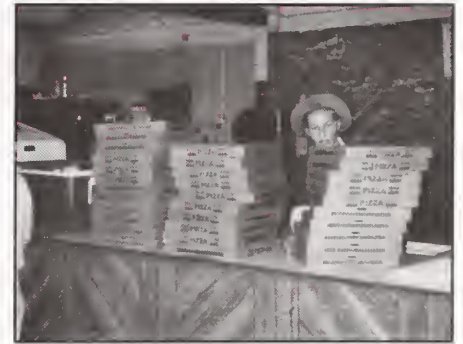

SPIRITS SOAR AS NEW YEAR BEGINS

Thanks to the Joseph F. Cannon Funds and to hundreds of dedicated Presbyterians who care about troubled children, the youth of the Home had a bright and cheery Christmas, and as a result have a very bright outlook for 1995.

"The morale of the young people is very high," said Frank Stewart, Director of Residential Services. "The outpouring of gifts for them this year left them shocked and amazed. They received so many wonderful gifts of love that they were truly stunned. The thought that someone who doesn't know them could care enough about them to send them a gift has really done a lot for their faith in humanity."

Some of the Holiday activities included: Sullivan and Sanford Cottages and the L.C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center had Christmas Open Houses for family and friends; all of the children enjoyed a pizza and skating party at Skateland in Statesville; the Sullivan girls were treated to a limousine ride to a restaurant in Statesville; the student council and several cottages visited area nursing homes with gifts of fruit baskets; all of the children and staff were treated to lunch and dinner at Greg's Bar-B-Que in Mooresville; several cottages attended Christmas Eve services at area churches; and all of the children enjoyed opening gifts that were sent to them from churches, donors and businesses across the Synod area.

Staff member Bobby Samuels is almost hidden from view behind the 32 large pizzas it took to fill up youth and staff at the pizza and skating party they participated in at Christmas

FIRM GIVES MORE THAN GLASSES

What a treat! Seven of our young people were given free eye exams, glasses and more. Lens Crafters annually conducts "Home Town Days" in 580 locations across the country. Their "gift of sight" program has touched the lives of thousands throughout the world.

This is obviously a significant corporate contribution to people in need. We have the highest praise for this company's desire to make a difference in the world.

Our young people received so much more than new glasses. The spirit of the staff at Lens Crafters' South Park office in Charlotte was a joy. The caring interpretations of exam results to concerned youth by Dr. Spicoal was heart warming. Melody's enthusiastic tours of the process to make each child's glasses was greatly appreciated, educational and fun. Michael and Fran's interest in the Home from the beginning let us know these folks were special. All the staff were wonderful.

The pleasure these people received from giving was clear and well deserved. We are most grateful for this company's contribution, but equally appreciative of what came from the heart of each employee. Thanks for all your gifts, Once again, children here are blessed by yet another example of caring and sharing.

Rachel shows off her new glasses.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP AWARD PRESENTED TO BARIUM

Barium Springs Home for Children was one of 32 organizations honored at Winn-Dixie Charlotte's 10th Annual Good Citizenship Award Luncheon held Dec. 6 at the Ramada Inn Carowinds in Charlotte.

Mark Richardson of the Carolina Panthers was guest speaker at the luncheon and presented the Good Citizenship Award and a $2,000 check to Reade Baker, Vice President of Financial Resources for the Home.

The awards are presented to area corporations or agencies for their outstanding dedication and commitment to their communities. The Davis Family, Winn-Dixie's founders, established the Good Citizenship Awards 11 years ago in an effort to recognize the often unheralded efforts of those who

But yesterday's orphanages are not what we need today. It's a different world, a different time and a different environment."

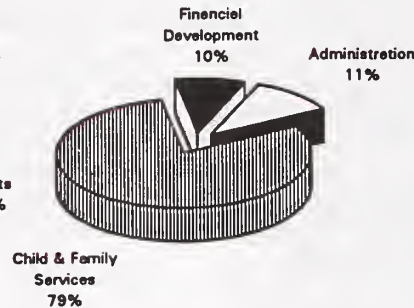

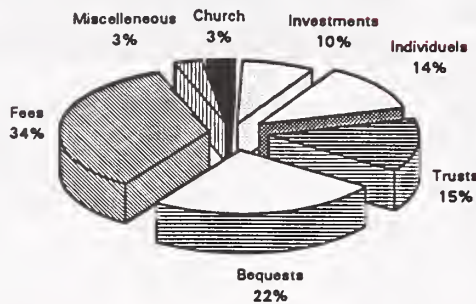

He goes on to suggest that I write an article about these things. Friend, with your considerable help, I just did. Thanks!

We have had numerous calls and letters regarding the current debate about orphanages. I quote from a letter from an alumnus:
"I have fond memories of the Barium people who raised me. Good teachers;

Giving Life Insurance to Benefit Children

W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources

Many people give to a charity or institution such as Barium Springs Homes for Children in response to an immediate need. Some people give because of ideological commitment. Still others give out of compassion. Whatever the reason, planned giving is essential for the programs at Barium Springs Home for Children.

There are a number of different gifting techniques that may be used. One popular gifting strategy is giving life insurance. A gift of life insurance offers a method for making a substantial future gift at a relatively small cost.

To give a gift of life insurance, you purchase a life insurance policy and name Barium Springs Home for Children as both the owner and beneficiary of the policy. Naming Barium Springs Home for Children as the owner and beneficiary effectively puts the insurance policy beyond your control. Since the policy is considered beyond your control, the premium payments you make may be deducted from your income taxes up to certain limits. Any amount that exceeds these limits may be carried forward for up to five years.

You may also donate a partially or fully paid up policy. In that case, you may deduct the cash surrender value of the donated contract, subject to the same limits and carry forward provisions.

If you wish, you can use a gift of life insurance to fund a charitable remainder trust. This will enable you to use your gift to provide income for your family if you or your spouse should die.

To implement this strategy, you would purchase a first-to-die policy and place it within a charitable remainder trust. Upon the death of the first spouse, the trust will receive the death benefit. This money will then be invested and the income generated will provide funds for the surviving spouse as long as he or she lives. Upon the death of the second spouse, Barium Springs Home for Children will receive the principle from the trust.

You must be aware that when you use a life insurance policy to fund a charitable remainder trust that you are retaining an income interest in the policy. For this reason, most of your current income tax deductions will be eliminated. You will in effect be trading an income tax deduction for future income for your family.

Using life insurance to make a donation to Barium Springs Home for Children may enable you to make a substantial future gift at a relatively small cost, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are making a difference in the lives of many young people.

For more information about these and other ways you can help yourself and children at the Home, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, at (704) 872-4157, or use the envelope provided to return the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

1994 CHILDREN'S TRUST FOUNDATION MEMBERS

Every penny that comes to the Home is critical in meeting the needs of today's children and families. Over the last 100 years, thousands of lives have changed because people have invested in young people and families that need help.

Although all gifts are important, some individuals, foundations and corporations have taken a leadership role in meeting these needs. The Children's Trust Foundation is the funding arm of the Home and is supported by annual gifts of $100 to over $25,000. This support is the active participation that makes all the positive influence that occurs here possible.

The following list of Children's Trust Annual Members recognizes those exceptional investors that exemplify the loving, giving spirit which has sustained this mission for over 100 years.

Superior Court Judge John R. Friday, 68, died of a heart attack at Lincoln County Hospital on November 16, 1994.. His death was unexpected.

Judge Friday was the husband of Lila P. Friday, member of the Board of Regents of Barium Springs Home for Children for eight years. Mrs. Friday's second term on the Board ended only a few days before her husband's death.

Judge Friday was born in Dallas, N.C., son of the late David Latham and Mary Rowan Friday. He graduated from Dallas High School and Wake Forest College in 1948 and UNC Law School in 1951. He became a district court judge in 1968 and was elected N.C. Superior Court Judge in 1970, a position he held for 16 years.

Judge Friday was also a devoted member of the First Presbyterian Church in Lincolnton, where he served as elder, deacon and lay minister for two other churches.

Judge Friday is survived by his wife, Lila Ponder Friday; daughters, Mrs. Sarah Peters and Mrs. Susan Lamb, both of Raleigh; brother, Mr. William C. "Bill" Friday, retired president of the UNC System; sister, Mrs. Betty Harris of Dallas; and two granddaughters.

Mr. Harry Earl Barkley, 91, of Spartanburg and formerly of Statesville, died Dec. 10, 1994 in Spartanburg. Mr. Barkley was school principal, coach and camp director at the Home from 1938 to 1947.

He is survived by his wife, Beatrice Gainey Barkley; one daughter, Mrs. Harriett Oglesbee of Spartanburg; and one sister, Mrs. Cecil (Laura) Troutman of Statesville.

Miss Pauline Fletcher, 97, of Wilkes Senior Village in North Wilkesboro and formerly of Statesville, died Dec. 11, 1994 in Wilkesboro. Miss Fletcher was a former teacher and retired from the Barium Springs Infirmary staff. Survivors are 13 nieces and nephews, including Mrs. James T. Hughey and Mrs. Maie J. Wall, both of Statesville.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

FRAZIER RETIRES MAY 31 AFTER 24 YEARS

By Jim Wrinn

Charlotte Observer/Iredell Neighbors

Framed in wood on a wall in Earle Frazier's office at Barium Springs Home for Children are two college degrees: a bachelor's in vocational agriculture and a master's in social work.

To Frazier, they are reminders of the dramatic changes he has navigated in almost 20 years as executive director at the Home. He's taken Barium Springs from a traditional orphanage where children grew up working the Home's orchards to a place where courts and social agencies send troubled youths.

"It's been a period of big change," said Frazier, who retires May 31.

Through all of the changes, friends and colleagues say, Frazier has been dedicated to one task: Do something to help children in trouble.

"He's changed the face of the place with the needs of the time," said Reade Baker, Vice President of Financial Resources for Barium Springs Home for Children. "He's a genuine caring person, especially when it comes to kids."

Since 1976, Frazier has directed the activities of an institution rich with history.

Started as a Presbyterian orphanage in 1891, the first Home was in an old hotel that had catered to those who came from far away to sample and bathe in the mineral water that flows from the nearby Barium Springs.

At its height in 1929, about 375 children lived at the Home. On almost 1,100 acres of land, they picked apples, milked cows and grew crops. Along the way, they became family for each other when they had none.

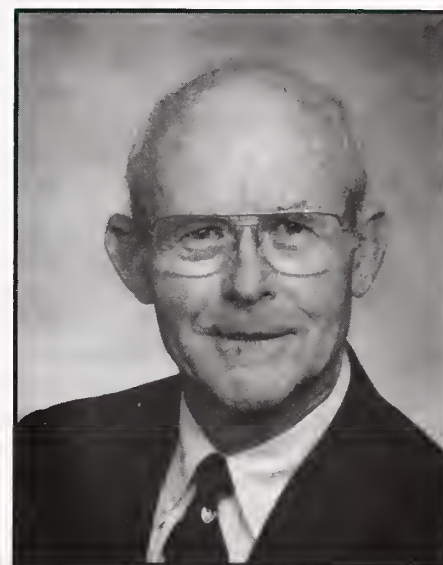

Over the years, thousands of children passed through the doors at Barium Springs. Many came because epidemics like influenza had killed both parents. Others were separated from their families by the hard financial times of the Depression.

Then in the early 1960s came a big change. True orphanages, homes for children of families in which one or both parents were dead, were no longer needed and society's emphasis shifted to rehabilitating troubled families so that children didn't spend their childhood's in orphanages. At the same time, more institutions were needed to help young people with social, emotional and academic problems.

Like other homes, Barium Springs began to refocus on those needs. Serving as director of campus life and resident director at Barium Springs from 1966 to 1971, Frazier experienced the shift firsthand.

He was director of the Monroe Harding Children's Home before he returned as director in 1976.

Today, Frazier oversees a Presbyterian institution that each year serves about 140 troubled children, ages 10 to 20. On an average day, there are 47 young people on campus; on average, they're there for a little under eight months.

Unlike the old days when housing and rearing children was the emphasis, Frazier said, the Home now focuses on solving problems and reuniting children with their families.

"We work with children who have emotional and social problems and try to get them back with their families as soon as possible," Frazier said.

The Home also operates a day-care center, which serves about 125 local children and provides child-care training for other agencies and day-care centers across the state.

