

Aldermen Ponder Charter Change And Bond Issues

Lansing Lawyer Juggles Big Figures in Placing Finance Plan Before Council Mayor S. A. Morrison and members of the city council are pondering a recommended charter change for Mason, along with the issuance of $100,000 in revenue bonds and $90,000 in general obligation bonds.

The big figures were used by George Sidwell in presenting his finance plan to the council Monday night. Two weeks previously the council had asked Sidwell, a Lansing lawyer, to advise the city about bonds.

Further advice, if taken, will cost money. If Sidwell goes ahead with the bond deals the legal fees and expenses on the revenue bonds will run about $900. Another fee of $550 will be charged for Sidwell's advice and handling of the general obligation bonds. Then there is the matter of $30 per each election needed. Amending the charter might cost in the neighborhood of $500 for legal advice, Sidwell explained.

Legal Status Questioned Sidwell cast doubts about the legality of previous issues of bonds. There is only $7,500 in bonded debt outstanding, so no legal crisis is feared.

The Lansing lawyer declared the city did not follow the statutes when the bonding limit was tilted in a charter change of 1928. The law requires that a copy of charter changes be filed within 30 days of the election. Mason's charter changes were filed last week, 20 years after the deadline.

Under the city's charter, issued in 1873, the debt limit was placed at $50,000. The 1928 change fixed a new limit of three per cent of the assessed valuation (currently the limit is about $120,000) but the change has not been legally recorded, Sidwell pointed out.

Recommend Dual Plan Sidwell recommended that the city finance a new well, water main extensions and sewerage disposal plant improvements by issuing revenue bonds. He said that general obligation bonds should be used to finance street improvement and the construction of a new Maple street bridge. Special assessments could also be used to finance sanitary sewers, the lawyer explained.

Before bonds can be issued with any expectation of finding a ready market the charter will have to be changed, Sidwell asserted. He said that the charter change and the issuance of bonds can be voted on at the same election.

If Sidwell's advice is followed and both types of bonds are issued, the interest rates will approximate 3 per cent on revenue bonds and from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent on general obligation bonds, he indicated.

Higher Rates Foreseen If the revenue bonds are issued, the water and sewer service rates will have to materially increase, Sidwell explained. If general obligation bonds are issued, the tax rate will have to increase.

"People must pay one way or the other," Sidwell explained, either by higher service charges or by higher taxes. For about 90 per cent of the people the method will make little difference. They'll pay just about the same either way."

Mayor Wants Power Mayor Morrison suggested trimming the program, having only sewer extensions and sewerage treatment improvements financed by a revenue bond issue.

Alderman Parsons declared that he wants the people to vote on any debt program. Sidwell left his proposition with the council. He was not informed when he might expect an answer.

Ballot for Every Voter Ordered for November 2

Ballots will not run short at the general election, November 2. In every precinct as many or more ballots have been ordered as there are registered voters.

The board of election commissioners, made up of Probate Judge John McClellan, County Treasurer Lytle B. Austin and County Clerk C. Ross Hilliard, decided to take no chances on the supply of ballots. Every township and city clerk was asked to make an actual check of registration lists and notify the county board of its findings.

State law provides that the number of ballots supplied shall be at least 25 per cent more than the number of ballots actually voted at the last election held four years previously.

That works out all right under ordinary circumstances, Hilliard explained, but the circumstances are not always ordinary. Lansing, Delhi and Meridian precincts have shown rapid population increases. There are now 15 precincts in Lansing township. Population growth in East Lansing has also been rapid. Twenty-five per cent more ballots than were used in the presidential election of 1944 might fall far short of meeting the demand this year, election board members believe. Four years ago hundreds of qualified voters were in the service and did not vote even by the absent voter method. The number of ballots cast in the city of Lansing makes no difference in the supply of ballots because voting machines are used in the city. Only those who vote by absent voter ballots use paper ballots in Lansing. The election board has ordered paper ballots up to 10 per cent of the Lansing precinct vote of 1944 plus 25 per cent. That will more than care for the demand for absent voter ballots, the election board members believe.

About 38,000 sets of paper ballots will be printed in Ingham. All voters will be handed the ballot containing the names of candidates for president and vice-president, a separate ballot bearing the state and county partisan candidates, another carrying the names of candidates for non-partisan judicial offices, an amendment ballot with six state propositions, and other balloting of the calling of a state constitutional convention and a county ballot on raising the tax limit for the tuberculosis sanatorium. In Mason the voters will also have city ballots to mark.

Proof ballots were mailed to all candidates and to party heads Monday by C. Ross Hilliard. The process will probably start rolling Saturday on the big ballot job.

Five Days Remain Before Deadline For Registering

Action of Supervisors Makes October 13 Deadline For Registering Voters

Just five days remain in which voters of Ingham county may register to vote at the November 2 election. Next Wednesday, October 13, is the last day on which voters may register.

By action of the board of supervisors several months ago, no registrations are permitted on election day or at any time after October 13, which would qualify a voter to cast a ballot on November 2.

County Clerk C. Ross Hilliard pointed out that many citizens otherwise qualified to vote will lose their opportunity this fall unless they act at once. All township and city clerks will accept registrations up until eight o'clock Wednesday night, Hilliard stated.

As explained by the Ingham county clerk, the reason for the necessity of registering before the eight o'clock deadline Wednesday night was adoption of a new registration law in 1945. That law required every voter to re-register in 1946, or before he could vote in any following election. This applied to all voters, whether or not they were registered in their precinct, and had voted there before.

Hilliard explained, "Previously, there was always an attempt to make sure that voters who had changed their residence or had become of age since the prior election, were properly registered in the precinct in which they were then living. This is just as important as ever.

"But this year the problem is much more complicated than that, because every voter is affected by the 1946 statute and amendments since. It remains to be seen how well the job of re-registration can be done. At the present time township and city clerks report hundreds of unregistered voters—many of them among the older citizens."

Here are some of the registration answers: A general re-registration of all voters was required in 1946.

Voters who re-registered in 1946 or since that time, whether or not they have voted since, are eligible to vote, if still living in the same precinct.

Voters who did not re-register since can not vote unless they do re-register before next Wednesday night.

Under the present law a voter must cast a ballot once in four years to keep his name on the list of qualified voters. The original law specified two years but the legislature amended it to four years. But the fact that a person voted four years ago does not qualify him to vote this year, because of the law which required re-registration of all voters in 1946.

Persons living in the same precinct as in 1946 and who voted in the general election of that year or have voted state or county tickets since, are probably properly registered and will be qualified to vote November 2.

The effect of this action is that it makes it necessary for any voter to be registered in the precinct in which he or she wishes to vote, at least 20 days prior to any election.

The only exception to this rule is that voters may transfer to another precinct within the same township or city on election day. They can not transfer their registration from one township, city or village to another township, city or village even within the same county on election day, nor on any day after the 20th day preceding the election in which they wish to vote.

If a person has changed his residence from one township, city or village to another he must re-register at his new residence at least 20 days before election.

Lenore Smith Singing With Wayne King

Full Slate Picked For City Offices By Independents

Just One Contest Over Nomination at Caucus, Only 40 Voters Attend

Independents picked a complete slate of city candidates at their caucus held in the circuit court room last Thursday night. The party, launched just a year ago and successful in last fall's and this spring's campaign, named several candidates now serving as members of the Peoples party.

Forty people attended the caucus. There was a ballot spread only on first ward alderman. All other nominations were unanimous.

Nominees chosen at the Independent caucus were George Kellogg, clerk; Mrs. Leland Austin, treasurer; unexpired term; Frank Lester, assessor; Roy Adams, justice of the peace; and Gerald Parsons, alderman at large. At ward caucuses, Frank Launstein was nominated first ward alderman, Harold Darrow was nominated first ward constable, Darrow was without opposition for constable.

O. J. Hood was second ward caucus chairman with Glen Cron as clerk. Ralph Adams and Mrs. Troxell were tellers. Troxell was placed in nomination by Mayor S. A. Morrison. There was no opposition for constable.

Six members of the city committee, Cordie Bashford, Miss Gladys Wade, E. D. Sanford, Ralph S. Adams, George Post and George McArthur, were re-elected. Gerald Parsons was chosen for the first ward alderman by the death of Frank Cline.

In urging those present to work for the election of independent candidates, Chairman Bashford pointed to a reduced police force, building of the Elm street bridge, repairs to the sewage disposal plant and payment of bills left by a previous administration as accomplishments of the new administration.

No Damage Done By Mixing Fuels

Prompt discovery and quick action saved possible loss of life and fire Tuesday night. The stage was set for disaster when gasoline was mixed with kerosene in Sheriff's officers' trucks. The line and gave warning to the purchasers, all except one. Even in that case there has yet been no explosion, so it is believed that newspaper and radio warnings have been effective.

On Tuesday Otis Clipper pumped fuel oil into his regular oil tank at his Park View service station, and filled it with gasoline. That night he went to work at Lansing Oldsmobile, leaving Ed Byleat to tend to the station. Clipper usually works all night but on Tuesday evening at 7:30 the line shut down and Clipper went home. He stopped at the station, Byleat told Clipper of four sales of fuel oil made.

