PREFACE

This volume concludes abstracts from the Charles City County Court Order Book, 1655 - 1665, in the Archives Division of the Virginia State Library. My effort has been to further show all known fragments of 17th century official records of the county. Fortunately I do not know everything. As I worked through these sad, stained and torn scraps it became evident that there were others, possibly not identified, in collections that I knew not of. In fact Dr. Earl G. Swem, Librarian of the College of William and Mary, recently told me he thought there were some fragments in his manuscript collection in Williamsburg, Virginia.

I can only hope that my effort to collect all remains has been a complete failure. Certain of these papers were handed me with "Here they are - if you can read them!". I certainly could not have read them had I not been familiar with the names, and even so am subject to correction.

What manner of men appear as the rank and file in these abstracts? I can tell you. Go to any country County Court House in Virginia on Court day. There they are. Those blond men in groups. Tall, lean and of kindly countenance. Much unconscious profanity. The talk is of the uncivil behavior of Bill Brasier's bull. Haw! Haw! Haw! The Edward Hills and Francis Greys of these records have long since gone to Richmond and Baltimore. But our cousins Ferdinando Aston, Ernestus Carey, Freeguift Throckmorton, Thomas Crabb, Francis Dancy, Jonah Liscum and Martin Quelch are all there. Of course even in 1665 Onesimus Scriven could read and write, as could his wife. But what could Peter Plummer do?

page 486. Whereas the wives of George Spencer and David Goodale by their scurrilous brawles and mutual objurga'cons have provoked their husbands to the moveing and urging of reciprocall frivilous litigious suites contrary to the Lawes for quiett and peaceable rule, gov'mnt and neighborhood of the people. Itt is therefore ordered that the sd two woemen (for punishmt of their past disturbances and their better reconcelem't and correspondency hereafter) be each of them ducked three times at the publiq place prepared for that purpose, at or neere the next full tide, and that either party beare his owne particular costs and charges.

Note:

This horrid little entry, so funny in 1941, again throws a clear light on the childlike 17th century mind. The false dignity of the big words. The spelling of 'woemen' suggests thousands of years of petty annoyances beginning with the sufferings of Father Adam. There is the suggestion that the builders of the new ducking stool had Goody Spenser and Goody Goodale in mind all the while and that this celebration was to equal the launching of a ship. The tide at West-over is about 7 or 8 feet. The payment of the charges the final touch of malicious virtue. B.F.

Whereas Mr Tho: Cook for undertooke for returne of a horse to the Sherr officer of this Com, wch horse was a deod'and as haveing occasioned the death of George Bollington Itt is therefore ordered that the sd Mr Cook make good or render the sd horse or the full value thereof to the Hono'ble Govno'r for a Deod'and as aforesd and that the sd Mr Cook may have his remedy ag'st Geo: Hinton who rode away the sd horse.

Note: This to me is the most interesting item in the old order book. See page 519 for further comment. In the first place George Hinton had the courage to ride away the horse. In this day of automobiles the young men do not realize just what this means by way of casual physical courage. The men of that day took it as a thing to be done and that was all there was to it. Such a beast, a murderous horse, once behaved badly while my mother was riding him. She was a frail lady and costumed according to the style in a long skirted and voluminous riding habit. Thank God the moths ate that up. Well the horse began to run, so she whipped and whipped him and made him run the faster. She whipped him and made him run until he fell upon his knees with exhaustion. She whipped him until he got up and then rode him back to the stables. All five of us children learned to ride on that thereafter peaceful horse.

Old, old colonial letters tell us that the Hintons, whoever they were, had close relatives and friends in the Court Circle in England. Do be careful and don't offend them, etc. However the name never came to the front page of Virginia history. Perhaps they could ride wild horses but could not manage men.

Now for the murderous horse: Deodand (L. Lat Deo dandum: a thing to be given to God). In English law, any personal chattel which was the immediate occasion of the death of any reasonable creature, and which was forfeited to the crown to be applied to pious uses, and distributed in alms by the high almoner. 1 Hale, P.C.419; Fleta, lib 1. c 25; 1 Bl. page 576. To the Right Hono'ble Sr William Berkeley Knt Governor of Virginia

Grace Grey the unfortunate and deplorable wife of Capt Francis Grey most humbly Complayneth

That whereas yo'r petition'r hath now lived in the Hono'ble Estate of wed lock w'th her s'd husb'd foure and twenty yeares, and brought him a considerable estate of w'ch he was then destitute and hath brought him six children whereof three are married In all w'ch tyme of 24 yeares your petition'r hath not failed in the least requisite in a Loveing and obedient wife, but hath diligently served him w'th all possible care paines love loyall and true obedience, for the proffe whereof your petition'r ofereth herselfe to the Report of all good people and neighbours whether they be rich or poore, who hath been eye witnesses hereof not fearing but they will speake the truth notw'thstanding their great engagem'ts to him as a m'cht (of whom they stand in feare may Bias some of them.