Frazier's office is in the 1907 boys library in the middle of the campus.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Financial Planning - In Plain English

W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources

Greetings, friends of children, from the character in the picture above. For many years I have been relying on my friendly experts at JTS Financial Associates, Inc. in Statesville to write this article. Michelle Rokes and Jim Staples have been, and promise to continue to be, a BIG help. But, until someone stops me, I'll be doing the writing. I know how excited you must be!

I've been at Barium Springs for fourteen years, nine of those in the development office. It's been my pleasure to help the children and families in care here as Director of Special Services, Family and Child Development Center Director and currently as Vice President for Financial Resources. It is indeed a pleasure to now be serving children and families who seek help here by serving you, the donors who make our work possible.

For over one hundred years, the children at Barium Springs have had the good fortune to be the recipients of tens of thousand of gifts. Those gifts that turned many children with shattered lives into productive citizens, loving and nurturing their own children. The return from these investments is the quality of life for children here, and their children's children.

These gifts have taken many forms, ranging from a crumpled dollar bill in an envelope with no return address to large bequests. Some gifts not only make permanent changes for children and families, but provide income to support the work of the Home forever. Whether an annual operating gift or a gift to the endowment fund, all are critical to the care the youth and families receive.

Some gifts provide an excellent income opportunity for you. A variety of Charitable Trusts can provide annual income for you and your heirs which other investments can't equal. What kind of Trust arrangement can best meet your family's needs depends on your personal situation.

There are even ways to increase your children's and family's inheritance by giving a portion of your estate to Barium Springs, or other qualified charities. There are ways to increase your income and heirs inheritance by establishing certain gift arrangements during your lifetime, again depending on your situation. Don't misunderstand, most gift techniques for most people do require a charitable intent, not just a need to increase family wealth.

For most of us, the possibilities are mind boggling; Trusts, insurance policies, Wills, appreciated stocks, houses, land, cash, etc. Unfortunately for you and the many people in need of help from charitable organizations, the options are often considered too much trouble to worry about. Until I learned more through my work here, I felt the same way.

I'm no "planned giving" expert, but I have learned a lot. Most importantly, I've learned who many of the real experts are, especially the free ones. Equally important, I've learned much about those who just think they are experts.

With very few exceptions, you have given money to help the children here or you would not get this news-letter. I hope you have enjoyed making a difference for children and families, every penny sent here does. Are you interested in finding out if there are other ways to help, some that can help you and the children? Would you like some free and completely confidential help to explore the many options?

The satisfaction you should feel from helping in the past is well deserved and may be all you need. If you are open to looking at other possibilities, I am available to help, whether it's to look at your options or call in the experts. Free help is a reality from people who don't make a dime from any decision you make. Nice change, huh?

I have brochures which can help you begin your exploration. Call me if a no-cost-or-obligation visit might help. Your only risk, if you choose to do so, is having to spend a little time with the character in the picture. The only real risk is for the children here now and in days ahead, if nobody invests in their future. Return the form below for the brochures listed, or call me at 704/872-4157 if you'd like a short visit.

The son of a Wake County tobacco farmer, Frazier enjoys the sketches of mules hanging on the walls. A plaque in the window overlooking the campus says: "Children have more need of models than critics."

Barium Springs Home for Children is an oasis on heavily commercialized U.S. 21 between Troutman and Statesville. Tall oaks and manicured lawns line U.S. 21 just north of Troutman. Unassuming brick buildings -- dorms, staff housing and educational buildings -- dot the landscape.

Much of Frazier's time is spent raising money for the Home. Frazier's secretary, Bette Chastain, sits at a desk between Frazier's office and a room filled with file cabinets containing thousands of donor records.

When there's a mass mailing, Frazier is in the work room with the rest of the staff stuffing envelopes.

Frazier spends many days visiting churches across the state to tell them about the work that goes on at Barium Springs. "Finding the money to do this is always the problem," Frazier said.

Of the Home's annual budget of $3.2 million, 34% comes from fees, 22% from bequests, 15% from trusts and 14% from individual contributions. Another 10% comes from investments, 3% from the church and 3% from other sources.

Frazier's concern for children started when he was growing up near the end of the Great Depression, Chastain said. "He saw the needs out there, both physical and emotional," she said.

Frazier gives his staff credit for any success at the Home. "He hires good people and then steps aside and lets them do their job," said Baker, who went from day-care director to Barium Springs chief fund-raiser several years ago at Frazier's urging. "He said the person who knows the needs personally can tell the story the best."

Bynum Carter, a Gastonia businessman who was on the search committee that hired Frazier almost 20 years ago, said Frazier took a tough job -- helping reshape an institution -- and made it look easy.

"We were talking about big changes," Carter said. "He came along and made them happen."

Despite opposition from sentimental alumni, it was Frazier who worked to close the last of the Home's orchards. He put the emphasis on professional treatment for children, seeking recognition by the Council on Accreditation of Services for Families and Children, Inc.

Frazier is adamant that today's mission of "the home" is the right one.

Frazier took special note of U.S. House Speaker Newt Gingrich's interest in orphanages last winter.

"We had calls from Ted Koppel's office last fall when the orphanage issue arose at the national level," he said. "I've been trying to clarify the issue ever since."

"Bringing back orphanages would not help," Frazier said. "The bottom line is some people say they had a good experience and should bring it back; but I grew up on a tobacco farm and found that to be a good experience, but it doesn't mean we should bring it back."

The needs of children today are more complex. Simply housing children in a group home won't work, he said.

But that's a debate someone else will have to see through, Frazier said. At age 65, he and his wife, Jessie, are ready to relax and spend time with their four grandsons. Frazier has a special gift for his grandchildren.

"I've written about 75 or 80 children's stories about what life on the tobacco farm was like," he said. "They'll never know what it was like."

ROBERT W. STANSELL, JR.

NEW PRESIDENT

Mr. Robert W. (Skip) Stansell, Jr. will assume the position of President of Barium Springs Home for Children beginning June 1, 1995.

Mr. Stansell, his wife, Peggy, and their daughter, Neely, come to Barium Springs from Arkansas, where Mr. Stansell has been director of the Vera Lloyd Presbyterian Home and Family Services since Feb. 1990.

Before that Mr. Stansell served as executive director of the Presbyterian conference center in Harrisonburg, Va., and was director of the Christian Education Center of Bethel Presbytery in York, S.C.

Mr. Stansell, 44, graduated from Presbyterian College in Clinton, S.C., in 1973 with a major in Christian education. He received a master of science in recreation and parks administration from Indiana University in 1975. He got a master's in business administration from Wake Forest University in 1985.

The children, families, staff and Board of Regents welcome Mr. Stansell and his family, and look forward to his leadership.

ALUMNUS' ART GRACES WALLS OF HOME

Barium Springs Alumnus Arvil "Shep" Shepherd came to the Home in 1944 and left in 1948 to live with relatives. He liked to draw as a boy. "I was drawing when I should have been studying," said Shepherd.

Today he is an accomplished artist, having won several awards for his work.

Shepherd was born in the Vannoy Community of Wilkes County. After leaving Barium he went on to graduate from A. L. Brown High School in Kannapolis. He then began a career in sign painting.

His first job was with Coca-Cola in North Wilkesboro. Later he worked for a Statesville firm and eventually opened his own business in Winston Salem, where he combined the sign work with customized paintings on vans, dragsters and show cars. He also painted for professional racing teams.

Shep, 60, now lives in the White Plains Community of Mount Airy, operating his business "Wood Graphics" which specializes in hand carved redwood signs.

As of late though, his career as an artist is taking up most of his time. It began as a hobby, but his work has been so well received he is doing it almost full-time now. Shepherd wished to share his

Calling All Program Committee Chairs

Have we got a deal for you? In fact, we really do. No charge... no passing plate... no hard sales; just an informative program about the history of your mission here at Barium Springs.

We have staff available to speak anywhere with any size group about the children and families here, the services offered, where the money comes from and goes, and answer questions. A nine minute slide program helps with the presentation and can also be sent by itself if you don't believe the "no passing the plate" part above.

Just call 704/872-4157 to arrange a program, or a tour of campus. (Be sure to ask for Reade if you're serving food at the meeting.)

talent and good fortune, and since 1991 has donated 12 of his prints, signed and numbered, to the Home, and will continue to donate one of each print he does in the future.

"I wanted the Home to use them to raise money, or to hang somewhere," said Shepherd.

"Whichever way would do the children there now and in the future the most good."

Barium President Earle Frazier decided to have the prints framed and hung on campus so that the children, staff, alumni and visitors could enjoy them. He also felt that the prints would grow in value and would one day probably be used for fund-raising for the Home.

"I just wanted to do something for the children at the Home," said Shepherd. "Maybe this will show them that you can be whatever you want to, as long as you believe in yourself and apply yourself."

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

GRADUATES GRATEFUL FOR PAL PROGRAM

Three residents of the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program at Barium Springs graduated from High School June 2, 1995.

Jennifer Carver and Brandon Stafford graduated from South Iredell High School, and Lee Beheler graduated from West Iredell High School.

All three stated that they probably wouldn't have graduated if they had not been in the PAL program. They also have exciting plans for the future.

Now that he has graduated, Lee Beheler just wants to "keep on working".

Lee is the first to admit that his quick temper was to blame for his troubles prior to living at PAL.

Intersession occurs four times a year in the residential programs. It is a period between school quarters which includes a week of "Reteach"; a week of "Group Building"; and a week of "Extended Family Time".

During the "Reteach" week, students who have come into the program while the quarter was in session have a chance to catch up on what they missed. Students who failed a subject have a chance to make up for it.

"Jessica's" hard work, the commitment and dedication of our teachers, small classes, individual attention and the constant care and nurture of our cottage staff all contributed to this noteworthy achievement.

Because you care enough to support the Home, "Jessica's" life is forever changed. As her math and reading skills improved we saw remarkable growth in her self-confidence and self-esteem. "Jessica" is a new person. She thanks you and I thank you.

BARIUM SPRINGS HOPE FOR CHILDREN

INVESTING IN CHILDREN

*W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources*

In this column, I usually tell you how gift arrangements; like bequests, trusts, insurance, etc., can help you, and the children and families here. This article is different.

Today, I'm sharing a letter with you which was made possible by gift arrangements. It was addressed to the "Staff of Barium Springs Home for 'Kids in Need'". I am re-addressing it correctly to YOU.

"Thank you all for the help given to my son _____. I hope someday he will return to visit you with a great success story."

"You have also helped me. I don't know how I could have made it without your program. My son would have probably been in juvenile detention by now. He has shown maturity and made wise choices under pressure from peers already. It's just been a week! Again, thanks to all of you."

We (you) get many letters like this. You make real help available for the real problems that often tear families apart.

Many of you are interested in making larger gifts through "Trusts" which provide higher yield and dependable income for you and children here. Some of you want to leave a legacy of your Christian compassion for "kids in need" through your Will. Your options depend on your personal financial situation.

If this is even a slight possibility for you, for the children's sake, please request a brochure from below, seek advice and know your options. I promise not to call you unless you specifically ask for my help. I truly believe I can best help children and families in need by helping you, not "selling" you.

"Good News"

*Rev. William J. Cowfer
Director, Church Relations*

Several recent actions taken by Barium Springs Home for Children have resulted in clarifying the focus and expanding communications with the Presbyterian Church.

New President Robert Stansell highly values the rich heritage Presbyterians have demonstrated by organizing Barium Springs Home for Children 104 years ago. Presbyterians continue supporting the Home in many ways today.

I am excited about having been named Director for Church Relations for the Home. Ministers, individual donors and members of the Board who have learned of this appointment are very enthusiastic. They believe the activities of this new position will help members better understand that the nurture and caring of children and families provided by the Home is an outreach of their church's ministry. In this new position I will increase visitation with churches and donor friends of the Home.

Developing a variety of programs for use with different congregational groups is high on my list of priorities. Listed below are some of the groups for whom we have presented programs. It is our hope to eventually present a program for all churches and groups who support the Home and for those who are interested in the Home. Please arrange for a program in your church or group by calling 704/872-4157; or by mailing in the coupon below.

"I certainly wouldn't have graduated if not for PAL, and I probably would be in jail for assault or something," said Lee.

"But I've learned a lot about depending on myself and managing my temper. I think I'm going to be okay."

Jennifer plans to leave the PAL program this summer to live with a family she has become close friends with. Then after living a few months with her mother she will get a place of her own and begin classes at Piedmont Community College.

She wants to eventually transfer to the University of Virginia. Her main interests of study include child care, culinary arts and interior design.