Clipper then realized he had not informed Byleat of the change in pumping. The sheriff's office was notified and the frantic chase was started.

Byleat had only the description of a car to guide him in one instance. The description was accurate enough, however, for Ken Merindorf, city policeman, to recognize the customer as Harry Jones, who lives on Brown road near Dansville. Merindorf sped to the house seven miles east of Mason. Jones had poured some of the gasoline into a lamp and the lamp was in use. However, only a little gasoline had been poured in with the kerosene so there had been no explosion.

Ernest Upton had left his kerosene can at the station while he went up town. The discovery of the switch was made in the meantime, so that gasoline never left the station. Jack Gibbs had bought gasoline for fuel oil and was warned of the mistake by telephone.

The one customer who could not be located was a Mexican. Byleat could give no description which enabled officers to track the purchase. All Mexican homes near Mason were visited by officers with the warning but the purchaser has not yet been located.

STATE AID IS PAID

Ingham county has received $22,105.48 as its share of the second quarter distribution of gasoline tax. The money is earmarked for county roads.

County Employees Hope for Action On Salary Tilts

Long Session Foreseen For Ingham Board, Due Here for Week at Least

Ingham county officials and employees are expressing hopes that the board of supervisors will do something more about salaries. The county board will go into session, Monday, last year the supervisors came up with a $300 annual cost of living bonus for all employees. Many employees insist the bonus is inadequate in the face of constantly rising living costs.

The salaries committee of the county board has a session scheduled in Lansing Thursday night of this week. Supervisor Marshall Graham of Lansing is chairman of the committee. Other members are Ward Vicary of Eureka Hill, J. K. Reed of Lansing, K. G. Eyring of Williamston and Fred Marshall of White Oak.

At the October meeting the appropriations for 1949 will be set up. Appointments will be made to the various county boards.

There will be an interlude Tuesday afternoon when the supervisors attend the dedication ceremony at the Pennsylvania avenue bridge south of Lansing.

Heretofore the supervisors have inspected county institutions on Thursdays of the October session, visiting the tuberculosis sanatorium, the animal shelter, relief headquarters, county hospital and infirmary, often having dinner at the infirmary. The rumor is current that the chicken dinner invitation will not be extended this year, due to the high price of food and the shortage of help at the infirmary.

Present indications are that the annual October session will run over into the second week.

SCHOOL VACATION

Thursday and Friday of next week will be vacation days for Ingham pupils, both city and rural. Teachers are expected to attend the annual institute in East Lansing.

$58,000 Budget Is Fixed for City Over Lone Protest

Council Provides Raises For Three City Officials Over Protest of Parsons

Alderman Gerald L. Parsons stood alone Monday night when the city council approved a $58,000 budget for 1949. Parsons pleaded in vain with his colleagues to trim at least $3,000 from the total. The council's newest alderman, elected in a special election last spring, declared that the Independent platform called for a reduction in the budget.

The $58,000 budget matches the record of last year. Until then the city operated on budgets below $30,000.

Mayor S. A. Morrison told Parsons that everything is higher, and that the city can't operate its business at last year's costs any more than can housewives keep to last year's budget.

Parsons insisted that a jump in the city tax rate from $12 to $21 per $1,000 discourages home ownership.

Hints at Special Favors Alderman Parsons dropped several broad hints about special reductions on assessments in the neighborhood near the corner of Lansing and Maple streets. He indicated that the city assessor and the second ward supervisor had slashed values in the area. Both city officials own property within the so-called flood zone.

Alderman Guy S. Thorburn, second ward supervisor, had left the council meeting for home before the matter of the assessments was brought up.

Three Get Raises Aldermen, with Parsons dissenting, boosted salaries for three city officials. Hereafter the city treasurer will draw $495 a year instead of $450, the city assessor will get $450 plus dog census fees instead of $400, and the city clerk will get $2,600 instead of $2,400 a year.

Last year's budget was adequate for operating the city and paying off about $10,000 in debts from the previous year. Also in the 1948 budget and missing from the 1949 budget is an $8,000 item for a new fire truck.

The 1949 fire protection budget is $3,000 against $11,000 last year. The saving on fire protection will be offset by sewer construction. The 1949 sewer budget is $15,000. For the present year it is $8,000. The budget for water service is $8,000 for 1949 against $10,000 for the current year. Other items are unchanged.

Mason's 1949 budget of $58,000 is as follows: Hall Memorial library, $1,000; street lighting, $3,000; debt retirement, $2,000; fire protection, $3,000; streets, $10,000; water, $9,000; sewers, $15,000; and contingent $15,000.

Representatives of the railroad and Consumers Power will also be present. Members of the board of supervisors will be on hand.

Invitations to the dedication have been sent to highway officials in other counties. Completion of the highway has been held up because of the dry weather. The road will be open to traffic while the final touches are being put on. County Engineer Frank K. Evans reported Thursday morning.

Members of the road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors joined county road commission officials Thursday morning to start the annual highway tour. The inspection trip will be continued Friday.

On the inspection trip the improvements made during 1948 and those projected for next year will be viewed. For next year the county will put up an additional $100,000 to augment gas and weight tax funds. The extra money was provided to repair the damage caused by the 1947 flood and the 1948 spring breakup.

City Candidates Must Pick Party After Tuesday

On the well known spot is where several city candidates will be after the caucus of the Peoples party next Tuesday night, according to present indications.

At last week's caucus of the Independent party three candidates elected by the People were nominated. None of those three has yet withdrawn. They are George Kellogg, city clerk; Frank Lester, assessor; and Roy Adams, justice of the peace.

At least one, probably two and possibly all three will be nominated at the Peoples caucus. Then the candidates will have to decide which party they belong to.

James Davis, chairman of the Peoples party committee, declared, "There isn't going to be any surrender to the Independents. We are not going to endorse their candidates. We'll pick the best candidates we can find, regardless of party alignment."

Candidates can not run on both tickets. They must choose one. Davis said a keynote speaker will be on hand Tuesday night at the caucus. The chairman revealed that several meetings of the committee have been held within the past two weeks.

Wants Wheels Back

Someone borrowed the wheels of Dale Kennedy's tricycle and the tricycle doesn't run well without them. The tricycle was taken from in front of the Kennedy residence at 218 West Sycamore two weeks ago. The two rear wheels were stripped and they may be used in someone's hotrod wagon. The wheels are about 10-inch, painted cream and maroon with wire spokes and pneumatic tires. The tricycle is treasured as a gift. It cost $40.

Dale, 7, hopes that whoever took the wheels will return them; perhaps just put them up near the porch some night. Or maybe someone who knows about the wheels will inform the Kennedys.

Council Adopts Sewer Ordinance, Penalties Set Up

Use of Sewers Regulated By Law, Licenses Required Of All Sewer Builders

Mason now has a sewer ordinance, or will have October 28. The ordinance regulating the use of sewers becomes effective 20 days after its publication. The ordinance as passed by the council Monday night appears on Page 8, Part 2.

The ordinance is patterned after the Williamston measure. It sets up penalties for misuse of the sewer system. It also provides that only men holding licenses can be employed in laying sewers.

Inspection is provided in the ordinance. No sewers can be built or repaired without the inspection of the city inspector.

Licenses will cost $5.00 annually. Every licensee must also furnish a $500 bond to protect the city against accidents and damage.

Licensed sewer builders must also carry workmen's compensation insurance, under the terms of the ordinance.

Persons found guilty of putting unshredded garbage or offal, dead animals, metallic earthen or glass objects, ashes, cinders or rags into the sewers can be fined not less than $10 or more than $100. Those who build or connect drains contrary to the ordinance and refuse or neglect to make changes ordered can be fined $5.00 per day for each day beyond 30 days being ordered to make the changes.

Zoning Changes Made
The council approved a change in city zoning from A to B for the two lots bought by Mrs. Marlon Holloway on East Oak street.

Mrs. Holloway is remodeling the house and will operate a convalescent home there.

Harold and Idena Draper, operating a store at 601 South Lansing street, appeared before the council with petitions asking for council reconsideration of an SMD license application. The council refused to grant the license when the application came up September 20 and on Monday night refused to reconsider. Other petitions had been filed by residents of the neighborhood asking that the Draper application be turned down.

Alderman Guy S. Thorburn declared that there are now six SDM licensees in Mason and no more can be justified. He pointed out that the store is in a residential neighborhood. Petitions presented by the Drapers were signed by customers of the store who said they wanted beer sold there.

Michigan Rural Health Conference Sets Pattern

When the second annual Michigan Rural Health Conference convened in East Lansing in September, it set a pattern for similar action throughout the nation, according to reports received from states as far distant as Texas, Connecticut, Oklahoma and Florida.

Sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society and co-sponsored by thirty-nine other organizations, the Conference was organized to point out the problems which exist in the field of rural medical care, and to take steps to solve these problems.

