TO OUR ALUMNI AND FRIENDS

Education flows from our dreams; universities are places where the dreams of youth are given the substance of ambition, and students are given the tools by which these ambitions can become their lives.

The thousands of alumni, parents, friends, businesses, foundations, and churches in this Honor Roll of Donors are helping young people at Wake Forest realize their dreams. I cannot imagine a better cause in which to invest one's life and resources. Thank you for making this possible for Wake Forest students now and in the future.

It is clear that in the future there will be a relatively small number of private universities that are of such stature and reputation that they will establish standards of academic excellence for the nation and indeed for the world. These institutions will flourish in any and all circumstances.

Wake Forest must be one of those institutions. That was the dream of our forebearers when they picked the institution up and moved it west. It is now our responsibility and our extraordinary opportunity to see those dreams made real.

This summer we lost one of Wake Forest's best friends, Wayne Calloway ('59, LLD '88), who never refused a call to serve his alma mater. Wayne often told me that he had a debt to Wake Forest that could never be repaid. Wake Forest had given him the tools with which to realize his dreams.

This fall, more than fifty donors who have endowed scholarships met with the students whose scholarships they sponsor. They have made the dreams of those students possible. The feeling of gratitude these students feel now is the source of a loving and loyal alumni body tomorrow.

On a much larger scale, that is what has built Wake Forest. Alumni have consistently and generously expressed their gratitude to Wake Forest. This Honor Roll is our opportunity to express our gratitude to those who have supported Wake Forest during the last year. Your support and loyalty gives substance to the dreams of deserving young people.

Sincerely,

THOMAS K. HEARN, JR.
PRESIDENT

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE FACULTY

W

The following are excerpts from a letter sent by Dean of the College Paul D. Escott to members of the College faculty at the beginning of the 1998-99 academic year.

Welcome to our new faculty members, and welcome back to all of you who are returning from the summer! I hope that 1998-99 will be a good year for all of you and a year in which we challenge our students to learn and to grow as human beings.

The faculty's accomplishments in the last few years are impressive. Approximately 100 new and stimulating first-year seminars have been developed. Varied, innovative, and effective uses of computer technology have taken hold in every department. Both students and faculty report that the climate for learning at Wake Forest is growing stronger. And amid these innovations, faculty members continue to achieve in scholarship and demonstrate their love for teaching. As I talk to students, I repeatedly hear that "the devotion and personal attention of Wake Forest professors" make an enormous difference in their lives. "The greatest asset of this University," wrote an English major, "is the faculty."

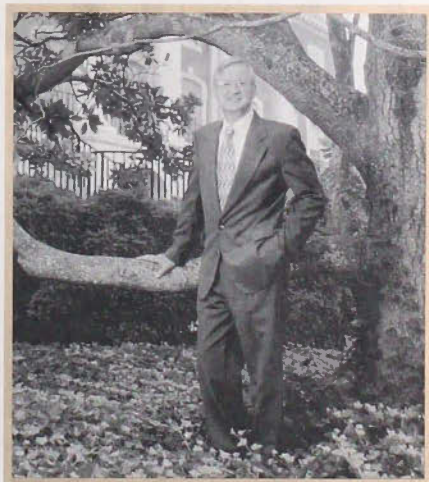

We have the potential, every day in our contacts with students, to inspire them to make more of themselves and to communicate the importance of learning, honor, and high ideals. Our students naturally take notice of models of commitment, high purpose, and integrity. Their education here occurs in many places – in the library and classroom to be sure, but also in a professor's office, in conversation with you on the sidewalk, or at a cultural event.

Since I became Dean, many alumni have told me about the enormous influence of faculty members on their intellect and their character. One alumnus spoke of "a debt to Wake Forest that can never be adequately repaid." In his case, the debt started with a need-based academic scholarship, but it also included "lifelong friendships, a framework of values, a way of thinking, wider windows on the world, an appreciation of scholarship and informed debate, and reasons for both hope and optimism." These comments document the potential of a Wake Forest education to help students develop their intellect and their values in the spirit of Pro Humanitate.

As this year unfolds, I hope that you will challenge your students with rigorous courses and high expectations, support them with advice or encouragement, and engage them in meaningful discussion about their decisions and actions. Insist on the importance of learning both inside the classroom and outside of it. These things can help make a difference in their lives, and that is one of the privileges that we enjoy in our profession. Best wishes in the coming year.