"The staff at PAL taught me to be more mature, to take responsibility for myself," said Jennifer. "If I hadn't come here I would probably be on drugs, pregnant and have Aids."

Jennifer had dropped out of school before coming to PAL and was going nowhere fast.

"Now I realize if I work, go to school and not live such a reckless life, I can succeed and have the kind of life I choose."

Brandon Stafford will continue living at PAL and working full-time until the Fall of 1996 when he plans to enter Appalachian State University. He is currently thinking about a career in law enforcement.

Brandon said PAL gave him a stable environment where he could stay out of trouble and learn to get on his own feet financially.

"The most important thing I learned here was to have confidence in myself," said Brandon. "I'll carry that with me my whole life."

Brandon said he would probably still be in school next year if he had not come to PAL. He said he was pretty much responsible for himself before he came here and did not know how to handle that responsibility. He learned how to apply himself at PAL.

The PAL program is housed in Howard Cottage at the Adolescent Center. It is for youth ages 16 to 20 who have less social, emotional and academic problems than youth in the Adolescent Center program, and whose home situations are such that they can't return there to live.

Youth living in the program maintain full or part-time jobs while attending school, and learn life skills such as cooking, keeping a checking or savings account, job interviewing skills and much more.

They can also apply for scholarships to help them with their higher education.

Lee, Jennifer and Brandon are very happy that Barium Springs Home for Children is here to help them. So are we! But the gratitude goes to our faithful friends and supporters, North Carolina Presbyterians, for making it all possible.

The reception was held following a staff meeting and was attended by fellow employees and friends. Cake, punch and assorted finger foods were served. Mrs. Watts was presented with an engraved desk clock citing her years of service to the Home.

Mrs. Watts is the daughter of Mrs. Kate Sullins of Bakersville, NC and the late Waits Sullins. She and her husband Tom reside in Troutman, NC.

building activities. The cottage staff choose the activities with several goals in mind. One is that they be fun; two, that it give the youth a sense of togetherness or camaraderie; and three, that it gives youth and staff a chance to get to know each other better outside the cottage setting.

The final week of Intercession, Extended Family Time, is a week for youth to go home, or to foster homes, or to the homes of extended family such as grandparents, aunts or uncles.

This week at "home" gives "families" a chance to practice what they have learned while their child has been in care. Cottage staff visit the "home" during the week to evaluate the youth and the family. This week gives both children and family an insight into what things will be like if and when the child returns home. They have time to see which situations they are handling right, and which might still need some work.

During the past Intercession in July, Cottages used the "Group Building" week to do a variety of activities.

At the Adolescent Center, Sullivan Cottage girls spent four days in Long Beach, NC.

cottage. "We cooked all our meals and went to a fun-park. The girls had a great time. Our only problem was a flat tire on the van on the way home."

Porter said the girls and staff bonded with each other on the trip.

"If the staff and the residents can learn to respect each other and to work together, the program runs smoother and the girls get more out of it," said Porter. "We don't try to be a family to the girls, we try to be role models."

This trip gave the Sanford boys a chance to say goodbye.

second, white-water rafting on the Pigeon River in Tennessee.

Sanford Social Worker Melanie Rasnick said the trip was particularly productive because the five boys who went were to be successfully discharged soon after the trip.

"The boys stayed in one cabin and the staff in another," said Rasnick. "It gave them some time to spend alone together, and to say good-bye. We were all happy and sad at the same time when we got back."

Grannis cottage boys spent a day exploring Discovery Place in Charlotte.

Grannis teacher Lisa Duncan said the boys stuck together and were very responsible about following the rules and returning to the vans on time.

Cannon boys learned a lot during their tour of the fire station.

Goodman Cottage had a good day at Carowinds. The girls learned a hard lesson towards the end of the day when two of them tried to run away. The trip had to be cut short and the other girls were angry with them for spoiling the fun.

Goodman staff said it was a hard, but good, lesson to learn. So all in all they still counted the day successful.

The two Pre-Adolescent Center cottages, Cannon and Stultz, also took trips during the Intercession.

The Stultz boys went to Carowinds where they banded together with the staff to get enough nerve to ride the Cyclone.

The Cannon boys visited the Columbia Zoo in South Carolina. They also toured the main Fire Station in Charlotte.

Overall, this Intercession proved to be fun and challenging for the residents of the Home. Though the trips were fun, most felt that the week of "Extended Family Time" was the most exciting. They were all able to practice the new skills they had learned with their parents, foster parents or relatives.

Most found their hard work in the program was paying off, and look forward to going "home".

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery, or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

MAKING CHRISTMAS 1995 BEAUTIFUL

We're making big plans for Christmas, 1995 at Barium Springs Home for Children. The Residential Centers and the Wagner Family and Child Development Center are doing their best to see that the children have a special Christmas.

A face-lift for the cottages is planned for the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers, according to Frank Stewart, Director of Residential Services.

"We plan to brighten the decor in all the cottages," said Stewart. "We are going to make the rooms cheerful; get rid of that institutional look. The children have to be comfortable and at ease before they can begin to work on their family, education and social problems."

Individual gifts will be bought for each boy and girl by Cottage staff and a pizza and roller-skating party is being planned. The latter event has become somewhat of a tradition at the centers and is usually enjoyed by all... especially the young people watching the staff try to roller-skate.

This year some unicycles will be purchased and unicycle riding will be offered as a physical education option.

In learning to ride the unicycle you have to learn to work with someone as a team. Staff hope that the young people will learn cooperation and trust. They also

PLEASE MARK FOOD LION DAYS ON YOUR CALENDAR FOR 1996

To participate in the Food Lion Community Way Days Project for Barium Springs Home for Children, all you have to do is buy your groceries at any North Carolina Food Lion on February 12, 13, or 14, 1996, save your receipt(s), sign your name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the back and turn in up to two receipts to your Presbyterian Church. Or if you are a donor to the Home you may send them to the Home (churches will receive information on what to do with the receipts).

Also, you can have one friend participate in the project and turn in up to two receipts as well. Both the Presbyterian (or donor) and the friend must sign the receipts and write BSHC on the back.

Food Lion will donate five percent of the total gross sales for receipts turned in which are dated on those three days.

Just think! This project enables you to make a donation to Barium Springs without spending a cent. Just do your regular weekly (or monthly) grocery shopping on one of those three days, turn in your receipt(s) and, thanks to you, the Home will receive funds from Food Lion for your efforts.

A Word from

A FRESH VISION

Robert W. Stansell, Jr.

In January 1930, President Herbert Hoover convened the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection. The history of Barium Springs records that Joseph Johnston, Superintendent of Barium Springs, was a delegate to this conference.

At the close of the conference, the delegates issued a document entitled "A Children's Charter," which I have framed on my office wall. The charter constituted a national vision for the well-being of children. There are nineteen goals in the charter. The following is a representative sample of the goals and vision that Joseph Johnston and his colleagues had for the children of our nation:

- For every child, spiritual and moral training to help him stand firm under the pressure of life.
- For every child, health protection from birth through adolescence, including periodical health examinations, and where needed, care of specialists and hospital treatment; regular dental examination and care of teeth; protective and preventive measures against communicable diseases; the ensuring of pure water, pure milk and pure food.

- For every child, a community that recognizes and plans for his needs, protects him against physical dangers, moral hazards, and diseases; provides him with safe and wholesome places for play and recreation; and makes provision for his cultural needs.
- For every child, an education that, through the discovery and development of his individual abilities, prepares him for life; and through training and vocational guidance prepares him for a living that will yield him the maximum of satisfaction.

Joseph Johnston was a visionary who sought to meet the needs of the children of his generation through the ministry of Barium Springs. His vision is still fresh for us today. As a home, a church and a nation, let us rededicate ourselves to the achievement of these basic goals for all children.

MARK FEB. 12, 13 OR 14, 1996 TO SHOP AT FOOD LION

Now we come to a very important point... please don't FORGET! Mark these dates on your calendar and plan to do your regular weekly or monthly shopping on February 12, 13 or 14, in 1996. Without your help the children and families we serve will miss out on this important opportunity to raise funds.

1996 will be the sixth year the Home has participated in this vital project. We have received almost $45,000 from Food Lion over the past five years through your efforts.

So please remember, save your Food Lion receipts dated Feb. 12, 13 or 14, 1996; get a friend to participate if possible; sign your name(s) and BSHC on the back; turn in up to two receipts each to your Presbyterian Church or send them to the Home; Barium Springs Home for Children will receive five percent of the total gross sales from collected receipts, and you will be making a free donation to the Home.

THANKS FOR CARING AND THANKS FOR PARTICIPATING!

Barium Springs Home for Children

PO Box 1, Barium Springs, NC 28010-0001; 704/872-4157

Dear Friends of Children:

Christmas across our great state of North Carolina is beautiful. . .

A smile on the face of a little girl, who did not have anything to smile about last Christmas, is beautiful. . .

The pleasure on a boy's face as he sits with friends and caring staff at his cottage's dining room table, a boy who in times past had to prowl the slums of a city for food and companionship, is beautiful. . .

And the obvious joy and dedication of our new President, Robert W. Stansell, Jr., in this child-saving ministry is beautiful!

We wish you could see it all first hand this year for we feel your Christmas gifts in the past for children have been beautiful.

Your children's home at Barium Springs is on the threshold of new challenges of service as the children coming to us have far greater problems than ever before. We will continue to try to fill the special needs of these innocent children who need to find new meaning to their lives.

Frankly, this has been a difficult financial time for us as the economic uncertainties seem to strike hardest at a children's home. This, along with all of this year's national and world-wide distractions, have deepened the normal "summer slump".

This means that, just to stay even in our program, we must rely heavily on special personal giving. You have been one of these special friends in the past, and we hope you can make a gift at this time to help keep your Presbyterian home beautiful to the children who turn to us for help.

Sincerely,

John Alexander
Chairman, Board of Regents

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency of the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic

THANKS TO "SPECIAL WHEEL FRIENDS"

Thanks to 216 "Special Wheel Friends" who responded to the Home's appeal for a new van in May of 1995, over $21,000 has been raised for the purchase of that van.

The children, staff and Board of Regents would like to take this opportunity to thank those donors by listing them in this special Christmas edition of the Barium Messenger.

God Bless you all, and we wish you a Happy Holiday Season!

WAGNER DAY CARE PARENTS PARTICIPATE IN FIX-UP

The L. C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center celebrated its 25th Anniversary in 1994 with pride and happiness.

In 1995, administration and staff realized that this also meant the building was 26 years old and needed a major face-lift.

The Parent Support Committee, headed by Assistant Director Ginny McCann, set up a day for parents to get involved in the fix-up of the day care center.

On Saturday, November 11, 1995, a total of 10 parents, staff and friends arrived at the center at 9:00 in the morning, ready to do their part.

Parents not able to attend donated baked items to be used as refreshments for the work day.

Unfortunately, heavy rains that day forced 6 more individuals to postpone the landscaping project. However, there was still plenty to do inside, such as painting dividers, chairs and shelves. Also, shelves were installed in the outside storage buildings and cabinets.

"We appreciate all the work that occurred in preparation for the day," said Marilyn Yakimovich, Director of the Center. "Parents volunteered to obtain landscaping items such as bushes, vines and railroad ties. We were also glad that President Skip Stansell was able to participate by purchasing odds and ends and running errands. This also gave him the opportunity to get to know some of the parents."

Parent Jim Mairs, whose son Johnny is in the three-year room, paints a music stand he assembled on the Center's fix-up day.

"I was so pleased to have parents participate in our work day," said McCann. "We were disappointed by the rain, but we plan to have another day to finish up our outside projects very soon."

"As far as I'm concerned, when the parents gave a gift of their time they went a long way to show their children the true meaning of Christmas spirit," said McCann. "We are all so busy with our jobs, families and outside activities that we usually have very little time to give. I want parents to know how much we appreciate a gift of such a precious commodity."

HOME COMING, 1995 ENJOYED BY ALL

Once again Barium Springs was awash with Alumni seeking familiar faces and places. Some 350 Alumni attended Homecoming on August 5th and 6th, and for some this was their first glimpse of the Home's new president, Skip Stansell.

"I'm so delighted with the tradition of Homecoming," said Stansell. "It is like one huge family getting together and reliving old times and creating new times. Our Alumni have such fond memories, it's hard not to get caught up in their tales of the past. They can make you laugh and cry, and sometimes all at the same time."