The Honorary Chairmanship of Governor Kim Sigler, the two-day meeting featured such distinguished speakers as United States Senator Homer Ferguson, General Paul R. Hawley, former Medical Director of the Veterans' Administration and Chief Executive of Associated Medical Care Plans and Blue Cross Commission, and Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner.

This year's Conference was broken down into four main subdivisions: "Planning for Health Communities" which dealt with the problem of Community-wide cooperation in improving health; "Modern Medicine in Rural Michigan" developing plans to provide the benefits of modern medical practice to all rural areas; "Dollars and Disease" which discussed the economic aspects of medical and hospital care; and "Youth in the March of Health" covering childhood diseases and organized effort to effect their prevention and cure.

The Conference also reported the results of last year's Conference. Among the improvements reported were the establishment of a loan fund for medical students and interns who agree to practice in rural areas for at least three years; a new maternity hospital at the University of Michigan which will provide increased and improved training facilities for medical students; legislation enabling Michigan to share in federal funds allotted for building hospitals in areas where they are most needed; the spurring of nurse recruitment, and steps toward the establishment of community health councils.

"Chessie" Makes New Friends

"Chessie", the Chesapeake and Ohio's famous sleepy kitten, is taking care of small fry riding C&O trains with a Chessie coloring book complete with crayons—and a "comic book" history of the railroad from 1875 to today's "Train X." Entitled "George Washington's Railroad—His Dream Realized," the comic book may look to the young reader like his favorite on the newsstand but it is an informative account of an exciting chapter in the country's history. The coloring book acquaints young travelers with railroading by offering twelve full page color pictures of train personnel, including the conductor, engineer and dining car waiter. On the opposite page is a black and white outline of the same sketch, to be colored by the young artist. Special crayons will cause no harm if applied to the mouth instead of the paper. In PHOTO ABOVE, little Diana Donohoe, 4, of Chicago, looks delighted as C&O Hostess Wanda Stephenson reads the comic book to her. Both books will be distributed free on trains and will also be sent by mail from the company's Cleveland office in response to requests from the famous Chessie's hosts of admirers.

A potluck dinner was served following the board of review. Rev. Marshall W. Simpson of the Methodist

Presbyterian church led group singing. Danville troop put Scoutmasters Dick Ferris, Harley Hull and Ralph Goff through a board of review as a special act. Arrowhead Plane Pierces Sound Barrier

YOU ARE LOOKING UP in this picture at the De Havilland 108, swept-back experimental British aircraft which was the first jet-powered plane to push through and beyond the speed of sound. The British announced the arrowhead-shaped plane's crashing of the sound barrier in flight with a typical, laconic, official statement of 33 words, ending in, "The pilot was Mr. John Derry." No figures were given, but to have achieved supersonic speed, the British craft must have flashed across the sky at something like 700 m.p.h.

Named to Head March of Dimes

U. S. Judge Frank A. Picard of Saginaw has been appointed Michigan State Chairman of the 1949 March of Dimes. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced today. It is Judge Picard's second year as head of the fund raising campaign in Michigan.

The March of Dimes, conducted nationally each January, is the sole support of the National Foundation and its 2,800 local county chapters. Funds contributed to the annual drive pay costs of medical care and treatment for polio victims and finance the scientific research and professional education programs sponsored by the National Foundation. The 1949 appeal will be held January 14-31.

Judge Picard, a native of Saginaw and a graduate of the University of Michigan, began his career as a newspaper reporter in Saginaw. He was admitted to the Michigan bar in 1912 and the following year became assistant prosecuting attorney for Saginaw County. He was engaged in private law practice from 1913 to 1939 when he was appointed U. S. Judge for the eastern district of Michigan. Judge Picard served as chairman of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission 1932-1934, and as chairman of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission 1937-1938. He helped formulate the state liquor control plan and is co-author of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act.

Mr. O'Connor, in announcing Judge Picard's acceptance of the March of Dimes chairmanship, revealed that when complete incidence figures for this year are tabulated the toll of infantile paralysis in the United States from 1943 through 1948 may well exceed 100,000 cases.

"While the final answer to the mystery of poliomyelitis—the discovery of a cure and a preventive for the disease—lies in the research laboratory," Mr. O'Connor said, "the generous support of the American people is now more vital than ever before if victims of polio, children and adults alike, are to receive the care they must have to achieve maximum recovery."

Editor Tells How News Is Handled

Charles Irlkey, associate editor of the Jackson Citizen Patriot, told Mason Kiwanians Tuesday night how newspapers are made. He has been with the Jackson paper for 40 years.

The Jackson newspaper man told about the Associated Press news gathering service, the work of the local staff, the reduction of the mass of material for interesting presentation to readers, the mechanical steps necessary in the production of a newspaper and the distribution to readers.

Responsibilities of editors in handling of news and advertising were discussed by Irlkey.

The idea of freedom of the press was not conceived of by American colonists of the seventeenth century.

Michigan Coal Mines May Reopen; Wayne Professor Cites New Aides

Examining coal near the shaft of Michigan's one operating mine at St. Charles, are Dr. Floyd A. Stillebauer, professor of geology and geography at Wayne University, Detroit, and Miss Ruth Way, Wayne coed from Pittsford, Michigan. The mine, which has been in operation for seven years, produces 70 to 100 tons daily.

Michigan's one-flourishing coal-mining industry, now represented by a single producing mine, may be revived soon by the use of new mining processes.

This prediction is made by Dr. Floyd A. Stillebauer, professor of geology and geography at Wayne University, Detroit, who has studied not only the state's deposits but also new developments that may make the digging of Michigan's coal profitable.

"Though few people realize it, there is a Michigan coal basin, containing an eight-billion-ton reserve, centered near Saginaw," he says. "It extends south about as far as Jackson, west to Fremont, and north to West Branch. The coal that was easiest to mine was exhausted some years back, and there are approximately 30 abandoned mines in the area."

The remaining deposits would have been mined long ago had it not been for high-clinker content in some instances, and inaccessibility in others. Some veins are too deep for strip or surface mining, while others are too thin to mine.

Mason Clubs Organize Auction for Child Benefit

In order to raise funds for the annual Kiwanis Halloween party and for the child welfare work of the Junior Child Study club, the two organizations are sponsoring a benefit auction to be held at the fairgrounds on Saturday, October 16.

Household goods, clothing, farm equipment, toys, old cars, lumber, hardware, anything and everything from caterpillar tractors to crocus bulbs will be accepted for the sale. A delivery service has been organized so that contributors, by phoning Mason 2-6111 or 2-5711, can have their sale articles called for on one of the three days preceding the sale.

Committees who are working on the sale point out that it is not a consignment sale. Contributors are asked to donate their unwanted equipment or furniture with the entire sale profits being divided between the two clubs for their projects, organized for the benefit of Mason children.

Scheduled to start at 1:30, the sale will be held inside the brick building in the event of rain.

Husband is Held For Knifing Wife

Brownlow Arnett, 32, of Fitchburg is being held in the Ingham jail on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon. He stands accused of stabbing his wife, Rebecca, 30, in the back with a pocketknife during a family quarrel Tuesday.

Arnett waived examination when taken into Lansing municipal court Wednesday and was bound over to circuit court for trial.

Arnett fled from the house after the knifing. State police were notified and a state police plane took to the air to direct patrol cars. The pilot of the plane spotted Arnett skulking in a corn field and radioed the location to officers in cars. Arnett was quickly taken into custody.

The Fitchburg man has been employed in onion and mint fields in the Fitchburg area. Mrs. Arnett was not seriously wounded.

Lecturer Says 'Russia Doomed'

Speaking on the unusual prophecy of the second chapter of Daniel last Sunday night at the Legion Memorial building in Mason, Bible lecturer R. K. Krick told his audience, "Russia is Doomed! She will never conquer all of Europe and unite the continent under her flag."

"Seven words," said Krick, "recorded in Daniel 2:43, spell the doom of Russia, or any other nation which tries to unite Europe into one empire: 'They shall not cleave one to another.' These words refer to the division of the ancient Roman empire into the various nations which form the continent of Europe today.

"God caused the prophecy of Daniel 2 to be recorded that we today might know where we are on the great stream of time," Krick explained. Beginning with 603 B. C., when this prophecy was given, the head of gold on the great metallic image, which the heathen king, Nebuchadnezzar, saw in his dream, takes us down through the history of Babylon to 538 B. C. when the sovereignty of the world passed to the Medes and Persians. The breast and arms of silver bear us down through the Persian supremacy to the battle of Arbela, when the Greeks became the undisputed ruler of the world under Alexander. Greece was followed by the iron monarchy of Rome in 168 B. C. The legs of iron take us forward, past the first advent of Jesus Christ, to the dividing of Rome, represented by the clay and iron at the feet of the image. On the ruins of this fourth world empire, the modern nations of Europe were built. Charlemagne, Napoleon, Kaiser Wilhelm, Hitler and others have tried to build another world empire, but all have failed. God's word remains unbroken. Daniel said, "They shall mingle themselves with the seed of men (meaning the intermarriage of the royal houses) but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay."

"What may we expect next according to this prophecy? The prophetic word declares: 'In the days of these kings will the God of heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.' Daniel 2:44.