But so it is may please your Honour, that the sd Capt Grey hath for many yeares most egregiously abused yo'r petition'r by private and unspeakeable devices, by the worst of words, by desperate and unmercifull blowes, and by Cutting her eares and keeping her under the quality of a most contemptible slave in the hands of an Imperious tyrant, not permitting her to come neere his table no not a sabbath day, nor to eat of what remained when he had donne.

But yo'r distressed petition'r who did ev'r seeke his honour and preferm't was resolved to smother and conceale the miseryes of her unhappy life, she hath hitherto bene silent, hoping to reclayme him by submission to her humor, and the rather, for the not onely well natured heathens, but even the most brutel and savage, and therefore much more all Christian law makers have thought it needlesse to proscribe rules and laws how men should use their wives, there being so glorious a Comparison betwixt Christ and his Church for weddin matrimony that the divell might be thought to want cunning to persuade the worst of men to abuse a Loveing and obedient wife

But the sd Capt Grey, about tenn weekes since notw^thstanding yo^r aged peticon^r wrought hard in the ground or did anything that may próffit or please her s^d husb^d broke out into a continued malice, whereas formerly his hate did predominate but at o^tteins times.

And in the first place he posted your peticoner at Westover Court that none should give her credit at their perill, refuseing to pay a poore man a hhd of tobbo that your peticoner had received provi^ons for, it being for the reliefe of a sick man that your peticoner tended and for wch the sd Capt Grey was allowed two thous^d p^ds of tobbo for, and yet refused to pay 350 that was spent in poultry etc.

Secondly as he had often donne so now againe he locked up the very bread from your peticoner, and not only so but refused to give her any at her earnest request to avoyd famishing by hunger, but having forewarned all not to give her credit did at last Com^{and} her out of his house, and to be gonne out of his sight, to wch your peticoner was forced to submitt, since w^{ch} time she hath been releived by her children, w^{thout} whose helpe she must have beged or starved, he utterly refuseing to give her any sustenance, although your peticoner besought him wth teares upon her knees before diverse witnesses, but did sharpely threaten his children for relieving her.

But about 3 dayes agoe your peticoner had notice that it was his pleasure she should come home whereupon she prevailed wth the Churchwarden to goe wth her, but when she came home her s^d husb^d gave her not one bitt of bread or any other sustenance but water, notw^thstanding she was taken sick of a feaver, and when her children would have releived her he would not suffer them, but abused them, and told your peticoner that she should not goe to complayne, for he would bind her wth a rope to a post in the tobbo house, where she should lye like a hogg so that she was forced to make an escape privately. wth the helpe of her 3 senns who can depose the truth of this whole peticon.

Now seeing that it hath pleased God to put us under your Hono^{rs} Christian and happy governm^t who is a knowne releiver of the distressed, who by a high and wicked hand are intollerably abused, she most humbly imploreth your Honour that Course may be forthwth taken that she may either live wth her sd husb^d in the quality of his wife, or that she may have mainteynance according to his estate, and that her life be secured w^{ch} upon her oath is now in danger

And she shall ever pray

The Com^{rs} of Charles Citty County are desired to enquire into the barbarous usage of M^r Francis Grey towards his wife And to give her all redresse possible for the present. And a security and mainteynance for the future

William Berkeley

James Citty the first Augst. 1665
Rec Aug 18

Note: This agreeable picture of home life in 17th century Virginia makes the dear old mammy and magnolia tradition look a little silly. Capt Grey probably had mammy taken out and soundly whipped, had the magnolia trees cut down and damned the wood for not burning faster. Perhaps Capt Edward Hill came over to enjoy the day with him.

The most curious thing about this petition is that it never seemed to occur to anybody, not even to Mrs Grey herself, but that she would be delighted to return, if she could, to this homemade Hell.