Reade Baker, Vice-President of Financial Resources, lives in the Superintendent's House, which was built for Superintendent Joe Johnston in 1922. The house has not been open to the public for many years, so the Baker family had an open house for Alumni during Homecoming.

Some of the Alumni had never been in the two-story, 15-room house. Others shared memories, both tender and funny, with the Bakers.

"Everyone seemed to enjoy looking around and we loved hearing the stories about the house," said Baker. "We plan to do this again in the years to come."

At the Alumni meeting, Alumnus Charles Barrett was chosen as the new President of the Alumni Association. He will hold this office for two years.

hope the youth will gain self-confidence from mastering such a difficult activity.

Mark Jordan, teacher for Cannon cottage in the Pre-Adolescent Center, came up with the idea of unicycle riding. He says he hopes it will be a rewarding experience for the children who come here, and one they can keep with them forever.

"Riding a unicycle is a skill you don't pick up just anywhere," said Jordan. "By being able to provide the young people here with an unusual, confidence-building, teamwork type of experience, we hope to open doors for them in other areas. If they can ride a unicycle, they can do a lot of other things that are easier."

Plans are also being made for Christmas at the L. C. Wagner Family and Child Development Center.

Center Director Marilyn Yackimovich said that the teachers will pick out individual toys for each child at the Center and Santa Claus will deliver them at the Christmas Open House.

Also in the plan to be purchased for the children's use are: computer cabinets and printers for the three- and four-year-old's rooms; children's computer programs; music cassettes; outdoor play equipment; kitchen furniture for the dramatic play centers; diaper changing table; two infant tables with bucket seats (to replace high chairs); and a tool set for the wood-working center in the four-year room.

Most of these plans to purchase items for Christmas are being based on receiving funds from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust.

Joseph F. Cannon, in a Will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer" to the children at Christmas time.

Each year the Center Directors, along with the President, get together and decide what necessities would bring happiness at Christmas to the children we serve, and for the rest of the New Year as well. All of the items purchased with these funds are for the benefit of the children, as the Will states.

Unfortunately, funds such as these can not be used for providing salaries for dedicated and educated counselors, teachers and social workers. We must rely heavily on friends like you when it comes to the cost of providing the professional and essential help that these young people so desperately need.

When you are finished reading about the Christmas plans, please be happy about the fact that the children will have a beautiful, bountiful Christmas.

However, also please remember that without the financial and spiritual help of friends like you, we can not provide the help necessary to forever change the lives of these young people for the better.

In other words, the Christmas Season will come and go with its presents and tinsel. Please don't forget the young people during the rest of the year.

God Bless you all, and have a wonderful Holiday Season!!

SARGENT AND CRATER CELEBRATE 10 YEARS

Sharon Sargent, Assistant Bookkeeper, and Lisa Crater, Administrative Assistant in Public Relations/Financial Development, both celebrated ten years at Barium Springs in August, 1995.

Sargent, who began working for the Home as Secretary at the day care center in August, 1985, moved to her current position in January of 1987.

Her duties include data-entry of payables and receivables and she is one of the persons responsible for acknowledging the "thank-you", Memorial and Honor notifications. She also updates the donor and Alumni lists.

Sargent and her three children, Andrea, Kenny and Michelle, live in Statesville.

Crater came to the Home in August, 1985, after graduating from UNC-CH in May.

She is Editor of the Barium Messenger, and Presbyterian Family Ministries, a page in the Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian. She also coordinates the direct mail program.

BARIUM SPRINGS HOPE FOR CHILDREN

INVESTING IN CHILDREN

*W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President,
Financial Resources*

In the Will of Mr. Joseph F. Cannon he established a Christmas trust with stock on July 10, 1939. His instructions were to "disperse annually the income from such stock held in said trust for the purpose of giving the inmates of the mentioned institutions happiness and cheer at Christmas Time, and I direct the trustees of the various institutions named to spend the amount in such manner that it will give the inmates the most cheer and pleasure during the Yuletide Season."

Ten institutions were named in the Will. In 1940 children here received their first gift from Mr. Cannon's trust, a check for $218.88. No doubt Mr. Cannon found great joy in establishing this trust.

Most likely there were also tax and estate advantages. Establishing this trust could have increased what he was able to share with his heirs. I'm sure that is not why he did it, but being a smart business man it could have affected how it was done.

The same is true for you. You may find the great joy of helping others and increase your monthly income or your inheritance to your children; or avoid capital gains or inheritance taxes. The possibility of a win-win situation is too great to ignore. You should know your options! We can help you discover them if you wish, without obligation or a fee.

Wouldn't Mr. Cannon be thrilled by the news that the trust he established in 1939, today arrived as a gift of $26,257.38. If you would like to discover ways you can leave such a mark on the world, give me a call or return the coupon below. Children here, and your own family, could benefit for many years to come.

"Good News"

*Rev. William J. Cowfer
Director, Church Relations*

People who care find ways to share. A recent letter from Altan Presbyterian Church in Monroe, NC reads as follows:

"We had received information from you about the need for transportation for the children. Being a small church, we do not have the resources to be able to provide a 'whole' van. So, we decided to begin a project that we call 'Be a Big Wheel for Barium Springs.'

On the second Sunday of each month we are taking an offering to be sent to you at the end of the year to help with your transportation needs.... We thank you for the work that you do to meet the special needs of children."

Good News is that people who care find ways to share. Our very special thanks goes to all the folk at Altan Presbyterian Church, and to all the others who care enough to share the Good News. Please write and tell us some special ways you share the Good News.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery, or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

A Word from the President

This is Exciting and You're Invited!!!

Robert W. Stansell, Jr.

There is so much happening at Barium Springs that we want to share with you. Please be our guest for a day of great fun, food (North Carolina Bar-B-Q), fellowship, music, worship and campus tours. Join us on May 4, 1996 for our annual campus open house. Look for all the details and the registration form in this issue of the Messenger.

Dr. J. Randolph Taylor, former moderator of the General Assembly and retired President of San Francisco Seminary, will be our worship leader. Worship will begin with a procession of church banners lead by a bagpiper. We hope that your church will be represented in the procession.

A Bar-B-Q lunch will be served under the Oaks at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church and then you'll have an opportunity to take a walking tour of our beautiful campus. The tour will include the Wagner Family and Child Development Center, The Preparation for Adult Living Cottage, The Adolescent Center and school, a children's cottage and the Pre-Adolescent Center School. Staff will be available to answer your questions and help you learn more about your ministry to children and families.

A special feature of the tour will be an opportunity to visit the Barium Springs Museum and learn about our 105 year history. Alumni will be present to help you enjoy the museum.

So gather a car-load, or better yet, - a van-load, of folks from your church and plan now to join us on May 4th. Registration is simple. Use the toll free number on the registration form or clip out the form and send it in today. We're looking forward to having you with us.

BARIUM SPRINGS HOPE FOR CHILDREN

INVESTING IN CHILDREN

*W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President, Financial Resources*

At my house, if something goes wrong it is usually when company is there. But this Christmas, nothing broke, leaked, backed up or didn't work. It felt like something was missing.

The only slight irritant was a flight delay. My niece was flying from San Francisco and delayed in Chicago. I called the airline's "800 number" to see if all was on schedule, and it was. I went to the Charlotte airport (a 50 minute drive), checked the flight board, went to the gate and waited.

The plane was five minutes late; then ten, no problem. In twenty minutes, a flight attendant appears at the counter, shuffling papers. I overheard her tell a nervous mom, "the plane is still in Chicago." I sprang to the counter like Santa to the roof. "What!?"

I asked why the "800 number" didn't tell me this. I was told I should have requested Chicago departure time instead of Charlotte arrival. Huh!? Four reasons why, 30 minutes, no idea of arrival time, and a "too bad" attitude at the airline's counter later, I drive home knowing it is a two hour flight.

She arrived 6 hours late. I know delays happen; I'm glad it was nothing serious! But the lack of information, inadequate communication system and the "get over it" attitude was irritating. I couldn't help but think that they knew my displeasure wouldn't affect their bottom line anyway.

I thought about you, Barium Springs, my job, this article and children here. Our "bottom line" is what happens to the youth and families who seek help here. You make that help possible. Our "bottom line" is much too important for a lack of information, poor communication, or a bad attitude. Each of you affects every child here. Your gifts of cash, appreciated stocks, bequests, trusts, etc. are the reason for their success.

Thank you for considering ways that you can be the best help possible for troubled children and families. Thanks for letting us know what information, communications and attitudes help you feel most satisfied by your role in this critical ministry. Thanks to the airline for helping me keep things in prospective. Happy New Year!

"Good News"

*Rev. William J. Cowfer
Director, Church Relations*

"The Best Good News..." that's what one woman said about Barium Springs Home for Children, in a recent telephone conversation, just a few days before Christmas. She had called to say "Thank you for coming to our church this year to tell the story about the ministries provided by the Home to troubled children and families for 105 years."

She wanted to discuss making her first Christmas gift to the Home. She told how she had grown up and been an active member in the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina all her life. She had heard about Barium Springs Home for Children throughout the years, but never really had any real understanding about what the Home offered. She said she had no idea why or how she or anyone such as herself could or should be involved.

This woman said that, upon learning about this historic and compassionate Presbyterian ministry right here in North Carolina, she decided immediately that she wanted to be a part of it. In reflecting back over the year just past, she said "what I learned about Barium Springs Home for Children was about the 'Best Good News' I heard all year. Please continue telling the story." Her story is similar to many throughout the year.

Please schedule a time for us to tell the story for your Church about the Good News of God's Love and Care offered by the Home.

1995 CHILDREN'S TRUST FOUNDATION MEMBERS

Every penny that comes to the Home is critical in meeting the needs of today's children and families. In the past century, thousands of lives have changed because people have invested in young people and families that need help.

Although all gifts are important, some individuals, foundations and corporations have taken a leadership role in meeting these needs. The Children's Trust Foundation is the funding arm of the Home and is supported by annual gifts of $100 to over $25,000. This support is the active participation that makes all the positive influence that occurs here possible.

The following list of Children's Trust Annual Members recognizes those exceptional investors that exemplify the loving, giving spirit which has sustained this mission for over 100 years.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers. REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery, or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

VOL. 73

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SPRING, 1996

STORM DAMAGE CREATES COSTLY REPAIRS

Children and staff here aren't likely to forget the Winter of 1996. The storm that dropped eight inches of snow on the campus January 6 - 8, was just a sample of the winter to come. A week later temperatures in the high 60's accompanied two violent thunderstorms. Eight days later we were plunged into a devastating ice storm that left the campus looking as it did after Hurricane Hugo.

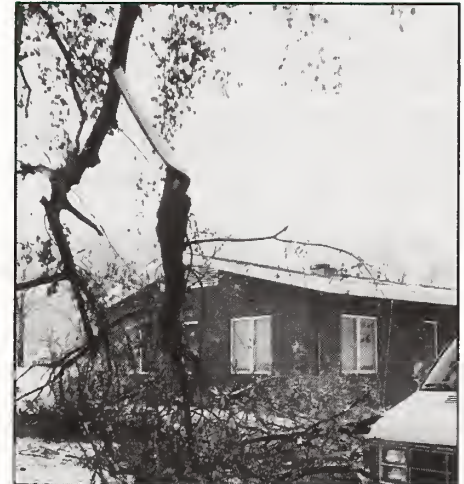

Maintenance Supervisor Bobby Nesbit said the damages from the ice storm were costlier than Hugo damages because most of the trees on campus had broken or cracked limbs and tree tops.

Hugo, most of them were blown over. It will cost far more to bring in bucket trucks to cut the hanging limbs and tree tops than it cost to cut trees that were already on the ground," said Nesbit.

The unexpected costs of cleaning up from the ice storm have been estimated at $18,000.

The campus also has three buildings with flat roofs that were already in need of repair, but made worse by the constant freezing and thawing of the unusually harsh winter. Costs for replacing those roofs are estimated at almost $100,000. These costs add up to one very expensive Winter.

Cleaning up and cutting dangerous limbs from trees is going to cost about $18,000!

THANKS FOR THE LABELS!!

Our thanks goes out to all the wonderful people who sent in Campbell's® soup labels! We collected 25,000 labels and redeemed them with the Campbell's® Labels for Education Project for a 35 mm zoom lens camera to use in special class projects and a deluxe headset with six earphones and jacks.

As this is an on-going project, the Wagner and Family Child Development Center asks that you continue to collect your labels. Our goal is to double the amount of labels we collect by March of 1997 to 50,000.