"This is God's picture of the coming crash of all the nations of the world and the establishment of the greatest and best empire the world has ever known. All of us should be getting ready to become members of that coming kingdom," concluded the lecturer.

The subject announced for next Sunday evening is "The Return of Jesus to This Earth—Will He Come in Our Day?" The public is invited to attend. Doors open at 7 p. m. and the song service begins at 7:30.

Aggies Defeated In Hard Fought Game
 The Aggies lost to Holt last Friday evening before a crowd estimated at 3,000. The score was 19 to 6. The Aggies got off to a bad start when Junior Hayhoe stumbled on taking the kickoff. A penalty for offside and a short kick gave Holt the ball in Dansville territory, from which they scored shortly afterward. Holt scored again in the first quarter on a long pass from Green to Wewer.
 Opening the second half Holt scored again on a long pass. From then on the Aggies outplayed Holt. Junior Hayhoe scored on a plunge following a pass to Bob Thompson. Dansville "broke" again later but was at back on another official penalty.
 Although all the boys played well, Junior Hayhoe, Ervin Lawrence, Lowell Rappleyea, Lawrence Everett and Stanley Frisell were the outstanding players. The only reserves used were Erter, Jones and Young. Sam Williams, due to an injury, was unable to play but very little which greatly handicapped the Aggie strength. Art Laneo, Dansville's efficient fullback, will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season with a fractured collar bone received in the Holt game.

 This week the Aggies play Okemos here, the game being called at 2:45. The remaining schedule is: October 13, Williamston, there; October 22, Fowlerville, there; and October 29, Haslett, here.

Mason Falls Before Charlotte, Stern Test at Everett Friday

Mason high school's on-again-off-again grid machine was off again too much of the time Friday night at the Mason Athletic field and as a result the Bulldogs fell before the Charlotte Orioles 13-6. Mason could not get any kind of sustained drive rolling until the closing minutes. When the Bulldogs did roll the gun ending the half stopped the attack. Their lone score came in the third quarter on a fancy run by Windy Fell.

Mason will be tangling with an inspired Everett team on Friday night at the Viking field. The Vikings have two conference wins under their belts and will be out to extend their victory string. Everett was counted out of the conference running after a series of traffic accidents took a toll of three of the Vikings regulars. Now Everett appears to be the team to beat. The Vikings have an attack built around the pitching arm of Paul Williams. In Everett's 19-0 win over Eaton Rapids Friday, Williams heaved passes that accounted for one marker and set up the other two. Gordie Ryman and Bob Whitehead are two other backs who can spell trouble for the opponents.

Charlotte started the game with a bad break Friday and it was a good thing or the Charlotte score might have been a little higher. Gene Every's kickoff boot skidded and rolled to the Charlotte 2-yard line where it was downed. Starting with their backs to the goal, the Orioles marched through Mason for four first downs and a total of 60 yards before Mason finally took over. Dale Rolfe, Bob Peterson and Carroll Mohr took turns lugging the ball. Mason could do nothing and was forced to rely on punts to keep the enemy at bay. Charlotte still kept pegging away but could not shake anyone loose to score. Mason's secondary confined all runs to short gains with brilliant defensive play.

Mohr Crosses Line
Mason did not have much chance to show its wares in the first quarter. It was all Charlotte. In the second quarter the Orioles started off with a bang when a poor Mason punt gave Charlotte the ball in midfield. A jump pass from Dan Brown to John Briggs accounted for a first down. Carroll Mohr waltzed through tackle for nine yards and Dan Brown plunged through for another first-and-tenner. After a couple of other tries for short gains, Mohr reached pay dirt on a slant off-tackle. Dor Brown's try for extra point was good.

Mason started on the prowl right away when Joe Johnson ran the ball back to the 40. A couple of running plays brought short gains but Mason was forced to take to the air to beat time. The half cut the drive short.

Charlotte received to start the second half and was on the road again when a miscue in the Oriole backfield resulted in a pass from center rolling back 20 yards to midfield where Blimp Fish fell on it. Starting from midfield, Mason marched for one first down before losing the ball on downs. Charlotte attempted a pass that found Mason's Dan Garver on the receiving end on Charlotte's 40. Merrill Snyder got off a long pass to Garver to put Mason on the 15. From there Windy Fell lugged the ball over all by himself on an off-tackle smash in the best run of the game. With no interference in front of him, Fell bulled, bashed and stiff-armed his way over to score. The attempt at the extra point was no good. Charlotte still held the lead, 7-6.

Orioles Score Again
It didn't take Charlotte long to find itself though, and the Orioles were well on the way when the third quarter ended. Mason got the ball with its back to the wall and was forced to punt out of danger. Mohr and Sam Spagnuolo joined to reel off a couple of first downs and then Spagnuolo found Bob Brown with a pass in the flat. Brown fell across for the last Oriole score. Bob Lyons slashed through to block the extra point. Charlotte was ahead 13-6. Mason tried to get back into the game with three first downs by Fell but the drive fell short as time ran out.

Windy Fell was the best back on the field defensively and offensively. Mason blocking was poor. Runs which should have been long gains were short gains for the back of downfield blocking. On defense it was the Mason backfield that was forced to come in and make the tackles when the Mason line was out-charged. Joe Johnson played a brilliant defensive game and also looked good in the little opportunity he had on offense. The middle of the Mason line again stood out with most Charlotte runs being confined to off-tackle slants and end runs.

CULTURE used to come in tents—Chautauqua tents.

This picture shows how a dose of it was given to Mason patients back about 1913. The artist was playing the xylophone while the orchestra members and the audience watched. Those small boys occupying the front seats are middle-aged men now. Who knows who they are?

Chautauquas were backed by public spirited business men. Usually the annual dose of culture cost the sponsors a goodly sum. It might have been worth what it cost, because people eagerly awaited the coming of the Chautauqua each year.

The Chautauqua business never made a comeback after World War I. In 1920 Browne-Cavender post went about $750 in the red trying to give culture to the public in a tent. The claim of the Chautauqua agent was later scaled down to about $250. The Legion post then booked a street carnival the same year to pay off the Chautauqua debt. Returns from the carnival amounted to about $700, which proved that amusement is better paying than culture.

This picture is from the Sidney Grayson album.

Jim Sprague, Bob Whitehead, Bob Grinnell, Bill Zieske and Don Hamaker sparked for the Vikings. Eaton Rapids got a surprise at Michigan Center, being set back 20-0. The Greyhounds were unable to cope with the Michigan Center passing attack.

Grand Lodge tumbled 12-7 before Hastings.

Williams Missed By Ingham Aggies

Handicapped by the absence of Sammy Williams for most of the game, Dansville lost out to Holt 19-6 Friday night. It was the first game under lights at the Holt field, and the Ramblers and their supporters were joyous over the result. The defeat of Dansville leaves Holt out in front in the Ingham County League. They might have been there even had Williams been available the full route for the Aggies, because Holt played hard football Friday.

Holt takes on a strong Stockbridge team Friday night and next Wednesday night will entertain Okemos. Wednesday games are being booked next week because of the Thursday-Friday holiday for teachers.

Okemos will play at Dansville Friday afternoon of this week. On Wednesday night of next week the Aggies will take on Williamston under the lights.

Williamston will play at Fowlerville Friday night of this week and next Wednesday night Leslie will visit Fowlerville. Leslie and Haslett clash Friday afternoon at Haslett. Stockbridge plays at Haslett next Wednesday afternoon.

Two Quick Markers
Holt leaped in for a quick kill against the Aggies, scoring two touchdowns in the first quarter. Lawrence Guiles sprinted 13 yards to score the first touchdown and Ken Weaver grabbed a pass from Van Greene, good for 20 yards, for the second. Greene rifled another touchdown pass to Weaver at the opening of the third period.

Dansville took to the air in the fourth quarter and finally crossed the goal. Junior Hayhoe took the ball across.

Williams, hurt in the Leslie game the previous week, was in the game a few minutes during the last quarter at Holt.

Williamston packed too much punch for Okemos Friday night. The Hornets scored a touchdown in the first quarter and two more in the third to pile up a 21-0 margin. Okemos found rough going all the way.

Panthers Come Through
The Stockbridge Panthers pounced on Leslie in the second period Friday night and then nursed the 6-0 lead to the finish. Tom Campbell passed to Ron Byerly for the touchdown. The play was good for 30 yards.

During the last half both Leslie and Stockbridge had scoring opportunities but failed to cash in on them.

FILM NEWS

The rise of a share-cropper's son to a position as a college professor, and later to the governorship of a great Southern state, is told in "Louisiana," the Monogram biographical film which opens on Saturday at the Fox Theatre.

It is the life story of Governor Jimmie Davis of Louisiana, the song-writing, song-singing chief executive of the state, who began life in a humble country farmhouse. Governor Davis portrays himself in the principal role, and Margaret Lindsay co-stars as his wife.

Lone Wolf Returns
The notorious Lone Wolf, turns the spotlight on a one-woman crime wave in Columbia's "The Lone Wolf in London," coming to the Fox Theatre on Saturday.