Sincerely,

PAUL D. ESCOTT

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Long-time supporters Petro and Roena Kulynych were named North Carolina Philanthropists of the Year in July.

The Kulynychs, who live in Wilkesboro, North Carolina, were recognized by the North Carolina Planned Giving Council for their extensive financial support of Wake Forest and other charitable organizations.

The Kulynychs have a long record of support for Wake Forest and the School of Medicine/North Carolina Baptist Hospital Medical Center. They made their first major gift in 1976 when they created several unitrusts to benefit Wake Forest College, the Medical School, and North Carolina Baptist Hospital. In 1993, they established the Roena B. and Petro Kulynych Scholarship Fund for students in the College and Medical School. And in 1995, they gave their home in Wilkesboro to the Medical Center.

The son of a Ukrainian immigrant, Kulynych rose from a job with the Civilian Conservation Corps during the Great Depression to the chairmanship of Lowe's, one of the largest home-improvement chains in the country. He served four terms on the Wake Forest Board of Trustees, beginning in 1976, and was named a life trustee in 1995.

One of the Kulynychs' daughters, Janice K. Story, graduated from Wake Forest in 1975. Their other daughter, Brenda K. Cline, is married to a graduate of the Babcock Graduate School of Management, Dale Cline (MBA '76). The Clines' three children have all attended Wake Forest.

The Kulynychs are just two of the thousands of donors listed in this Honor Roll of Donors who have made a difference for Wake Forest students in the last year.

The College Fund

THE Senior Class Campaign received a challenge gift from the F.M. Kirby Foundation to encourage participation in the campaign. The campaign, led by John Hage ('98), received commitments from 514 seniors and raised more than $32,000 for the College Fund.

a difference*

You can help Wake Forest crack the top 10. Wake Forest currently ranks 13th in the country in alumni giving percentage at 39 percent. That's one factor used by U.S. News & World Report to compile its annual college rankings. Increasing that figure just three points could move Wake Forest into the top 10 and increase the University's overall position among the nation's top universities.

So your gift to the Annual Funds—regardless of the amount—can make a difference. But top 10 or not, your gift will still provide exceptional opportunities and experiences for every Wake Forest student. Use the envelope in the Wake Forest Magazine to make a difference.

You Are A Leader!

Year after year, Wake Forest is noted for its high alumni giving rate, and 1997 was no exception. As the issuer of the Wake Forest Visa® and MasterCard® credit cards, MBNA America® Bank congratulates you on a stellar year of alumni support.

Nearly 39% of Wake Forest alumni contributed last year. That makes Wake Forest a leader in alumni support. In fact, U.S. News and World Report cited strong alumni giving as a factor in ranking your institution among the nation's top 30 national universities in the magazine's 18th Annual "America's Best Colleges" guidebook.

Giving to Wake Forest is as easy as writing a check or sending cash to the Annual Fund of your choice. You can also send your gift online by MasterCard® or Visa®. For more information on making gifts, please call Wake Forest at 1-800-752-8568 or visit the Wake Forest website at www.wfu.edu

NOW YOUR EVERYDAY PURCHASES CAN HELP SUPPORT WAKE FOREST TOO!

While traditional giving is up, support from the Wake Forest University credit card program is also rising. Unlike ordinary credit cards, the Wake Forest Visa® and MasterCard® cards provide an automatic way to give through everyday spending. That's because MBNA America, the credit card issuer, makes a contribution to our alumni association with every purchase—at no additional cost to you.

That means a tank of gas, a bag of groceries, a ski vacation, or new wardrobe could be generating contributions that help support Wake Forest. When you imagine the legions of Wake Foresters using their cards, the results can be breathtaking.

Best of all, you don't have to wait until tomorrow to see the results of this support because you're helping make a difference today. Each contribution is combined with the gifts received from alumni and friends to provide scholarships, financial aid, faculty positions, research, opportunities to study abroad, and much more.

The cards come with benefits and services worthy of Wake Foresters. Advanced fraud protection, 24-hour Customer satisfaction, access to an exclusive travel agency, free additional cards, and a low introductory Annual Percentage Rate are just the beginning.

Now you can show your support for Wake Forest in a whole new way! Remember, every purchase helps generate an automatic contribution to Wake Forest at no extra cost to you.

REQUEST YOURS TODAY. Call 1-800-523-7666 Please mention Priority Code JNVA