Between now and June 7th Campbell's® is offering bonus points

BUIE GRADUATING FROM UNC-CH

Former resident Larry Wayne Buie graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill on May 12, 1996, with a Bachelor of Arts in French.

LARRY WAYNE BUIE

Buie, who was a resident of the Preparation for Adult Living Program from 1988 until his high school graduation in 1991, has been attending the University with help from Barium Springs Higher Education Fund.

Buie has studied in France three times in the last six years. First, in 1990, he went as part of a cultural exchange with his high school. In the summer of 1993 (between his freshman and sophomore years at UNC), he received college credit for a month-long intensive language course in France. Then he became one of the five students selected to study abroad for the 1994-95 school year at the Universite de Montpellier in Southern France.

A Word from

Looking to The Future

Robert W. Stansell, Jr.

This is an exciting time at Barium Springs as our Board of Regents begins a comprehensive review of our strategic plan. Members of the board, staff and co-opted experts in residential child care, Christian Education, management, architecture, and engineering have been organized into five task forces to review all aspects of our ministry.

Their work will include a complete evaluation of existing programs and facilities on our campus as well as a review of programming directions in residential child care and day care. One of the task forces is specifically charged with reviewing and strengthening our relationship to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.).

Later this year the Board's Strategic Planning Committee will issue a report designed to guide the development of this one hundred and five year old ministry of the Presbyterian Church into the twenty-first century. I look forward to reporting to you in future issues of the Messenger on our plans.

This is an exciting time at Barium Springs. Please keep us in your prayers.

STORM DAMAGE MEANS COSTLY REPAIRS

Ice knocked campus power out Feb. 2-4. Children and staff spent the first night using the cottage fireplaces to keep warm. A lack of wood and plummeting temperatures forced them to spend the next night at a local Red Cross Shelter, where children and staff were praised by Red Cross workers for their help.

"I think the workers were afraid our kids would be a discipline problem," said Frank Stewart, Director of Residential Services.

"They were pleasantly surprised when they pitched right in to help move tables, set up sleeping areas and whatever else the workers needed. Our staff even helped squelch a 2 a.m. pillow-fight by other children staying at the shelter. The workers couldn't say enough about how cooperative our children were."

The next night was spent in hotel rooms as staff continued contacting parents in an effort to get the children home. "With no power and near-zero temperatures, it wasn't safe to keep the children on campus," said Stewart.

Stewart was very appreciative of the Red Cross and Emergency Services that helped the children and staff. Praise also goes to our children's families who made the effort to get them out of this situation quickly. One family in Charlotte even opened up their home to three girls and staff so they would have a place to stay.

The administration and staff put in many extra hours to ensure the safety of the children and make a bad situation a lot better.

Things are finally returning to normal, and you can believe that everyone here was ready for SPRING!!!

BARIUM SPRINGS HOPE FOR CHILDREN

... Silver Lining

*W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President, Financial Resources*

First let me tell you about the dark cloud in hopes you will forgive me by the time I get to the silver lining and you will again help us take advantage of a wonderful opportunity.

I just plain goofed! In my communication with Food Lion last summer, I understood our shopping dates were confirmed. They were not! In addition, we had two violations of the Food Lion Community Way Days rules. First, receipts from Virginia Food Lions were mailed to Food Lion's Salisbury office, and the rules stipulate that only receipts from North Carolina Food Lions are eligible. Second, an article about Barium Springs/Food Lion days appeared in a Virginia newspaper. Rules state that no advertisements can appear in the newspaper, only in the Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian, the Barium Messenger and by direct mail notification. So, your most generous efforts on our behalf to collect and send in receipts from February, 1996 will yield no support, but. . .

We have a wonderful new opportunity!!! Our great friends at Food Lion are giving us another chance to generate this critical annual income we so badly need for the children. And in addition, there is a new system that will eliminate the need to collect and send us your receipts. This should make many of you who are church secretaries and other friends very happy. You will get all the procedure details later, but in general there is a new voucher system which will enable Food Lion's computers to tally all receipts and send us a check two weeks after the shopping days.

We will be mailing three vouchers to all our friends in July which can be used on August 19, 20, 21, 1996 to shop for the children.

Well, that's my story and I'm sticking to it. Forgive me? Believe me, the staff in the office here are personally seeing to it that I suffer amply.

"Good News"

*Rev. William J. Cowfer
Director, Church Relations*

Good News is still Good News today. Recently I made a presentation about the current ministries Barium Springs Home for Children provides for troubled children and their families. After the program a woman came to me and said; "The story about Barium Springs Home for Children is still good news today."

She continued, saying; "I can remember when I was just a little girl I would hear my grandmother saying, 'Barium Springs is the most wonderful place in all the world for girls and boys who need a place to go'. As a little girl I often wondered why my grandmother never took me there, because she took me to many other wonderful places."

My grandmother served on the Board for Barium Springs when I was just a little girl. Now as an adult working for Child Protective Services, I could say to my grandmother, if she were alive today, 'Barium Springs is still Good News today'. While I now understand why she never took me there as a little girl, I can echo the words of my grandmother, Barium Springs is one of the most wonderful places in all the world for troubled girls and boys and for their families."

If you would like to know more about the Home and why this nice lady and her grandmother thought it was such a wonderful place, please fill out the coupon below and send it in. I would love to enlighten you!

Buie was inducted into the French Honor Society in April, 1994. Prior to his year in France, he lived in the French House, a live-in learning program in Carmichael Dormitory on campus.

Though Buie seems to have the world at his fingertips right now, it unfortunately has not always been so. Problems with his parents are what brought him to the PAL program in the first place.

"I was having some real problems at home, some that I was creating, some my parents were," said Buie. "Being away from home with other people gave me not only a new perspective on life, but a wider perspective as well. The staff at PAL made me take a long look at myself and what I wanted out of life. I'd never have had the motivation to accomplish the things I have without them."

NEW GIFT WISH LIST

- *Sporting Equipment: Sleeping bags; fishing rods & lures; canoe(s) or small john boats; tennis racquets & balls; soft balls & gloves; out-door games

If you are interested in donating any of these items new for the children, call or write to: Mr. Reade Baker, Vice President, Financial Resources, PO Box 1, Barium Springs, NC 28010; 704/872-4157.

Buie also said that being away from home allowed his parents to work things out for themselves.

"The staff helped them too," said Buie. "I've always known I was very different from my parents, but at PAL I learned that it was okay, and that it didn't mean I didn't love them, I just couldn't live with them."

Buie's plans after graduation are to take continuing education courses in the sciences for a year and then to apply to the Dental School at Chapel Hill.

Buie said that he had become interested in dentistry early on in school, but had not considered trying to go to dental school because of another life-long problem he has had to overcome... his Epilepsy.

The medication Buie was taking to prevent seizures was almost more debilitating than the disease itself.

"I could hardly function when I was taking that medication," said Buie. "It took two alarm clocks to wake me up in the morning. I was always lethargic and I put on weight. I knew there was no way I could make it through something as strenuous as dental school, let alone practice dentistry, while I was on that medication."

Buie got a break two years ago. His doctors put him on a new medication which successfully controls his seizures without the side effects.

"It controls my seizures better; doesn't sap my energy; and I've lost 70 pounds," said Buie. "It has really given me a whole new outlook on life!"

Buie also said he wouldn't have made it through college without the financial assistance he has received from the Home. He is in hopes that the Home will continue to lend him aid, though he also plans to continue to work part time.

WE ARE PROUD OF YOU LARRY!

KEEP THOSE LABELS COMING!!

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery, or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency - Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church (USA), Synod of the Mid-Atlantic

Vol. 73, No. 3

Barium Springs, North Carolina

Summer 1996

June is traditionally the season for graduates, and the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program is no exception! Four of PAL's residents are recent high school graduates: Alike Alston, Melissa Barnett, Michael Mauro and Kelly Turnham. All four have distinct plans for the future.

Alike Alston is actually the newest face at PAL, having arrived the first week of June. She graduated from Jordan High School in Durham on May 29, and plans to get a job this summer and then begin classes at Mitchell Community College in the fall. Alike is leaning toward the medical field, and her high school classes in anatomy, biology and ecology should serve her well.

She heard about PAL from a hospital social worker and says she hopes the program will enable her to "learn to be more independent and responsible." Alike plans to be at PAL for one to two years.

June 7 was a red-letter day for Melissa Barnett. It was the day she received her diploma from South Iredell High School, where she ran track and was in the ROTC program. A resident of PAL for 14 months, Melissa will be leaving Barium Springs this fall to attend Winston-Salem State University. She hopes that her chosen field, psychology, will lead to a job as a social worker or counselor, and plans to open her own practice eventually.

By her own admission, Melissa has come a long way since entering PAL. She said she used to have problems taking responsibility for her actions. "Now I've learned to respect adults here and give them credit for what they're doing." Melissa had also found a previous program to be more critical than the one at PAL: "Here they're (see PAL GRADS, page 2)

FOOD LION COMMUNITY WAY DAYS

First, the good news: it's time once again for Food Lion's Community Way Days.

Now, the really good news: it's easier than ever for North Carolina Presbyterians to participate!

To take part in this summer's Community Way Days to benefit Barium Springs Home for Children, simply buy your groceries at any North Carolina Food Lion on August 19, 20, or 21, 1996, and present a CWD voucher to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scanning process. Once the transaction is complete and the voucher has been scanned, the cashier will keep the voucher. The system automatically calculates 5% of the total retail order, and that 5% is Food Lion's contribution to Barium Springs Home for Children on your behalf.

There's even a bonus: purchase any MVP product(s) and present your MVP card along with the voucher for an additional 25 cent contribution.

That's it—there are no messy receipts for you to keep track of. What an easy way to contribute to a great cause!

OPEN HOUSE REPORT

The first ever Open House at Barium Springs Home for Children was a smashing success! Held on Saturday, May 4, the event welcomed 150 Presbyterians to the campus for food, fellowship, and fun.

Visitors were treated to a barbecue lunch; live bluegrass music by Winston-Salem band Blades of Grass; a worship service, led by Dr. J. Randolph Taylor; a speech by BSHC President Skip Stansell; and a tour of the campus.

Dr. Taylor's worship service at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church was well-received. "He did an excellent job outlining how the Christian church has responded to the needs of children and provided special care for children throughout history, and affirmed the ministry of Barium Springs as continuing that rich heritage," noted Bill Cowfer, BSHC Director, Church Relations.

Stansell spoke of the ongoing services and ministry offered by the Home, focusing on the hopes and dreams for the future as outlined by the strategic planning committee of the Board of Regents.

The day was topped off by a staff-led walking tour of the campus. Sites visited were the church, the Wagner Family and Child Development Center, the Preparation for Adult Living Cottage, Sullivan Cottage, the Adolescent Center, the Pre-Adolescent School, and the Alumni Museum.

Please plan to join us in the fall of 1997 as we conduct our Second Annual Open House! Watch this newsletter for details.

The Blades of Grass entertain the crowd.

OTHER PEOPLE'S CHILDREN

Robert W. Stansell, Jr.

Recently the headlines in our local newspaper told of a child abuse hearing, charges against a 13-year-old child for burning a church, and a story of a 12-year-old child who shot a 16-year-old child. These tragic stories caused me to focus once again on the words of Lillian Katz, who wrote:

"Each of us must come to care about everyone else's children. We must recognize that the welfare of our children and grandchildren is intimately linked to the welfare of all other people's children. After all, when one of our children needs life-saving surgery, someone else's child will perform it. If one of our children is threatened or harmed by violence, someone else's child will have been responsible for the violent threat or act. The good life for our own children can be secured only if a good life is also secured for other people's children."

It seems to me that Lillian Katz has captured the essence of the national challenge that faces us. Our mission at Barium Springs is to respond to this challenge by supporting families in their efforts to raise healthy, happy, productive children who will ultimately make a positive contribution to their own families and communities.

It is a joy and a privilege to be a part of this 105-year-old mission of the Presbyterian Church. I am grateful for your continued prayers and support.

understanding and give you another chance...I like being here."

Michael Mauro received his GED in November 1995, and has been at PAL for about four months. He is currently working full-time and attending the CNA (Certified Nursing Assistant) program at Mitchell Community College. After completing school this summer, Michael would like to become either a registered nurse or a recreational occupational therapist. In fact, he currently has job offers from some home healthcare agencies.

For several years before coming to PAL, Michael lacked a stable environment, which he says made it difficult for him to plan for his future. Now he has time to weigh his options "instead of rushing into something." He plans to remain at PAL until early 1997.