Gerald Mohr portrays the ex-jeweled thief once more, with a featured cast which includes Nancy Saunders, lovely decoy who leads the Lone Wolf into his most exciting adventure; Eric Blore, his faithful valet Jamison; Evelyn Ankers, musical comedy queen; and Richard Fraser, Miss Saunders' suspicious fiancé.

Two Popular Stars
The combination of Clark Gable and Lana Turner in a motion picture is an advance guarantee of dramatic and emotional fireworks and "Homecoming," the new M-G-M offering being shown at the Fox Theatre Sunday and Monday gives these electric stars every opportunity in the story of a doctor whose entire outlook on life is changed when he falls in love with the nurse who stands by him in his greatest crisis.

Gable plays the doctor, Ulysses Johnson, who leaves his adoring wife, Anne Baxter, and a successful practice behind when he goes overseas with a medical corps at the outbreak of World War II. His attitude that the war is just another chance for him to come back with a lot of medals undergoes a drastic change under the influence of "Snapshot" McCall (Miss Turner), the attractive nurse who is assigned to him.

South American Setting
A stormy love affair in South America is the basis of "Tycoon," in technicolor, which co-stars John Wayne and Laraine Day. It will be shown at the Fox on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, in the title role as an industrial tycoon, contracts with Wayne, an engineer, to build a railroad from his Andean tin mines to the coast. Miss Day is Hardwicke's daughter, and the interest she takes in Wayne sparks the conflict which quickly grows between the two men over the construction of the road. When the two young people marry against the millionaire's wishes, he coldly sets out to break his unwanted son-in-law, a process that precipitates a stirring climax.

Double Feature
When a murder is committed on a collegiate campus, it brings about suspense and excitement in Monogram's "Campus Sleuth," which will be shown at the Fox on Thursday and Friday. The latest in the musical Teen-Agers group differs from the other films in the interesting series, with its dramatic touch of mystery against a background of scholastic activities and catchy musical numbers.

Freddie Stewart, June Preisser, Noel Neil and Warren Mills are featured in their familiar roles of junior college students. They become involved in a murder when Mills finds the dead body of a magazine photographer on the campus during a school dance. The body is missing when the police arrive and the story becomes more involved and tense when the body of the victim is discovered inside a harp case.

ATTEND ANNIVERSARY
Mrs. Richard Alderman and son Michael, and Mrs. Earl Alderman and Denny were in Grand Rapids Sunday to attend the silver wedding anniversary of Mrs. Earl Alderman's brother, Al Bloomquist and Mrs. Bloomquist. Richard, Earl and Douglas Alderman also attended the rites but made the trip by plane.

Black's Question Deserves an Answer

Why should the state of Michigan split its gambling profits with the professional gamblers? If the state is in the horse racing business solely for revenue purposes, as state officials claim, why should the state be content with just a small slice of the revenue? If the state has salvaged its conscience by taking just a little of the betting profits why not justify the deal by using more salvage? In the words of the attorney general, "If the state really needs revenues of such character why should it not eliminate covetous private contenders and take all of the lush profits unto itself?"

These questions have been asked by Attorney General Eugene F. Black of the governor. The governor has not yet given satisfactory answer. Black's questions are fair and are deserving of fair answers.

Three groups of gamblers are competing for a lease to conduct races next year at the Detroit track. What they are actually contending for is a monopoly license on racetrack gambling. The groups which seek the leases care little or nothing for racing as a sport. They are in racing as a business—as a gambling business.

Michigan's racing law was lobbied through the legislature by gambling interests. Some of the same interests have been lobbying for a similar license plan for dog racing. Profits running up into the millions of dollars are reaped by the racetrack operators every year. Those profits don't come from the turnstiles, or from the sale of liquor on the grounds. They come solely from the gullibility of the public in betting on horses. Interest in betting is whipped up by tip sheets and by tipsters hired by metropolitan newspapers. Racetrack gambling is big business. In Detroit, using the track owned by the people of Michigan, it is a gold mine for the operators, and a rat hole for the money of customers.

Michigan now bears the blame for racetrack gambling and takes just a small slice of the profit. By its laws the state furnishes the victims for the racetrack gamblers. Why shouldn't the state get the profit? What should the state share the take with the operators?

No. 2 Amendment Was Mistake in 1946, But it Will Probably Stand in 1948

By Vernon J. Brown

At the November election of 1946 the voters of Michigan approved and adopted an amendment to the state constitution providing for a division of large portions of the sales tax revenues between the cities, villages, townships and the school districts. The amendment was sponsored and promoted by the mayors and other city officials of the state but was supported also by the organized teachers who saw in it the possibility of greatly increased salary schedules.

Wording of the amendment was cleverly phrased and obviously intended to fool the voters. It was sugared up to satisfy and attract the support of township officials and to win votes among the teachers and at the same time it was so worded that few voters actually understood all its provisions and implications.

The short caption which the voter found on his ballot spoke only of retaining one percent of the state sales tax to be divided between cities and school districts. But in the complete text of the amendment there was included a provision that compels the state legislature to take from its general funds, to be distributed among the school districts, sums relatively equal to the sums distributed to the schools during the fiscal year of 1945-1946—a total amount in excess of another one cent out of the three cents collected by the state. The voters were told of only the one cent diversion, state officials who attempted to warn the public against the dangers of so deep a cut in state revenues, were jeered at.

The legislature in adopting the sales tax for support of the state in 1933 already, and before the final adoption of the sales tax act, had provided for distribution of substantial portions of the new revenues to the school districts. Approximately $12,000,000 of the $30,000,000 estimated to be forthcoming from this tax source in the 1933-1934 fiscal year was appropriated to the schools of the state and every succeeding legislature had added to this amount until in 1946 almost $62,000,000 was granted. The legislative acts providing for these generous contributions to local school districts were thus frozen into the constitution of the state and made basic, unavoidable and unchangeable.

No. 2 Is Back Again

Amendment No. 2 on the ballot the voters will receive next month proposes to repeal this amendment and leave the matter again to the judgment of the state legislature. The 1946 amendment was prepared and submitted to the voters on initiative petitions circulated among the voters and signed by them in sufficient number to force the question upon the ballots at that election. Amendment No. 2 of 1948 is submitted to the people by act of the 1947 legislature. First recommended to the legislature by the present governor the repeal resolution was passed and ordered submitted. It was later sought to be removed from the 1948 ballots but its withdrawal failed to receive sufficient support at the special session of the legislature. It therefore is up again for a vote.

By Julie Forsyth

"I am a very tolerant person," announced a young friend recently. "But that particular religion disgusts me."

"What do you know about it?" I questioned.

"Nothing. And I don't want to know anything about it," she answered.

Another friend, a college sophomore, was bragging, "My sorority takes girls from every religion. Some of the sororities on the campus are not as tolerant."

"What about color?" someone asked her.

She answered quickly, "That's different. We must be white."

"Tolerance is an important word these days. But it seems to me that a great many people are taking a pride in being tolerant that isn't justified. A lot of us are rather smug about the things we find it easy to be tolerant of. But do we make an effort—a real effort—to overcome any prejudices we may have?"

Do we remember that our color and race are determined for us at birth? Do we recognize that our religion is usually the same as the family we belong to? Do we remind ourselves, "I might have been dark-skinned like Mary. If I were a member of the Smith family I'd belong to its church. If I were Jack, I'd be as proud of his race as he is."

Respect has always seemed to me a better word than tolerance. For respect denotes regard, consideration and esteem.

You can't be a really mature person unless you respect individuals for themselves, regardless of their race, color, religion or social position. Every deep prejudice you allow yourself narrows and hurts you.

MEMO FOR YOUR MIRROR: True tolerance and respect of others make you great.

bought and paid for. If the Republicans wanted to win they would have to raise between $400 and $500, to buy those 100 votes. The same price held for Democrats. Finally the votes were sold to both parties. Mr. Bergman led the move for establishment of the Citizens non-partisan party. There are drawbacks to the present set-up but no votes are being bought.

During the Bergman regime every cent of bonded debt was paid off in full. In his final message to the council he expressed the hope that in the future the affairs of the city would be conducted on a cash basis and the city would never again go into debt. It didn't work out that way.

Memo to Pen Department—Wrap up a 3 1/2-mile pen and mail it to Arlington A. Bergman as a memento that loyal and faithful service is ever to be commended. He is a man of strong character; a true friend and a good neighbor.

In going through the effects of her grandfather, Joshua Youngs, Mrs. Stanley Marshall of Eden ran across the recipe for sticking salve. She remembers that the salve was regarded as a soothing balm and was a potent remedy for any cut or infection. Anyone suffering with a wound too long for stitching will do well to ask Mrs. Marshall for some of Grandpa Youngs' stickin' salve.

What Good Is My Vote?

There are people who don't register and who don't vote because they don't think a vote counts much.

"What good is my vote?" they ask, intimating that it is futile for one citizen to cast one vote.