Wee find the words of the Declaracon spoke by the deft

Where as Mr Willm Caswell mariner hath publickly and maliciously defamed and traduced Mr Anthony Wyatt wth the nocon' of theife for haveing stolen two hamocks from aboard the sd Caswells Ship, wch scandall being referred to the exa'iacon of a Jury is found positive for the plt. And whereas it appeareth to the Court by the subscripcons and appointmts of Mr Hen: Applewite and others that the sd Hamocks were legally bought and pd for, And that he did not take them out of the Ship with a fraudulent purpose but publickly (before severall sufficient men) and by order. Note: Various persons have asked if I intended to include the unusual item to follow in these Abstracts. Yes, certainly. The Abstracts are not Sunday School books. The item is plainly backstairs gossip - for a purpose. We all know how vile the low class female mind can be when given free rein to unloose all inhibitions. Here we are.

Then whether the deposition is 1% true and 99% false or not, we do know that every now and then the slums and jails of London were cleared of the lowest sluts, who were sent to the colonies as servants. Virginia the oldest and richest colony had her share of them. Moreover if we hastily consider moral conditions among the highest in the Court Circle at the moment, then just what was to be expected of these unfortunate souls? Born doomed. There was no color line drawn. Little indeed on the Continent now. It took Virginia and Maryland to develop that idea. Here is a foundation record of how and why. How do you like it?

Virginia has been subject to adverse criticism in regard to the caste system. The 'po-white' class know more about this sort of thing than we think they do. Does not this item throw some light on that subject?

One more point. One drop of Negro blood is the dividing line. Perhaps not in other parts of the country, but it is here. We have always been told that the finest colored people in Virginia came from Charles City County. Draw your own conclusions as to how that happened.

That your depon't being about 15 yeares since scituate and liveing by Mr Rice Hoe senr upon his land and being a comon reteiner to the howse this depon't did bring one Charles Magnars wife to bed of a girle which was black like a Negro and the sd Magnas lay it to Mr Hoes negro Jack and he did acknowledge it to be his. And this depon't did about that time see the said Negro Jack one night take an English wench of Mr Hoes by the arme, and had her out of Mr Hoes milk house into the orchyard and then throw her upon a bench and gott upon her and this depon't run and got an axe and flung at the said negro and cut him on the leg And the neighbors sayd it had been his common practice; And these things together with the complaint of John Banister and Edward Spatiatt and diverse others of the neighbors to Mr Hoe concerning his Negro Jacks killing of their hogs they threatened to kill the said Negro, whereupon Mr Hoe for prevencon of future mischiefe to his neighbors and to secure his negros Life, did to your depon'ts knowledge give the said Negro a note which was writt by Capt Roger Marshall which the said Hoe sayd was not dated which did expresse he should serve some certeine time and then made him beléeve, upon his good behaviour he should be free, But it was not made, as Mr Hoe Senr sayd, with any reall intent to sett him free, but onely to make him behave himselfe better that the neighbors might have no such cause of complaint nor he in such feare of loseing his Negro being then threatened by severall people to be kill'd But to this dept's knowledge after this note made to the sd Negro for for some short time he did behave himselfe something better then he did before, but afterward he did fly out againe. And for five or six yeares after that this depon't Lived there, the sd Hoe had never a serv't maid but the sd Jack the negro lay w'ith her or got her w'ith child, w'ch this depon't was very knowing of, and del'red one of them of a Negro child she being an English woman, and she being asked who was the father of it sayd, The above-sd Jack the Negro, and he being asked acknowledged it to be his page 618. Abstract. "The deposicon of Susan English being 30 yeares of age or thereabouts exa'ed and sworne saith". Susan English states that she was a hired servant unto Mrs Sara Hoe about 4 years past. She tells of difficulties Mrs Hoe had in managing the negro Jack. Doubtless not a word of it true, for had what she said been true Mrs Hoe would have set Jack free at once and been rid of him. The very fact that these depositions were made to enable Rice Hoe Junr to keep the negro gives the lie to a good deal in the deposition of Margaret Barker and everything in the deposition of Susan English. As for what the neighbors thought of Jack see page 57.

Note: Now that the abstracts from this curious old book are finished, I must admit that they did bring about a certain nervous strain.
Not that I can altogether blame the abstracts, for also in the year 1941 there were personal affairs that disturbed the routine of life.
In my small family of three there was death, marriage, two serious operations, war - and I moved four times.

Therefore future historians and genealogists certainly will find that corrections can be made in this work. Please make them.

 Bagley. Note: Names are not always as they appear to be in these old records. In Charles City County there was a family whose name (continued) was spelled Bayley, Bayly, Bailey, etc. The letter
 "i" being interchangable at will with "y". As I worked along I became aware that there was also a family, a very widespread family on the south-side of James River named Bagley. It is almost impossible to differentiate between "Bayley" and "Bagley". However as best I can judge it is safe to make the corrections to follow. In each case "Bayley" may be shown as "Bagley".