North Carolina Scholar Kelly Turnham graduated from South Iredell High School on June 7. Kelly received Certified Nursing Assistant training and completed a hospital internship during high school. This summer she will work both as a camp counselor and as a CNA at a residential care facility. Then in the fall Kelly will head west to Montreat College, where she plans to get a degree in human services and eventually become a counselor at a group home.

Kelly has been at PAL since October 1995. She feels that being at PAL has helped her immensely: "I've been a whole lot happier here...the staff has helped me in making good grades." Kelly's enthusiasm for PAL must be contagious, because she says her younger sister wants to come here too.

Both Kelly and Melissa will get higher education funds from Barium Springs Home for Children to help them with their college tuition.

You may recall reading about Brandon Stafford in this space last year. Brandon is a 1995 high school graduate who has remained at PAL while working full-time and taking two classes at Mitchell Community College. He has made tremendous progress in the past year, demonstrated by the fact that he will attend Appalachian State University this fall. Brandon will receive college money from the Home as well.

The PAL program is housed in Howard Cottage at the Adolescent Center. It is for youth ages 16 to 22 who have fewer social, emotional and academic problems than youth in the Adolescent Center program, and whose home situations are such that they cannot return there to live.

Youth living at PAL maintain full- or part-time jobs while attending school, and learn life skills such as cooking, keeping a checking or savings account, job interviewing skills, and much more. Like Kelly, Melissa, and Brandon, they can also apply for scholarships to help them with their higher education.

Please join the staff of Barium Springs Home for Children in sending congratulations to PAL's four proud graduates, and congratulate yourselves as well for helping make their successes possible!

A GIFT OF LOVE

W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President, Financial Resources

To our knowledge, she had made two gifts of $5 each to the children here at the Home, in 1985 and again in 1989. There could have been others through her Presbyterian Church, maybe in the annual Thanksgiving offering for Barium Springs.

Last month we received a copy of a hand-written will, barely legible (a lot like my writing), written in 1991. In it she specifies all arrangements for her funeral and gives her executor specific instructions for the distribution of her estate. She identifies household items and gifts of cash and their recipients. This lamp here, that picture to her, the clock to him...it is the most loving testament of appreciation I've ever seen.

In one sentence she instructs her executor to simply "Give money to needy causes and any you know need help." She mentions several "causes" that must have had special meaning to her. The ones she chooses to mention all have one thing in common: children in need.

It was late on a Friday afternoon when a gentleman climbed the stairs here at the main office and was met by Linda Parker, the Home's chief bookkeeper. He identified himself as the executor of an estate and wanted to write us a check for the children. Our young people were very fortunate to be named as a recipient of her love and concern.

The executor had some discretion as to the amounts to "give to needy causes" named in the will. He had decided to give us $15,000. As he asked questions about our program and the needs of those we serve, he decided our benefactor would be most pleased if he increased that amount. Her much appreciated total life giving of $10 had become a $20,000 investment in the lives of troubled youth who "need help."

John Bunyan said "You have not lived until you have done something for someone who can never repay you." This donor did indeed live. Her caring spirit will go on living for generations in the lives of children here today and in the lives of their children's children. Her generosity's ripple effect could have changed the world forever. I know it did for children here.

Is your will in order?

GOOD NEWS

Rev. William J. (Bill) Cowfer
Director, Church Relations

Good News is the central message of the Christian Church. While the public media seems to report a preponderance of bad news, there is much good news which often goes unreported but deserves our affirmation and celebration.

A recent release from Religious News Service reported, "Overall giving to U.S. charities surged 10 percent in 1995, with Americans giving more than $144 billion to nonprofit groups. Giving by individuals grew at 11 percent and by corporations 7 percent."

Giving to Barium Springs Home for Children has not kept pace with this rate of growth, but individuals and churches have given increased support when they understood the need for continuing the ministry of the Home. Such giving has made it possible for us to purchase a much needed van, and funds are currently arriving to help replace the roof on our adolescent center.

One church recently wrote: "We hope the enclosed check will help. We didn't know the Home had such a need for help." Your gift or increased support will help enable us to replace the roof soon and continue reporting good news about the ministries provided by the Home.

The Home will be sending CWD vouchers to N.C. Presbyterians who are on the Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian mailing list.

There are a couple of rules to keep in mind. First, this project is only for N.C. Food Lions—no other states are valid. Second, participants are not permitted to distribute vouchers in the store or parking lot, or ask Food Lion employees to distribute vouchers for them. (You may, however, give a voucher to a friend or relative to use.) If either rule is violated, our project may be disqualified.

This is the sixth year the Home has taken advantage of this wonderful opportunity afforded us by our generous friends at Food Lion. And thanks to your efforts, we have received almost $45,000 from the company over the past five years.

Your help makes a world of difference, one family at a time, through Barium Springs Home for Children. So please plan to do your grocery shopping at Food Lion August 19-21. Our kids and their families are counting on you!

BARIUM ALUMNI CHOSEN AS OLYMPIC TORCHBEARERS

Barium Springs Home for Children alumni Mary Jane Bolton Alexander and Walter Snead never imagined the circumstances under which they would see one another again after 34 years away from the Home. They reunited under an Olympic flame.

Both were chosen to carry the torch for the United States as it makes its way across the Southeast to Atlanta, site of the 1996 summer Olympic games. Both had lived at Barium Springs (Mary Jane: 1949-1962; Walt: 1951-1963), both had attended various homecomings at the Home over the years, and both now live in the Atlanta area, but they had not seen each other since 1962.

When Mary Jane called the Home this spring to report on her selection as a torchbearer, she learned that Walt had been chosen too.

"It's overwhelming when you think about it," said Mary Jane of the torchbearer selection process. "I mean, what are the chances that two from Barium would have done it?"

Only 10,000 people from across the country were chosen to carry the flame.

Mary Jane works as a fraud analyst for Delta Airlines, which nominated 6,000 employees as potential torchbearers. Of that group, 96 were chosen to carry the torch, based on good customer service, ability to work well with others, and reputation for going the extra mile. Mary Jane was one of those 96. And as if that weren't impressive enough, five people out of the 96 were designated as "Champions," and Mary Jane is among that group as well!

Walt has become intimately acquainted with the Olympics over the past two and a half years, as he is currently working as Telecommunications Venue Manager for the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games (ACOG). Out of ACOG's 4,000 employees, 100 were picked at random to carry torches.

Walt's position with ACOG is key. He is responsible for getting all Olympic video to 197 countries from 31 sites. NBC, which will broadcast the games, takes the feed off ACOG.

The torch began its U.S. journey in April in Los Angeles, site of the 1984 summer games, and will travel 15,000 miles before it reaches Atlanta July 19.

(see TORCHBEARERS, page 8)

A NIGHT ON THE TOWN

Students and staff alike groove to "The Electric Slide" at the prom.

May 9, 1996 will go down in the history of Barium Springs School as the date of the school's very first prom! "A Night on the Town" was the theme for the event, which was the inspiration of teachers Deborah Ramseur (Sullivan Cottage) and Bobbie Samuels (Sanford Cottage).

Ramseur and Samuels got the idea of a prom during a teacher's meeting. They began planning in January, and the prom took about two months to put together.

Every student from both the Pre-Adolescent Center and the Adolescent Center attended A Night on the Town. The dining hall of the Adolescent Center was transformed for the occasion, using a sophisticated color scheme of black, white, and silver. Top hats, confetti, and champagne glasses served as table centerpieces; festive streamers and balloons hung from the ceiling; and paper and silver stars covered the walls.

A mini civics lesson was part of the planning process. Because of the students' involvement in the decorations, they had to deal with members of the public, such as store managers, Ramseur said.

The prom was a fun and unique experience for the students. "This might be the only formal dance some of them will ever go to," said Samuels. All of the girls were provided with corsages.

Families of students were kept apprised of the planning process and helped make sure dress clothes were available if needed.

Samuels pointed out that dressing up was beneficial for the students. "Our kids never dress like that...you could see their self-esteem increase."

Staff member David Stickle served as deejay for the evening, spinning a crowd-pleasing mix of tunes, including the ever-popular line dance song, "The Electric Slide."

An impressive array of refreshments was prepared by soon-to-be-retired cook Jimmie Lue Scott. The hot buffalo wings drew special raves.

A good time was had by all. "I think the staff was just as excited as the kids," Ramseur confessed. "I know I was!"

Samuels summed up the success of the prom: "Everybody worked together for the children. This was for them. It was a good memory for them."

Individuals photos were taken of the prom-goers. "It was really like going to the prom, except the limo," said Samuels. "Maybe next year we'll have a limo!"

That's right: the staff fully expects to host another prom in 1997. With a first-time event as successful as this one, they'd be foolish not to!

Thanks go out to area merchants for their generous contributions to A Night on the Town: Winn Dixie (Broad St.) in Statesville—carnations; Food Lion in Troutman—helium; and Rite Aid in Troutman—ribbon.

MEMORIAL AND HONOR GIFTS: A Way to Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Honor program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care. HERE IS HOW IT WORKS...

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

HONOR GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery, or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

DUKE ENDOWMENT INTERN

Summer intern Renu Bhatt.

She is happy that she has been able to form a positive, strong relationship with the girls right away. Renu says that both cottage residents and staff have made her job very easy. "The staff is fun to work with—it's not a chore to come to work. And it makes me feel good that the girls confide in me."

Meet Renu Bhatt! Renu is a rising junior at Davidson College who is doing a summer internship at Barium Springs Home for Children by way of the Duke Endowment.

This is the first time that the foundation has offered such a program. Eight students from Davidson, Duke, Johnson C. Smith, and Furman universities are participating in these paid internships, which are excellent opportunities for students to learn and to contribute to community programs like Barium Springs at the same time.

Renu, of Wayne, N.J., has been working with the girls and staff at Sullivan Cottage since mid-June. When asked what her daily duties are, Renu reeled off the following list: "Counseling, tutoring, nagging, discipline."

Renu is actually somewhat of an internship veteran. Last summer she interned with the Children's Law Center, a Charlotte law firm that represents children. Renu hopes to expand on that experience now by getting "a wider scope of what these kids' life experiences are like."

Although she realizes her work at the Home is beneficial to the residents, Renu points out that the experience is a two-way street. "I hope to be a positive influence on the girls, and to learn from them also."

As for the future, Renu is considering law school. "My ultimate goal is to be a judge."

Renu's exciting year continues after she leaves Barium Springs in August. She will spend the fall semester in Chile.

Thank you, Renu, for choosing to spend your summer at Barium Springs!

Walt chose to run in Charlotte (on June 24) to represent Barium Springs. Mary Jane will run in the Atlanta area July 15 or 16. Each will run about three-tenths of a mile.

Both vividly recall their first days at Barium Springs Home for Children (then known as Presbyterian Orphans Home). Mary Jane, who also had a brother and a sister here, remembers eating ice cream on her first day. Walt said he "cried for two hours" his first day, and after that he was fine.

Mary Jane and Walt have fond memories of life at Barium Springs. "There are no bad [memories]...It's home," said Walt.

"I think we had more activities than any family," he continued, citing sports like softball and skating.

"You had 150 brothers and sisters to do it with," added Mary Jane.

Christmas was an especially magical time. Fred Kirby, everyone's favorite local television personality/cowboy, entertained the children each year.

Walt recalls the time (about 1953) when Santa Claus made a special delivery. The jolly one arrived in an Army helicopter, bearing the Home's first TV set.

"The screen must have been only about six inches wide, but I remember everyone gathering around it to watch 'Howdy Doody,'" said Walt.

About the honor of carrying the torch, Mary Jane said: "How do you describe it? It may be the best thing that ever happened, besides marriage, family and [getting my job at] Delta."

Walt echoed his former classmate's sentiments: "It'll be one of those things I'll cherish for a lifetime."

BETTE CHASTAIN HONORED FOR 25 YEARS OF SERVICE

Bette Chastain prepares to dig into her 25th anniversary cake.

Bette Chastain was honored Sept. 13 at an open house celebrating her 25 years of employment at Barium Springs Home for Children.

Mrs. Chastain began working at the Home on Sept. 13, 1971, as Secretary for the Development Department. She became Secretary/Receptionist for the Administration Office in May 1985.

The open house was held at the Administration Office following a staff luncheon and was attended by Mrs. Chastain's co-workers, friends and family members. Mrs. Chastain was presented with a matching set of luggage to be used for the many cross-country trips she has planned with her husband, James.