Here in Ingham county in the primary some 300 votes were all that separated candidates for one nomination. Over in Jackson county just eight votes separated candidates for drain commissioner. Here in Michigan a few years ago less than 100 votes separated three candidates for the supreme court. Down in Texas right now the final totals on nomination of a candidate for United States senator show a spread of only 70 votes between the winner and runnerup.

Four years ago only a handful of votes put Michigan in the Roosevelt column while the Republicans made a clean sweep on state offices.

Sure, every vote counts. On November 2 this year just one vote in one state could change the outcome of the presidential election.

If those qualified to vote want to make sure they will be permitted to vote this year they should check their registration. The registration laws have been changed by the legislature. The county board of supervisors has now prohibited registrations on election day. Next Wednesday is now the last day, the final day, for registration.

No Compromise With Evil

There's a bitter wet and dry struggle in Lapeer county over a local option issue. On November 2 the people will vote on banning the sale of liquor and beer.

When the propaganda for repeal was being dished out back in 1933 the people were going to be given the right to vote frequently on prohibition. Somehow it was believed that the voting would be done calmly, without quarreling, without campaigning. Now even the right of the people to vote on the issue is challenged. Thousands of dollars from both the wet and dry camps are being poured into the Lapeer battle.

Now the licensees have declared that they offered Rev. J. Paul Pumphrey $50,000 for building a recreation center if he would agree to withhold the petitions signed by the dry forces. Somehow the wets seem to think that their announcement of the offer and Pumphrey's refusal helps the wet cause. To most people just the opposite is true. They will naturally conclude that a business which can toss out a bribe of $50,000 is not too desirable a business from the standpoint of the public good. They will logically conclude that a group of people who can refuse a $50,000 bribe put principles above expediency.

Regardless of the outcome in Lapeer county, people everywhere will be heartened by the revelation that there are not only individuals but entire groups of people who still will not compromise with evil, who refuse to be bought off, who are determined to put principle above expediency.

Let's Give Up the Castles

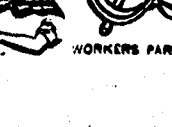

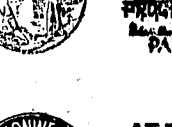

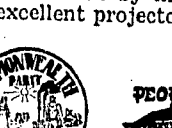

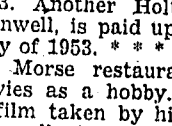

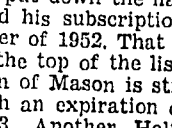

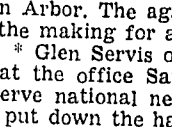

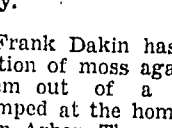

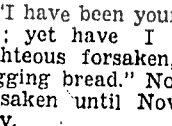

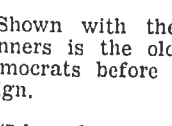

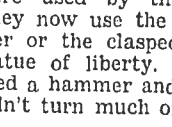

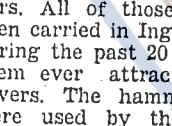

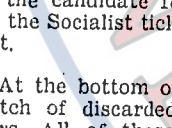

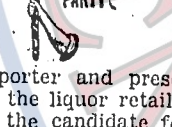

Before Michigan newspaper editors at Ann Arbor Saturday a speaker declared that policies of the American occupation of Germany are failing. The speaker had recently returned from Germany. One reason for the failure, the speaker asserted, is the spread between American preaching and practice.

American propaganda tells about the material comforts of democracy but Germans watch their own children rummage through American garbage cans to find crusts of bread to fill empty bellies.

The same Sunday newspaper which carried the story of the Ann Arbor talk carried a feature article about Murray D. VanWagoner. The pictures showed VanWagoner amid the pomp and splendor of the Bavarian castle provided for him. The pictures showed Germans employed as servants for the American official. The story and picture told readily why there is such a wide spread between American preaching and American practice of democracy in Germany.

All Michigan people who know VanWagoner know him to be without ostentation. He does not, at least he never did here in Michigan, care for pomp and ceremony. Probably he would rather live in less ornate and less expensive quarters. Whether he wants to or not, he and all other American personnel should be moved out of the castles. Those castles should be used to house some of the millions of Germans now without roofs over their heads.

Down by the Sycamore

Politics has reared its ugly head right here in the Sycamore valley. Political banners are being flaunted to the heavens. Excelsior! Eureka! Don't Tread on Me! 54, 40 or FIFTY! Don't Give Up the Ship! I'd Rather Be Right Than President! He Kept Us Out of War! Pass the Ammunition! Pass the Biscuits! Or just pass!

The shades of night were falling fast. As through an Alpine village passed A youth, who bore, 'mid snow and ice, A banner with a strange device, Excelsior!

Here are the seven political banners being flaunted this season. Those banners will appear on the November 2 ballots, and in the same order. Republicans still do honor to Old Abe. It's the same banner carried so long in victory and then for the last 16 years in defeat. In second place is the Democratic banner with F. D. R. in the middle of the flag and with someone's strong right arm clinging to the standard. Hands on the coat tails do not show.

Then come the minor parties. "They are slaves who dare not be in the right with two or three."

The Prohibition party uses the state seal of Michigan as the device on its banner. R. Pluribus Unum—one drink too many; Tuebor—aqua pura; Circumspecte—don't depend on cloves.

The man with the upraised hammer is not advertising Arm and Hammer soda but designates the Socialist-Labor party this year. A hammer is a good thing for pounding nails. A sledge is handy for breaking rock. Neither is the right tool for adjusting or repairing a watch.

Socialist Workers are appealing for the chiropractor vote this fall. The device looks like a hand grasped around a bunion. More likely, the device symbolizes a hearty handshake between lodge brothers, or "One hand washes the other, and both the face." It might even be "Our hands have met but not our heads."

Next in line is Henry Wallace's Progressives with Peace and Prosperity floating over the status of Liberty. "Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces." Prosperity destroys fools and endangers the wise, so too much of it may hurt the Wallace cause. Peace might be a good thing.

Which brings us down to the Norman Thomas Socialists, with Normie holding aloft the torch of reason. Reason doesn't win many elections. Two plus two makes four—that's the reasonable approach, but in election years the candidate who proclaims two plus two equals five, or six, or even nine, will usually get the most votes. Politicians can't afford to stop at reason. The people wouldn't be impressed. Seth Whitmore, former State Journal reporter and present drumbearer of the liquor retailers in the area, is the candidate for congressman on the Socialist ticket. Reason that sound, and therefore is asked out often to show 16 mm. film. He likes to accommodate when he has any spare time.

There are some of the younger folks who may not know A. A. Bergman. He now spends the colder months in the south and west. There was a time when Mr. Bergman set the pace in civic affairs here. He could do it again if he wanted to. He reached the 78th milestone Sunday. The occasion also marked the close of his first 50 years of residence in Mason.

For 40 years Mr. Bergman actively practiced law in Mason. He served for many years as city attorney and then for three consecutive terms was mayor. Oddly enough, he left three outstanding events of the Bergman regime as mayor—buying of the clock for the court house dome, doing away with partisan politics in city affairs, and putting the city on a cash basis.

The late Charles W. Whitman and Lewis Cass Webb (Webb & Whitman) took the lead in raising half the price of the clock. The county paid half. Both Webb and Whitman gave generously and also helped raise the rest from among other business men. Mr. Bergman bought the clock. It has been buying the time for about 45 years.

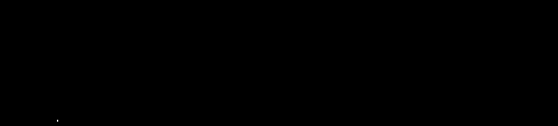

Until the Bergman regime just about one-quarter of the votes cast at every city election were shown with the minor party banners is the old flag used by Democrats before the 1936 campaign.

"I have been young and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread." No one should be forsaken until November 2 anyway.

Frank Dakin has a choice collection of moss agates. He picked them out of a pile of gravel dumped at the home of his son in Ann Arbor. The agates have been in the making for a million years.

REGISTRATION DEADLINE OCTOBER 13

As the date for the General November election draws nearer it becomes more and more evident to township and city officials that hundreds of Gratiot county citizens are going to be denied the privilege of voting this year unless something is done to correct the situation at once.

Hundreds of citizens who have voted many times in Presidential elections, are going to be disfranchised this fall, as the records of various local clerks now stand. Official notices of the re-registration laws and repeated warnings in the press in the last two years, do not reach many of these people because they do not read the registration notices; they assume that the fact they were registered in their precinct years ago and have always voted in Presidential elections, gives them the right as citizens to vote this year.

This is not true. Unless a citizen has re-registered in 1946 or since he can not vote November 2 this year, nor in any other election until he has re-registered.

Only 13 days remain for registering in order to vote this year. Wednesday, October 13 is the last day for registration. Time is running out.

Various veterans organizations, women's clubs, civic groups, men's luncheon clubs, farm groups of all kinds, lodges, churches and citizens who profess an interest in maintaining free government, now have an opportunity to do something about it—if they act quickly.