"I have enjoyed all my time here," said Mrs. Chastain. "All the people I've known over the years have been a delight."

Mrs. Chastain and her husband live in Statesville. She is the daughter of Charles W. Burns, Sr. of Charlotte and the late Dorothy P. Burns.

WANTED: NEW LOGO

Barium Springs Home for Children is in need of a little artistic assistance, and you can help!

Our mission statement has been revised, our old logo (it's the cross with 10 figures at the top right of this page) is ready for retirement, and we're seeking inspiration for a new design. And there are no better folks to help us complete this process than people like you, who support our ministry and understand what we're all about.

The design should reflect the philosophy put forth in our new mission statement, at right.

If you have an idea for a new logo—anything from a simple concept to a full-fledged design—we'd love to hear from you. Please send your submissions in the enclosed postage-paid envelope to BSHC by Dec. 10. Thank you!

THE MISSION

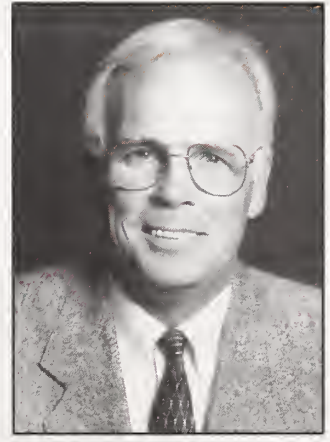

Barium Springs Home for Children provides a loving, Christian and highly professional response to the most crucial needs of North Carolina's children and families.

TO THIS END, the Home is a family focused mission of the Presbyterian Church (USA). We believe that each person is created in the image of God, worthy of love, respect and redemption.

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS BELIEF the Home, over a century old, offers a nationally accredited residential ministry to heal severely troubled families with children ages 10 years and over. The Home also presents the state and synod with a model day care program for families with children six weeks to 10 years of age.

FROM A STRONG REFORMED CHRISTIAN TRADITION the Home provides religious nurture and psychological, psychiatric, educational, recreational and family social work services.

AUTHOR RICHARD MCKENZIE IS AMONG ALUMNI AT HOMECOMING

of August.

Richard McKenzie is the Walter B. Gerken Professor of Enterprise and Society in the Graduate School of Management at the University of California, Irvine. He is the author of numerous books on economics, but his latest work has nothing to do with capital or marketing. The Home: A Memoir of Growing Up in an Orphanage is the moving story of McKenzie's eight years at Barium Springs Home for Children.

When he first started writing The Home, McKenzie did not intend it for publication. Instead, it was to be a memoir for his four children—to understand why their father was the person he was.

"I expected it to go into a bank vault, so I made it brutally honest," said McKenzie. (see MCKENZIE, page 12)

This year there was a celebrity of sorts among the approximately 300 alumni returning to campus for the traditional Homecoming the first weekend

A Word from the President

Back to the Future

Robert W. Stansell, Jr.

Homecoming at Barium Springs is always a wonderful experience for me. During the first weekend of August each year, several hundred alumni gather to celebrate lifelong relationships that were born on this campus during a childhood that prepared these alumni for healthy, happy, productive lives.

As our alumni came together for Homecoming '96, the Board of Regents and staff were working to prepare a campus plan for the 21st century. I was particularly interested in identifying the values that have guided this ministry since its founding in 1891 and understanding which of these values would be relevant in the next century.

The most glorious experience that a non-alumnus can have at Homecoming is to hear the stories that our alumni tell about their lives at Barium Springs. These stories are all personal, unique, and wonderful. Stories are told about a special teacher, about the strict discipline in the cottages, about work on the farm, orchard, sewing room and dining hall, about the athletic teams, about church and Sunday school attendance, and about going to camp on the Catawba River. This year I realized that throughout each of these stories is woven a common theme rich in the values that our alumni have taken from this campus into the world.

In fact, as I listen to these stories, four core values seem to emerge from the collective experiences of our alumni. These four core values are:

- 1.) focus on religious nurture;
- 2.) emphasis on solid academic preparation;
- 3.) the development of a work ethic;
- 4.) opportunities to participate in sports and recreation activities that build self-esteem, self-confidence and teamwork.

As we seek to meet the changing needs of the times, I believe that these core values are as relevant for the 21st century as they were in the late 19th century when they began to evolve as organizational values on this campus. Indeed, I hope that these core values will lead us back to the future.

Food Lion Project a Success

Thanks to the generosity of Food Lion and the participation of thousands of North Carolina Presbyterians and their friends, the recent 1996 Food Lion Community Way Days fundraiser was a big success for Barium Springs Home for Children.

The Home received a check from Food Lion for $10,604.02, representing five percent of all purchases made by Presbyterians who shopped at North Carolina Food Lions on August 19, 20 and 21. These funds will support the children and families served by Barium Springs.

A total of 4,761 Community Way Days vouchers were submitted to Food Lion stores in 81 counties on behalf of the Home.

This is the sixth time that Barium Springs Home for Children has participated in the Community Way Days program.

Mark your calendars for next year: our 1997 Community Way Days will take place Feb. 10, 11 and 12. So when you're shopping for your Valentine, remember to get a sweet treat for Barium Springs Home for Children, too—in the form of a donation via our friends at Food Lion!

Remember the Children at Thanksgiving

The annual Thanksgiving offering for the Presbyterian Churches in the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic is almost upon us.

Funds from the offering are to be divided among Barium Springs Home for Children, Presbyterian Home and Family Services, Inc., Presbyterian Children's Home of the Highlands, Inc., Edmarc Hospice for Children, Volunteer Emergency Families for Children (Va.), and Volunteer Families for Children (N.C.).

The children at Barium Springs and the other five agencies within the Synod boundaries count on the funds raised from this offering. It will be taken up through local churches, which are to send the monies to their Presbytery treasurer for remittance to Synod.

On behalf of the children and families we serve, we give thanks to you for your Thanksgiving generosity.

A Gift of Love

W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President, Financial Resources

Both had a primary concern: they wanted to share their blessings with children who needed help to overcome potentially devastating early emotional scars. They wanted to give back as they had been given... to practice "serial reciprocity".

When we first met in 1990, they were making plans for their aging care. Both were in their late 70s. She had a bout with cancer and was weak from therapy, but recovering. He was strong and healthy. Both made wise provisions in their wills through trust arrangements to care for the other. They knew, at their age, a Charitable Remainder Trust was their best option for providing significant income and estate tax savings and an opportunity for sharing their blessing when their need for support ended.

In 1991, quite unexpectedly, he passed away. She was well cared for until her death in June of this year. Thanks to good planning, she received an excellent income for life and both realized substantial estate tax savings from the Trust they established in their wills.

Children here just received a gift of approximately $35,000. The Home was one of six charities with which these good people wanted to practice their "serial reciprocity". Because they cared and shared, many lives will change for the better. Lives here today and the lives of their children's children may no longer bear the burden of legacies of abuse that plagues too many families.

"Serial reciprocity"—the act of sharing the blessings you've received... giving back as you've been given. Those of us who thank God for our blessings can do so by spreading them around. The way you feel when you do is yet another blessing.

Good News

Rev. William J. (Bill) Cowfer
Director, Church Relations

Caring persons find new and creative ways of sharing. We recently received a gift from Albemarle Road Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, with a letter which read as follows:

"We have recently completed our Together-Touching Tomorrow Capital Campaign... A tithe of that campaign is for benevolences. We have determined that your very important work at Barium Springs Home for Children needs support from these benevolences. This gift is separate from any other commitments we make through our annual budget or special offerings. We are excited about being a part of the work you are doing for children. Thank you for letting us be a part of this outreach."

One of the most effective examples any session can demonstrate for members of their church is to model tithing of all regular and capital receipts for mission outreach beyond the congregation unless designated otherwise by the donor. Such gifts will touch the joy in all who give as well as those being served in the name and spirit of Christ, our Lord.

GRANT NEWS

The Cannon Foundation

The Cannon Foundation, Inc. has announced a $25,000 grant to Barium Springs Home for Children to aid in replacing the leaking roofs on two key campus buildings: the day care center and the central building of the Adolescent Center.

The L.C. Wagner Family & Child Development Center houses the Home's preschool program. The central building of the Adolescent Center houses the school, central dining hall and residential center office space. The roof project, known as the "Cover the Children Campaign", has a total budget of $178,650, of which $153,160 has been raised to date. These funds will be used to replace the 1960s-era flat roofs with new, slightly pitched roofs.

The Cannon Foundation is based in Concord, N.C. It was established in 1943 by the late Charles A. Cannon, who was President and Chairman of Cannon Mills Company for more than 50 years.

The purpose of The Cannon Foundation is to receive and administer funds for religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational purposes in North Carolina. The Foundation has helped Barium Springs Home for Children meet critical needs throughout the years.

The Duke Endowment

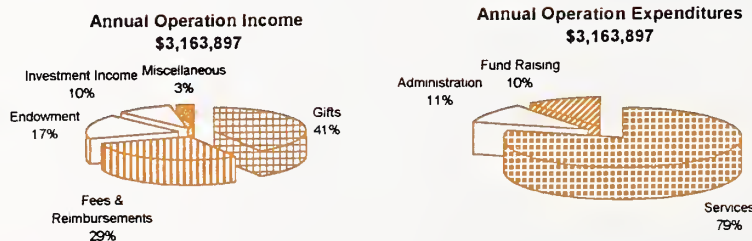

Barium Springs Home for Children has received a $19,000 grant from The Duke Endowment to repair damage sustained in last winter's ice storm.

Late January's severe weather wreaked havoc on the Home's tree-filled campus, producing damage similar to that caused by Hurricane Hugo in 1989. Storm-related costs were fully covered by The Duke Endowment grant.

Founded in 1924 by North Carolina industrialist James Buchanan Duke, The Duke Endowment is one of the nation's largest private foundations. Its assets total about $1.65 billion. The Endowment provides assistance to not-for-profit hospitals and child-care institutions in North and South Carolina; to rural United Methodist churches and retired ministers in North Carolina; and to Davidson College and Duke, Furman and Johnson C. Smith universities.

In 1995, the Endowment approved grants of nearly $51.2 million. Awards since 1924 total almost $1.2 billion. The Duke Endowment provides annual operating and occasional special grants to Barium Springs Home for Children.

ANNUAL REPORT FISCAL YEAR 1995

Net realized and unrealized gain on long-term investments $2,305,220

Gain (loss) on sale of property and equipment ($102,510)

A copy of the Annual Audit is available for review in the main office.

MEMORIAL AND HONOR GIFTS: A Way to Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Honor program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS...

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

HONOR GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery, or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

Davidson Scholarship Honors Joseph B. Johnson

A need-based scholarship has been established at Davidson College to honor Joseph B. Johnson. Mr. Johnson served as Superintendent of Barium Springs Home for Children for 27 years beginning in 1922. During this time it is estimated that he was instrumental in transforming the lives of more than 1,500 boys and girls who lived at the Home.

The history of the Home and the stories of the children who lived here during Mr. Johnson's era reflect the high priority he placed upon education. Barium Springs alumnus Rufus A. Long of Falls Church, Va., recalls: "Mr. Johnson put a great store on education when I was at Barium. He encouraged me to go to college and to graduate school." Charles Barrett, President of the Barium Springs Alumni Association, reports that Mr. Johnson "encouraged every boy at Barium Springs to go to Davidson." Indeed, Rufus Long and Charles Barrett both graduated from Davidson College along with many other Barium Springs alumni.

The ties between Barium Springs and Davidson College date back more than a century to 1891, when the Home was established on 40 acres of land purchased from the college. Mr. Johnson maintained a close relationship with Davidson during his long tenure as Superintendent of Barium Springs. He received several honors from the college, including an honorary doctorate. He served on the Davidson College Board of Trustees for nine years prior to his death in 1951.

Alumni wishing to make contributions to the scholarship fund should contact the Davidson College Development Office at (704)892-2467.

Summer means lots of spare time! Residents of Sullivan Cottage asked BSHC President Skip Stansell for a service project, and he pointed them in the direction of the soccer field's athletic field house, which needed a coat of paint. The Sullivan girls were joined by a team of Goodman Cottage painters as well, and the field house was sparkling in no time.

Lisa S. Crater

In June BSHC staff members bid a bittersweet farewell to Lisa S. Crater, who had served as Administrative Assistant in Public Relations/Development for nearly 11 years.