Public notice and leaving it to the initiative of the citizen will not do the job that should be done. It will take personal house to house canvassing by an organized group in every precinct in the county. There is very little present evidence of any concern over the matter in most precincts in the county. A few places are getting organized for a house to house canvass, but unless those who profess to be interested in good government take it upon themselves to head such organizations in their precincts and get the ball rolling at once, the job will not be done and Gratiot county will again fail in its obligations.

The word "again" is used advisedly. In 1944 only four counties in Michigan had as poor a record in the percentage of citizens voting (57%). In 1946 our record was much worse.

If we do not more thoroughly appreciate the privileges of free government the privilege of a free election where we choose those who are to run our government, it will be but a matter of time until we lose these privileges of free government—the privilege of a free election to do anything about it.

If you belong to any group that can be of assistance, why not call that group together, appoint someone from it to contact other groups at once, form a central council for your precinct and tackle the job. A great deal of assistance will be forthcoming to lighten the work, once it is under way. For this year, it is do it now or it will be too late.

Every private citizen can at least do this during the next two weeks—every time you talk with a neighbor or friend, ask them if they registered in 1946 or have registered since, and every time you are in a group bring the matter up for discussion and find out how many there are sure they are properly registered.—Romaine McCall in Gratiot County Herald.

Claimants Sought For $5000 Legacy

Children or grandchildren of Inez McKeever, whose married name is unknown, are being sought throughout southern Michigan to claim an estate of $5,500 left by a relative of whom they probably never heard.

Walter C. Cox, probate genealogist, 208 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, who specializes in tracing missing relatives to settle estates, is directing the search.

"Miss McKeever is known to have been born in southern Michigan," Mr. Cox said, "in about 1883, and is said to have grown up and married in the locality.

"There is no clue, however, as to the name of her husband, or to the names of any of her children. We would also like to locate Inez McKeever's probable brothers or sisters or their descendants in the hope that they can help in tracing the estate beneficiaries, since the money will revert to public funds if the legal claimants cannot be located."

Book Talk

From Ingham County Library

Hours open to the public at Hall Memorial Library, Mason: Every day except Sundays and holidays, 7:30 to 10:00; Monday, Wednesday, Saturday, 7:30 to 9:00; STORY HOUR, Saturday, 1:30.

MAHATMA GANDHI, an interpretation by E. Stanley Jones. This is the first book which E. Stanley Jones has written because he was asked to write it, rather than because he felt he had to write it. However, he says, "I am still an evangelist—I kneel at the feet of Christ and give him my full and final allegiance.—(Yet Gandhi) has taught me more of the spirit of Christ than perhaps any other man in East or West."
The book is a symbol of my gratitude.

Appropriately enough, one of the other books we read this week was "THE STORY OF INDURAJA" by Hilda Wernher. Many readers will remember her as the author of "LAND AND THE WELL." This is the story of an Indian girl, a Hindu, who has been reared in Western ways and married the son of a high caste Hindu. After her husband's death she should have retired to complete solitude, but instead, she diplomatically tries to follow the wishes of her dead husband, and work for the betterment and unity of India. It is well written, and gives a good picture of some of the present difficulties in the unification of that country.

HOSPITAL ZONE is good light fiction. It is the story of a beautiful girl and her talented, handsome doctor husband, of her attempt to make him the sort of person she though desirable, and his refusal to lose his own integrity.

Nazarenes Plan 40th Anniversary

On October 10 the Church of the Nazarene located at Mason will join a churchwide celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the organization of the Church of the Nazarene as a protestant denomination.

The union of separate groups from the west, the east and the south took place at Pilot Point, Texas, in 1908 under the leadership of Dr. P. P. Bresee of Los Angeles, Rev. Howard Hooper of New York City and Rev. C. B. Jernigan of Texas.

At the time of the organization in 1908 there were 10,000 members scattered widely in 228 churches with a few missionaries in a half dozen foreign areas. At that time the Sunday school department had an enrollment slightly in excess of 6,000 and the total giving of the church was $140,000. Forty years later (1948) the Church of the Nazarene has grown until its membership has reached 210,000 representing 3,350 churches in the United States, Canada and the British Isles with nearly 200 missionaries in 28 foreign areas. The Sunday school enrollment has advanced to 400,000 and the total giving for all purposes during 1947 was more than $44,000,000, making the per capita for the year $90.28.

The Church of the Nazarene, which maintains its international headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri, supports six major colleges in the United States, one in Canada and one in the British Isles and the Nazarene Theological Seminary, graduate school for ministers and missionaries. In addition, "Showers of Blessing" radio voice for the Church of the Nazarene, is heard over 150 radio stations and by short wave around the world.

The local Church of the Nazarene was organized in 1930 according to Rev. Murray Morford, pastor of the congregation. Special fortieth anniversary services honoring the founding of the denomination will be held next Sunday.

Council to Discuss Parking Lot Site

Whether or not the Masonic Temple association's lot next to the Arcade theatre will be leased by the village of Leslie for a free parking lot, will be the main item of business at the next meeting of the village council, Wednesday evening, October 13. The association, who hopes in a few years to build its temple on the site, has offered the village a lease for five years at an annual rental of $200. As one of the conditions of the lease the lot is to be resurfaced and other improvements made at the expense of the village to a cost of nearly $400.

There is need of additional parking space at this section of Main street but in view of the fact that John Mitchell has offered a piece of free ground for such purposes at the rear of the Hurlbut restaurant, within a few hundred feet of the Masonic site, there is a division of opinion which promises a larger attendance of taxpayers at the coming council meeting than usual.

Some proponents of the Masonic site were in hopes that the Leslie township board would make an appropriation for the proposition but at a meeting of the board held Thursday afternoon they voted against the idea.

Bovine TB Proves Costly in Herds

A caution about cattle tuberculosis was given today by Dr. B. J. Killham, extension veterinarian at Michigan State college. Continued testing and reporting is necessary, he states, even in herds apparently free of disease.

The American Foundation for Animal Health reports that livestock health authorities are expressing new anxiety about bovine tuberculosis.

The foundation says that outbreaks of tuberculosis have occurred in cattle herds in many sections of the country. In addition, there has been a dangerous decline in the number of cattle tested in the tuberculosis eradication project. Last year, only eight million were checked—a decline of approximately 40 per cent in the yearly rate in the past 10 years.

Livestock authorities say that although the disease has been "pretty well beaten," danger will continue as long as a single infected animal remains.

Killham urges every farmer to have his herd tested to be sure it is free of infection. Reactors should be slaughtered and government funds are available to pay for such losses. Only by eradicating every infected animal can we protect our herds as well as the human population, he concludes.

Lambs Feed Better When Sheared

Shearing the faces of heavily wooled feeder lambs is a good management practice, according to Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandryman at Michigan State college. The shearing will increase gains in lamb feeding.

Lambs that can see better will find the feed trough readily, are better eaters, and will gain more rapidly than lambs blinded by excessive wool about the eyes.

Tagging lambs before they go on feed will make for cleaner, neater lambs at market time. Dirty lambs may be severely cut in price because of the increased shrink from the manure in the wool.

When done properly by an experienced shearer, the cost is more than offset by the wool received.

New Unit Improves Ventilation of Barn

Dairymen Find Device Particularly Effective

Many of a cow's troubles can be traced to heat and humidity. A cow, unlike a human being, can perspire only through the mouth. So when the temperature and humidity inside a barn get high, the animal becomes uncomfortable and stubborn, particularly at milking time.

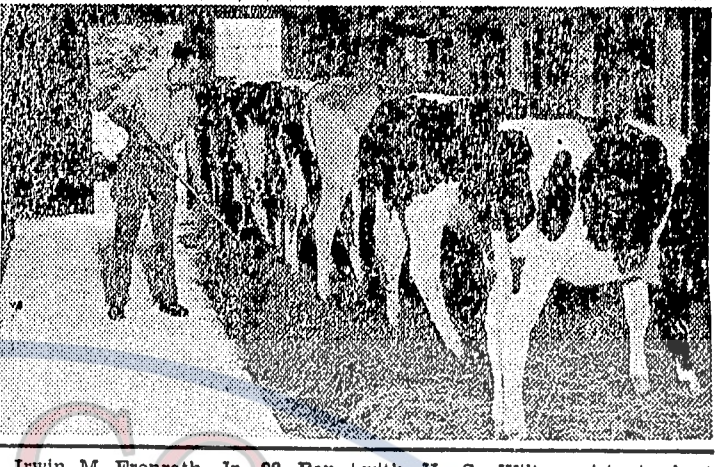

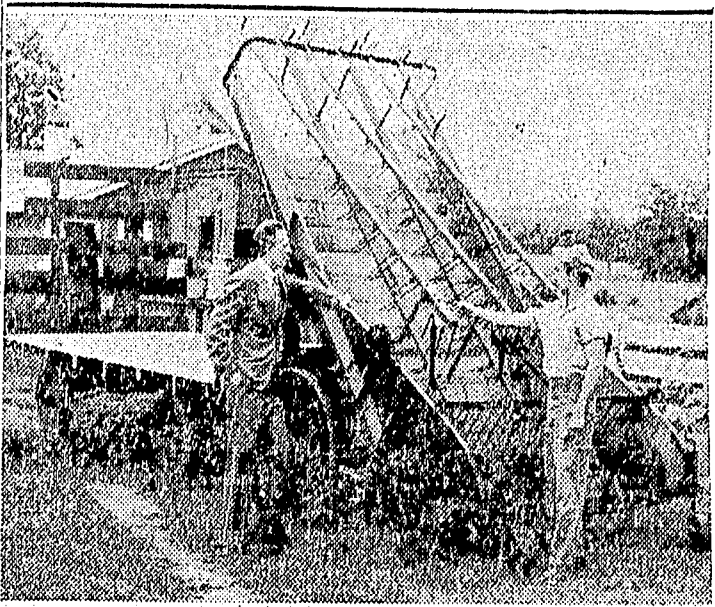

According to the department of agriculture, an average cow gives off almost a pint of water every hour through breathing. In addition to the high humidity caused by this breathing, a cow has an extremely high body temperature. During the winter months, when the cows are in the barn most of the time, this combination results in generation of an enormous amount of water vapor and heat. When the warm, moisture-laden air comes in contact with the cold walls, condensation occurs and frost is formed.

The net result to farmers is rotting beams, joint and siding; a loss of hay because of mold created by moisture and frost; milk contamination, disease, particularly among the young stock and reduction of milk production because of discomfort to cows.

A simple solution to all of these costly problems is an automatic cooling unit, which is proving popular with dairy farmers.

These automatic ventilation units, easily installed, reduce condensa-

Kurtz Holsteins Lead August Test

Nine herds in the Ingham-Williamston Dairy Herd Improvement association averaged better than 30 pounds of butterfat during August, according to the report of the tester, Junior Brownfield.

The herd of 18 registered and grade Holsteins owned by William and Kenneth Kurtz was high with 42.5 pounds of butterfat from 2908 pounds milk. The others are: Elmer Hammond, 15 registered Holsteins, 42.1 pounds fat, 1178 pounds milk; Turner and Ralston, 19 registered and grade Holsteins, 34 pounds fat, 1064 pounds milk; Bernice Eifer & Son, 18 registered Holsteins, 33.1 pounds fat, 1054 pounds milk; Hugh Oesterle & Son, 23 registered Holsteins, 32.1 pounds fat, 973 pounds milk; Kenneth Bibbins, 19 registered Jerseys, 32.9 pounds fat, 719 pounds milk; Gould & Kolozyski, 14 grade and registered Holsteins, 32.7 pounds fat, 1040 pounds milk; H. A. Miller & Sons, 22 registered Holsteins, 32.2 pounds fat, 975 pounds milk; Ray Lott & Son, 19 registered and grade Holsteins, 31.9 pounds fat, 977 pounds milk.

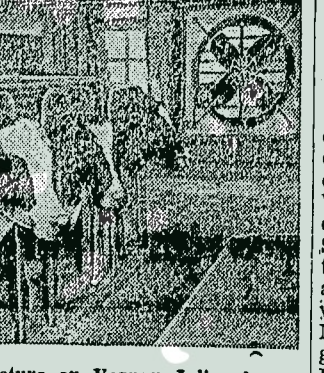

High individual cows in the different age classes were:

Mature Class—William Kurtz & Kenneth Kurtz, grade Holstein, 69.7 pounds fat, 1742 pounds milk; H. A. Miller & Sons, registered Holstein, 68.2 pounds fat, 2130 pounds milk.

Under 5 years—Elmer Hammond, registered Holstein, 57.1 pounds fat, 1940 pounds milk; Earnest Walline, registered Holstein, 67.7 pounds fat, 1090 pounds milk.

Under 4 years—Elmer Hammond, registered Holstein, 60.2 pounds fat, 1721 pounds milk; Bernice Eifer & Son, registered Holstein, 55.2 pounds fat, 1578 pounds milk.

Under 3 years—Earnest Walline, grade Holstein, 52.5 pounds fat, 1420 pounds milk.

tion to a negligible degree—less than 2 per cent. This action, in turn, decreases barn deterioration, hay mold, milk contamination and disease. It also provides much more comfort for the cows and increases milk production. In addition, working conditions for the operator are much more pleasant. The cooling units are equipped with an automatic "airswitch" thermostat.

Higher Yields Outweigh Cattle Spraying Costs

An increase of $3.75 per head more than covers the cost of spraying beef cattle with DDT, it was revealed in a test of the value of fly control conducted at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Protected cattle gained about 15 pounds more per head during the pasture season than a group that had not been sprayed. At 25 cents a pound, an increase of 15 pounds a head amounts to $3.75 a head, a return that far outweighs the cost of spraying.

Beef cattle should be sprayed often enough to control flies, whether it requires two or three sprayings during the season or once a month.

Herds and Flocks

Use of 2, 4-D sprays for weed control in pastures is not dangerous to grazing animals.

A home-mixed spray of crude benzene hexachloride powder and water is more likely to taint eggs in poultry houses than a good commercial roost paint containing the effective portion of the same chemical.

HEAVY MILK PRODUCER

Registered Holsteins in the dairy herd owned by C. B. Smith, Williamston, have recently completed official production tests in advanced registry classes. The highest producer was Sebes Johanna Pietje with a total of 713 pounds of butterfat and 19,200 pounds of milk. The test was completed in 365 days on three milkings daily and at the age of 2 years, 8 months.

poods to buy and the consumer's willingness to bid up prices. The farmer influences the price by his effect on supply. Since he has been doing his best to increase supply, he can hardly be responsible for gouging the consumer," the economist concluded.

Field Bean Prices Given Over WKAR

Bean-growers, shippers and processors in Michigan may now receive the daily market quotation on field beans each morning over WKAR, the broadcasting service of Michigan State college. Grant Salisbury, station farm editor, says the market will be broadcast at approximately 7:15 a. m. each weekday morning on the Farm News Digest program. The Michigan Elevator Exchange and the Michigan Bean Shippers Exchange are cooperating with WKAR in making the bean market broadcast available.

Frosted Forage May Cause Bloat

A word of caution about pasturing frosted Sudan grass and alfalfa was given this week by A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State college.

Baltzer points out that it has always been considered wise not to pasture either frosted Sudan grass or alfalfa. Not only does the danger of bloat exist with both, but with Sudan grass, the hazard of poisoning exists. Chemists have repeatedly found Sudan grass to carry a heavy prussic acid content both when immature and following freezing weather.

The specialists advise that cows be kept off such pasture for at least a few days. If cows are to be turned on frosted Sudan grass pasture, they should first receive a full feed of hay, possibly corn silage and grain. The same precaution applies to frosted alfalfa.

The 30 grade and registered Holsteins owned by Chellis Hall averaged 32.7 pounds of fat from 1011 pounds of milk. Robb & Waldron, 17 grade Holsteins and Guernseys, 32 pounds fat, 856 pounds milk; Ludell Cheney, 20 registered Holsteins, 32 pounds fat, 915 pounds of milk; and Ralph H. Darling, 38 registered Holsteins, 31 pounds fat, 924 pounds milk were also above the 30-pounds mark.

Effective Curtains Dress up Rooms

Curtains going up? Your home is like the stage in that respect. Put the curtains up first and the rest of the action will follow in good order.

It is easier to match the rest of your redecorating to the curtains than vice versa advises Julia Tear, of the department of textiles, clothing and related arts at Michigan State college.

Choose your curtains or drapes and then match your paint or paper to them. If possible try out a large sample at the window of your room before deciding. You can see how the material looks in the daytime and also under artificial light as well as with the other colors in the room, Miss Tear says.

Attractive and interesting window treatments can do more to make a room attractive than any other one thing. They can do a great deal to improve the appearance of a poorly proportioned room.

Design, color and the texture of the material all play an important part in the window treatment. Each should blend with those features of the other room furnishings.

If you make the curtains, allow enough material for ample folds, she added. It is better to buy a less expensive material than to economize too much on quantity. Sheer curtains should be twice the width of the window. Casement curtains or drapes to be used as draw curtains should also be twice the width of the window. Draperies should be at least one and one-half times the width of the window.

Measuring the length is also very important. Allowance must be made for hems, heading, for possible shrinkage, and for the matching of a pattern.

Next week, Louise Kellenberger, will substitute as story teller. She plans to tell "The Sausage" and an old tale, "The Kettle that would not Walk." All boys and girls four years of age and older are invited.

TUNE IT FOR FALL CROPS...

SOYBEANS SORGHUMS

GRASSES LEGUMES

The secret of fall harvesting is to adjust the cylinder speed instantly for varying moisture conditions that change from hour to hour. The All-Crop harvester's Quick Speed-Changer makes it as easy as tuning your radio.

Tough conditions require higher speeds to thresh the grain or seeds from heads or pods. Dry, brittle conditions require slower speeds to avoid damage to kernels.

The All-Crop harvester's famous full-width, rubber-faced, spiral-bar cylinder processes the crop gently and thoroughly in a wide, thin stream... at the proper speed to save it all.