Lisa Crater Ends 11-Year Stint at Barium Springs

Lisa began her job at Barium Springs in August 1985, shortly after earning a journalism degree from UNC-Chapel Hill. She served as Editor of both the Barium Messenger and a page in the Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian newspaper, and coordinated the direct mail program.

An open house held in Lisa's honor at the Administration Office was attended by numerous BSHC staff members, past and present, in addition to Lisa's family and friends.

Lisa has gone into semi-retirement for a while to stay home with her two young sons, Ethan, 6, and Aaron, 4. Lisa, her husband Owen and boys live in Salisbury.

Rosemary H. Martin took over Lisa's duties at Barium Springs in late May. She is a graduate of Wake Forest University, and most recently served as Executive Director of Associated Artists of Winston-Salem.

Rosemary brings to her new position extensive knowledge of non-profit organizations and written communications. She and her husband John live in Charlotte.

- Baseball gloves
- Bedroom dressers
- Bean bag chairs
- New books for the library

Group Building Activities Provide Chances for Fun, Learning

The Sullivan girls found fun, sun, and castles in the sand at Long Beach during intersession.

The “group building” segment of school intersession is something that every Barium Springs Home for Children resident looks forward to. This is a time when youth and counselors can relax and enjoy fun (and even educational) activities together.

This fall, residents took part in a wide variety of trips and activities, both locally and further afield.

Cannon Cottage boys went bowling, visited a dog grooming business, had fun at Hickory Dickory Dock, got into science at Discovery Place, and toured the Charlotte Observer. The boys were pleasantly surprised by their visit to the newspaper, where they got to see the comics being printed.

The boys of Stultz Cottage visited Sci-Works in Winston-Salem, where they took advantage of the many hands-on educational exhibits, and saw a movie about tornados. Then it was off to Charlotte for a screening of the spy movie “Mission Impossible.” The highlight of the week was a buffet meal at a Chinese restaurant.

Goodman Cottage girls enjoyed getting a taste of college life during a tour of Davidson College. They also had a “day out for beauty”, dined at a Chinese restaurant, and went to Hickory Dickory Dock.

Celebration Station in Greensboro was a destination for Sanford Cottage boys. They also visited the train museum in Spencer, a local ice cream plant, and R.J. Reynolds tobacco factory. Their busy week ended with yard work at Sanford and a trip to a race car shop. The Sanford group is new, and this was their first chance to get together for off-campus activities.

The girls of Sullivan Cottage trekked to Long Beach, where they swam, walked the pier, shopped, and enjoyed a bonfire. Side trips included a tour of historic downtown Wilmington and a visit to the UNCW campus. A high point of the trip was the “peaceful, serene” ferry ride to Southport.

Grannis Cottage boys had a memorable experience at a Kannapolis zoo, where they got to pet a jaguar. Discovery Place and a Japanese restaurant were other fun destinations. (One boy who had been a little unsure about Japanese cuisine “decided it wasn’t so bad after all”.) Grannis boys also toured the office of an eye doctor and got free eye exams.

The group building activities were successful in providing a sense of camaraderie and allowing youth and staff to get to know one another better outside the normal cottage setting. At the end of intersession, everyone was refreshed and ready to return to the classroom.

The son of alcoholic and abusive parents, McKenzie was 10 years old in 1952 when his mother died and his aunts sent him and his brother to live at Barium Springs. McKenzie believes now that the Home was the best possible thing that could have happened to him.

“It gave me a chance to make a break with my past,” he said. “I was on a life course that had no good end. I had the good fortune of coming here to a place that gave me boundaries, but at the same time gave me opportunities.”

His recollections of life at Barium Springs are vivid.

“The Home is like a video in my mind, constantly being replayed in full detail,” he writes. “I still see some of the paths in the woods, the exact places where I climbed the fences... and I hear the sounds of the other kids as if I were still there.”

Albert McClure, who was then the Superintendent at the Home, made it clear to McKenzie and other residents that he fully expected them to go on to college. McKenzie (and most others) did just that—he earned degrees from Pfeiffer College, the University of Maryland, and Virginia Tech.

McKenzie stresses that, as a highly successful alumnus of an orphanage, he is by no means an exception. He has done an intensive study of orphanage alumni that shows that they, as a group, have surpassed their peers of the same racial and age group in the general population by wide margins on almost all measures, including education, income, and outlook on life.

McKenzie acknowledges that there is an upward bias in the survey (alumni who have done well may have been more likely to respond), but asserts that overall, “these homes had a pretty good batting average.”

The response to The Home from his own fellow alumni has been one of “uniform support,” says McKenzie. He has also heard from non-orphans who thank him for explaining what life was really like in an orphanage.

A screenplay is being written for The Home, and there is talk of developing a television show from it.

McKenzie enjoyed Homecoming this year because of the “sense of family” he continues to find here, and is glad to know that the Home is continuing its mission of helping troubled children and families.

“I think Barium Springs is doing God’s work,” he said.

“I had the good fortune of coming here to a place that gave me boundaries, but at the same time gave me opportunities.”

New Residential Services Director Takes Helm

Jay Laurens was welcomed as the Director of Residential Services for Barium Springs Home for Children on Nov. 11, 1996.

In his new position, Jay will oversee the administration of the family-centered residential program for children and youth from 10 to 21 years of age.

Jay earned a bachelor's degree in Christian education from Pfeiffer University and a master's degree in special and correctional education from Lenoir-Rhyne College. He comes to Barium Springs with extensive experience in both social service and educational settings. Jay's previous positions include director of Christian education, special education teacher, and children's home clinical supervisor. Most recently, he was Manager of Residential Services for the Guilford County Area Mental Health/Developmental Disabilities/Substance Abuse Program in Greensboro.

Jay was drawn to Barium Springs Home for Children because of its church-related, private setting.

After only a few weeks on the job, Jay had already identified several goals. They include maximizing existing campus resources, reestablishing relationships with nearby human service agencies and community groups, and working closely with President Skip Stansell and the architectural firm of Lee Nichols Hepler on a new campus master plan.

Jay, his wife and two young sons live in Barium Springs.

HOMECOMING

August 2-3, 1997

Make plans now to join your fellow Barium Springs alumni for a weekend of reunion fun! This year's festivities will include a special 50th reunion for the Class of 1947.

Reynolds Donation Is a Welcome Addition to Campus

Reynolds International, Inc., of Richmond, Va., has donated vinyl siding materials to Barium Springs Home for Children.

The vinyl siding was installed on two of the houses that are part of the Barium Springs campus. A mechanical designer and three engineers from Reynolds visited the campus in December and worked on one of the houses. They then ate lunch with residents in the campus dining hall.

After lunch, they "attacked" the gymnasium basement, used for storage for the last 50 years, and did a remarkable job cleaning out old and now useless items. This was an extremely hard-working bunch.

The project was beneficial to all concerned. In a recent letter to Reade Baker, Vice President for Financial Resources at Barium Springs, Reynolds Mechanical Designer Chip Almarode wrote in part:

"On behalf of the engineering department and the four man team that visited you, thanks for a great and memorable weekend. Your hospitality and the smiles of the kids we saw and talked with was very rewarding. This is what Christmas is all about, sharing and giving... all of us have this year's memories for many Christmases to come. Thank you for your caring service."

A Word from

Ten Thousand Luminarias

Robert W. Stansell, Jr.

There have been 105 Christmases at Barium Springs Home for Children. Christmas 1996 was one of the most unique and wonderful. As always, you—our friends and supporters—responded to the needs of the children, who felt your love and concern as they opened their gifts.

It was the 10,000 luminarias and events of Dec. 13th that made this Christmas unique at Barium Springs. Jay Laurens, our new Director of Residential Services, wanted us to celebrate the birth of Christ in a big way and he wanted everyone on campus to celebrate together. I must admit that I was somewhat skeptical when Jay presented his plan. He said, "Let's make 10,000 luminarias and line all the roads and walkways on campus. Then let's have a Christmas dinner and worship together." So that's what we did.

The date was set for Dec. 13, the last day of school on our campus. Invitations were sent to children, staff and families, and the preparations began. For two weeks prior to the 13th, youth and staff took turns filling paper bags with sand and carefully placing a candle in each bag. A worship service, to be led by the young people, was planned and practiced.

The 13th arrived at last. In the afternoon the process of placing the luminarias on all the roads and walkways began. No one really knew how long it would take to set out 10,000 luminarias. We had fun as we worked together, and we quickly accomplished the task.

At dusk we lit the candles as our guests began to gather in the dining room. Together about 175 of us—children, families and staff—enjoyed a delightful Christmas dinner with turkey, ham and all the trimmings. After dinner several cottages entertained us. (You would have enjoyed the new words to the "Twelve Days of Christmas," as penned by Goodman Cottage.)

As we walked from the dining room across the campus to Little Joe's Church, rain began to fall, but not hard enough to extinguish the candles. The luminarias shone from one end of campus to the other.

Our young people and staff led us in a "Hanging of the Greens" service. Mr. Moore sang a solo, as did Tyrone. Many others shared their talents as we worshipped together that evening. At the end of the service, I knew that I had been given a special gift. It was the simple gift of worship and fellowship that captured and illuminated the Christmas spirit for me.

The warm memories of Christmas 1996 will remain with me for many years to come. I am grateful to our friends and supporters who always make the holiday a special time at Barium Springs, to Jay for his wonderful sense of vision and fun, and to everyone on our campus who helped make this one of our most unusual and wonderful Christmases ever. I think a new tradition was born this year at Barium Springs.

Incident Provides A Stark Reminder of Home's Mission

W. Reade Baker, CFRE
Vice President, Financial Resources

This year I celebrate 15 years serving children and families here at the Home. I feel truly blessed with the opportunity to serve them, and you.

From time to time there are stark reminders of the importance of this work that is made possible only because friends like you care to help troubled children and families. I've seen many tragic circumstances yield new, happy and productive beginnings because of the work of our talented staff. Today I got one such stark reminder.

Skip Stansell and I were called to our Adolescent Center for an emergency. They needed some extra men. When we arrived, we found a desperate teen, in our program less than a month, standing on a toilet with a rope around his neck, ready to end a troubled life. In an instant, a struggle fueled by a child's anger was ended by the compassion of our staff and the experience of a psychologist, and the youth was safely contained, the severed rope still circling his neck.

This child, and others here, need you very much. Thank you for your prayers, annual gifts, trust arrangements, wills and bequests, and gifts of other property that gave this child a place to be now and also the help he will need to find better solutions to help end the troubles in his life and not just "end a troubled life." You truly make the difference!

Bill Cowfer Ends Tenure as Director of Church Relations

The Reverend William J. Cowfer resigned as Director of Church Relations on Dec. 31, 1996. He had been with Barium Springs since June 1993, when he was appointed Associate for Financial Resources. Bill came to the Home at an ideal time, when costs were rising and increased church support was much needed.

In July of 1995, Bill became Director of Church Relations, a title that more accurately reflected his role. He helped to define clearly the role of this new position, in which he developed a variety of programs for different church groups. Bill logged thousands of miles on his car each year as he traveled among the five North Carolina Presbyteries, slide show in hand, making the crucial case for support of Barium Springs Home for Children. His work with pastors, churches, Presbytery staff and individual donors did much to help gain support for the children and families in our care. Bill was dedicated to the Home's mission and to children and families in need.

Among other things, Bill is now serving as interim pastor at Unity Presbyterian Church in Woodleaf, N.C.

Barium Springs' Board of Regents, staff, children and families send their thanks to Bill for his dedicated service to the Home, as well as their best wishes for his future endeavors.

The search for a new Director of Church Relations is in progress.

1996 Presbyterian Fund for Children Members

Every donation that comes to the Home is critical in meeting the needs of today's children and families. In the past century, thousands of lives have changed because caring donors have invested in young people and families who need their help. Although all gifts are important, some individuals, foundations and corporations have taken a leadership role in meeting these needs. The Presbyterian Fund for Children (formerly known as the Children's Trust Foundation) is the funding arm of the Home and is supported by annual gifts of $100 to over $25,000. This support is the active participation that makes all of the positive work that occurs here possible. The following list of Presbyterian Fund for Children annual members for 1996 recognizes those exceptional investors who exemplify the loving, giving spirit which has sustained this mission for over 100 years.

MEMORIAL AND HONOR GIFTS: A Way to Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor them through our Memorial and Honor program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

HONOR GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery, or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. No amount is mentioned.

To make a gift, please use the enclosed postage-paid envelope, or call (800)320-4157 for more information.
